Rayville Boy, 12, Fatally Shoots Man

Hubert Lofton Uses Rifle On Jas. C. Moore

Intervenes As Father Fights With Neighbor

RAYVILLE, Jan. 30 (Special)—A 12-year-old boy, shot and killed a man, who was beating his (the youth's) father near here today.

According to Richland parish authorities James C. Moore, 53, who resided three miles east of Rayville, was shot and killed by a 12-year-old youth, Hubert Lofton, armed with a .22 caliber rifle, during a fight with the youth's father, W. L. Lofton.

Following an inquest this afternoon by Dr. J. C. Ellington, Richland Parish Coroner, officials reported the fight grew out of a Friday argument between Moore and Lofton's wife over some scrap lumber left near the Lofton home by parish employees. Officials stated that Moore had been driving along the road near the Lofton residence this morning when he met W. L. Lofton, who was walking.

Moore is reported to have stopped and exchanged words with Lofton concerning the Friday argument. When the argument became heated, officials said, Moore got out of the truck and started beating Lofton. Moore was said to have had Lofton down on the road beating him, when the youth ran from the house with a single shot .22 caliber rifle and shot him.

Following the inquest, the coroner's jury turned the case over to juvenile authorities. Judge C. J. Ellis was reported to have released the youth in the custody of his parents pending the decision of juvenile authorities.

Funeral services for the victim will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Start Baptist Church, Rev. J. S. Deal, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Hall Cemetery, near Alto, under the direction of Hall Funeral Home.

Tighter Laws To Curb Reds Asked By House Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 —UP— The House un-American Activities committee urged Congress Saturday to brand as conspirators all Communist party members who seek to overthrow the government by force and violence.

The proposal, if adopted would open the door to prosecution of all party members under the Smith Act. The maximum penalty on conviction is a $10,000 fine and imprisonment for 10 years.

It was among nine recommendations submitted to the House in advance of the committee's annual report on investigations and hearings during the past year.

The committee withheld one recommendation it has made in the past — to outlaw the Communist party as an international conspiracy. It noted that the subversive activities control board's finding that the party is "subversive" is subject to court review, and said it is holding up a specific recommendation pending a Supreme Court decision.

The "Communists-are - conspirators" proposal would make it easier to prosecute party members for seeking to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence.

It would amend the Smith Act to make "proof of membership" in the party evidence, per se, that the law has been violated. The government now must prove that a person was aware of the Communist conspiracy when he joined the party and that he "wilfully" engaged in an overt act to further the party's aims.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said the proposal would "shift the burden of proof" from the government to defendants. Instead of the government trying to prove he engaged in a conspiracy, the defendant would have to prove that he did not.

The committee said there is "ever-increasing evidence of the clear and present danger" from the worldwide Communist conspiracy and Congress should seriously consider if outlawing the party is "the ultimate solution."

It renewed its recommendation that Congress make it a crime for any unauthorized person to carry top secret, secret or confidential government documents across state lines.

It also pressed again for its proposal that any commissioned officer of the armed forces, who refuses to state under oath whether he is or was a Communist, should be stripped of his rank immediately.

White House Asks Rogers To Conference

S. Jack Rogers of Monroe has been invited to attend a conference on highway safety, slated to be held in the White House, Washington, D. C., February 17 through 19. Purpose of the meeting is to develop nationwide public support at the community level for proven methods of improving street and highway safety.

Pres. Dwight Eisenhower has asked all governors to participate in the conference and to designate outstanding citizens as delegates, including representatives of agriculture, business, labor, women, public officials, media of public information and organizations.

Because the traffic fatalities in 1952 reached 38,000, more than those of American armed forces in Korea, the president is attempting to work out methods of reducing the number of deaths.

The conference will be held in Constitution Hall and will have Sinclair Weeks presiding at the first session and Gov. Dan Thornton in charge of the second session.

Outstanding speakers will include in addition to President Eisenhower and Secretary of Commerce Weeks, leaders in all fields of business.

House Programs Abandoned For 4 N. E. La. Towns

Housing programs in at least four north Louisiana towns have been abandoned by the government, Harvey G. Fields of Farmerville, housing commission attorney for several cities in this area, announced Saturday.

Fields said the public housing projects in Farmerville, Bernice, Junction ccity, Marion and other points in the state are now without prospective development.

Preliminary loans for the towns have been stopped, he said, and final audits on housing commission money have been made, closing out the building programs for the present. He said it would apparently be at least a year before any other projects could get underway.

In a formal statement, Fields said:

"I regret to make the announcement that it will not be possible for Farmerville and other towns in this area to put through any new housing projects, despite the fact that our senators and several of our congressmen have done everything they could possibly do to bring our projects to a successful end.

"Farmerville had been approved for a minimum of 20 houses for whites and 10 for Negroes and its preliminary loan had been made, but for the past four months, since the appropriation for further help was killed, there has been practically nothing done.

"The towns were given their final audits this week and all unused funds will be returned to the housing commission at Fort Worth. One possibility, however, is that the national administration may be forced by public sentiment to start the program again, under new procedure and a new name.

"Otherwise housing facilities of this kind will not be resumed.

"Of course, those that have gotten the final loans or floated necessary bonds will have their projects completed, but those with only preliminary loans of a few hundred or a few thousand will receive no further help, as I see it."

Mothers' March Returns May Go Above $9,000

Incomplete returns from the Mothers' March on Polio Friday night indicate the total will run in excess of $9,000, Mrs. Frank C. Breese, Jr., parish chairman has announced. Shortly before noon Saturday $8,300 had been deposited with more yet to be turned in to the polio headquarters.

"We are very pleased with the response given the workers through out the Twin Cities and Ouachita Parish," Mrs. Breese stated Saturday. "Speaking for the local Mothers' March workers, parish chapter and the National Foundation, I want to commend each and everyone who has worked so diligently for the drive. It would be impossible to thank each person who has done an outstanding job for the entire drive, but speaking for the mothers of the parish, may I again say thank you."

Joining in extending thanks to the many workers and others who aided the drive were Mrs. Fred Thurber, publicity chairman for drive and the chairmen of the two cities, Mrs. W. W. Stevens of Monroe and Mrs. Bailey Grant of West Monroe.

Thanks were also expressed by Wilma Washington who headed the Negro phase of the Mothers' March on Polio. This group has turned in $700 with these returns still incomplete.

Anyone whose home was not visited during the Mothers' March on Polio Friday night can make contributions now, it was announced by March of Dimes headquarters. Persons so desiring may call Mrs. Fred Thurber at 3-3403 Sunday or the MOD headquarters Monday, 3-9171.

Rosenbergs' Attorney Is Found Dead

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 —UP— Emanuel H. Bloch, attorney for executed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg who charged President Eisenhower with "murder" for their electrocutions, was found dead Saturday in a bathtub in his Greenwich Village apartment, police reported.

Bloch, who faced possible disbarment for his attack on the President and other officials, was pronounced dead of natural causes, police reported.

A physician said Bloch apparently had suffered a heart attack. His body was found in the bathtub by a friend, detectives said.

The 53-year-old attorney had devoted most of his time during the last few years to the celebrated Rosenberg case, and only recently had found a home for their two young boys.

The Rosenbergs were executed in June, 1953, for conspiring to give United States atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. Bloch fought their case in the courts almost to the moment of their deaths on June 19. The last Supreme Court ruling on the case came only a few hours before the couple were electrocuted.

At the couple's funeral on June 21, Bloch charged the United States was "under the heel of a military dictatorship."

"I place the murder of the Rosenbergs at the door of President Eisenhower, Attorney General (Herbert) Brownell and J. Edgar Hoover director of the FBI" he said. "This is not American justice. .we must be angry."

Following Bloch's denunciation of the President, the bar association of New York city received a number of complaints about it. Proceedings against Bloch were threatened at that time.

The Rosenbergs named Bloch guardian for their children, Michael, 10, and Robert, six. He placed the children in the home of friends in Toms River, N.J., but the youngsters were moved recently to an undisclosed place after they were barred from a New Jersey school.

Cabinet Falls In Italy After 11-Day Tenure

Premier Fanfani Asked To Stay In Caretaker Role

ROME, Jan. 30 (AP) — Crisis - ridden Italy dumped her third government in six months today. Premier Amintore Fanfani's 11-day old Christian Democrat cabinet fell when the Chamber of Deputies voted 303 - 260 against him on the confidence motion.

Parties of the right and left joined in the opposition. The outcome was no surprise. It had been forecast since Fanfani presented his pro-West, anti-Communist program of social reform to Parliament four days ago.

U. S. State Department officials in Washington were openly concerned over Fanfani's fall. They feared it foreshadowed continued political instability in Italy which might benefit the nation's powerful Communist party, the biggest west of the Iron Curtain, in critical months ahead.

Fanfani hastened to President Luigi Einaudi to submit his resignation. He conferred 90 minutes with the 79-year-old President. Departing, he refused to answer reporters' questions.

The presidential secretary announced Einaudi had asked Fanfani to maintain a caretaker cabinet while the President seeks a new premier.

Before that, veteran statesman Alcide de Gasperi, leader of eight consecutive postwar governments, was cut down on July 28, just 12 days after he had formed a wobbly Christian Democrat minority government.

The no-confidence vote was preceded by several days of sharp, sometimes vicious outbursts, in which various political forces attacked Fanfani's government.

U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce was the target of jibes by Italy's Communist party chief, Palmiro Togliatti.

Sen. Bricker May Agree To Revised Draft

End Of Partisan Row Within GOP Believed Near

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—A new compromise on the Bricker constitutional amendment on treaty making was in President Eisenhower's hands today with the strong possibility he may signal for an end to the strife that has split the Republican party.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), whose original proposal was vigorously assailed by Eisenhower as hamstringing presidential powers to deal with other nations, was reliably reported to have agreed conditionally to accept the compromise.

Bricker was said to have insisted, however, that he would go along with the compromise only if Eisenhower either approved the new proposal—worked out in a bipartisan conference—or agrees not to oppose it publicly.

Some of the President's closest friend were known to be urging him to give a go-ahead signal for introduction of the compromise Monday, reserving the right to suggest changes in language if Senate debate brings out some flaws not now apparent.

As it was delivered to the President by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, the compromise was said by those who have seen it to include portions of previous proposals made by Bricker, Knowland and Sen. George (D-Ga).

The compromise would amend article VI of the Constitution to provide that treaties "in pursuance" of the Constitution should become the supreme law of the land. Knowland suggested this ap-

McCarthy said the man, whose name he withheld, was asked to resign from the Army only after his superior officers learned he was to be questioned by the senator's investigating committee.

The senator sat as a one-man subcommittee in an executive session of his Permanent Investigating Subcommittee here Saturday morning. He said the major invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions, but testified he would resign from the Army "prior to March 31."

McCarthy said the dentist, assigned to Camp Kilmer, N. J., was mentioned at earlier hearings on alleged Communist activities at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

He identified the man as a graduate of the city college of New

Thanks were also expressed by Wilma Washington who headed the Negro phase of the Mothers' March on Polio. This group has turned in $700 with these returns still incomplete.

Anyone whose home was not visited during the Mothers' March on Polio Friday night can make contributions now, it was announced by March of Dimes headquarters. Persons so desiring may call Mrs. Fred Thurber at 3-3403 Sunday or the MOD headquarters Monday, 3-9171.

Rosenbergs' Attorney Is Found Dead

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 —UP— Emanuel H. Bloch, attorney for executed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg who charged President Eisenhower with "murder" for their electrocutions, was found dead Saturday in a bathtub in his Greenwich Village apartment, police reported.

Bloch, who faced possible disbarment for his attack on the President and other officials, was pronounced dead of natural causes, police reported.

A physician said Bloch apparently had suffered a heart attack. His body was found in the bathtub by a friend, detectives said.

The 53-year-old attorney had devoted most of his time during the last few years to the celebrated Rosenberg case, and only recently had found a home for their two young boys.

The Rosenbergs were executed in June, 1953, for conspiring to give United States atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. Bloch fought their case in the courts almost to the moment of their deaths on June 19. The last Supreme Court ruling on the case came only a few hours before the couple were electrocuted.

At the couple's funeral on June 21, Bloch charged the United States was "under the heel of a military dictatorship."

"I place the murder of the Rosenbergs at the door of President Eisenhower, Attorney General (Herbert) Brownell and J. Edgar Hoover director of the FBI" he said. "This is not American justice. .we must be angry."

Following Bloch's denunciation of the President, the bar association of New York city received a number of complaints about it. Proceedings against Bloch were threatened at that time.

The Rosenbergs named Bloch guardian for their children, Michael, 10, and Robert, six. He placed the children in the home of friends in Toms River, N.J., but the youngsters were moved recently to an undisclosed place after they were barred from a New Jersey school.

Cabinet Falls In Italy After 11-Day Tenure

Premier Fanfani Asked To Stay In Caretaker Role

ROME, Jan. 30 (AP) — Crisis - ridden Italy dumped her third government in six months today. Premier Amintore Fanfani's 11-day old Christian Democrat cabinet fell when the Chamber of Deputies voted 303 - 260 against him on the confidence motion.

Parties of the right and left joined in the opposition. The outcome was no surprise. It had been forecast since Fanfani presented his pro-West, anti-Communist program of social reform to Parliament four days ago.

U. S. State Department officials in Washington were openly concerned over Fanfani's fall. They feared it foreshadowed continued political instability in Italy which might benefit the nation's powerful Communist party, the biggest west of the Iron Curtain, in critical months ahead.

Fanfani hastened to President Luigi Einaudi to submit his resignation. He conferred 90 minutes with the 79-year-old President. Departing, he refused to answer reporters' questions.

The presidential secretary announced Einaudi had asked Fanfani to maintain a caretaker cabinet while the President seeks a new premier.

The Liberals—12 of whose 14 deputies were in the chamber—abstained.

Before that, veteran statesman Alcide de Gasperi, leader of eight consecutive postwar governments, was cut down on July 28, just 12 days after he had formed a wobbly Christian Democrat minority government.

The no-confidence vote was preceded by several days of sharp, sometimes vicious outbursts, in which various political forces attacked Fanfani's government.

U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce was the target of jibes by Italy's Communist party chief, Palmiro Togliatti.

Sen. Bricker May Agree To Revised Draft

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—A new compromise on the Bricker constitutional amendment on treaty making was in President Eisenhower's hands today with the strong possibility he may signal for an end to the strife that has split the Republican party.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), whose original proposal was vigorously assailed by Eisenhower as hamstringing presidential powers to deal with other nations, was reliably reported to have agreed conditionally to accept the compromise.

Bricker was said to have insisted, however, that he would go along with the compromise only if Eisenhower either approved the new proposal—worked out in a bipartisan conference—or agrees not to oppose it publicly.

Some of the President's closest friend were known to be urging him to give a go-ahead signal for introduction of the compromise Monday, reserving the right to suggest changes in language if Senate debate brings out some flaws not now apparent.

As it was delivered to the President by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, the compromise was said by those who have seen it to include portions of previous proposals made by Bricker, Knowland and Sen. George (D-Ga).

The compromise would amend article VI of the Constitution to provide that treaties "in pursuance" of the Constitution should become the supreme law of the land. Knowland suggested this ap-

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 —UP— Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged Saturday an Army dentist was promoted to the rank of major after he refused to tell officials about his activities as "a long time Communist."

McCarthy said the man, whose name he withheld, was asked to resign from the Army only after his superior officers learned he was to be questioned by the sensenator's investigating committee.

The senator sat as a one-man subcommittee in an executive session of his Permanent Investigating subcommittee here Saturday morning. He said the major invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions, but testified he would resign from the Army "prior to March 31."

McCarthy said the dentist, assigned to Camp Kilmer, N. J., was mentioned at earlier hearings on alleged Communist activities at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

He identified the man as a graduate of the city college of New

Highlights Of Two-Day Budget Hearing Given

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 30—UP—Highlights of the two - day budget hearings conducted here by the joint fiscal committee:

State Board of Health: asked $7,968,159 for the biennium, an increase of $352,914 over the present budget, principally to replace federal funds which have been cut.

Department of Revenue: asking an increase of two per cent the first year and 4.5 per cent the second, for a total of $7,184,000. Collector Rufus W. Fontenot noted that sales tax collected during 1953 totaled more than $6 million and added, "If there is a recession in Louisiana, I don't know where it is."

Department of Public Works: Director Roy Sessums presented a $2,614,822 budget, an increase of $1,035,972 over the present biennium. It was explained the increase was largely a booking procedure designed to eliminate the old system of "robbing Peter to pay Paul," by taking money from drainage funds to pay operating expenses. Sessums asked no pay raises because he said "I believe our economy is leveling off and I want our salaries to be in line with the economy."

State Auditor's office: Auditor Allison Kolb, requesting $1.3 million for the biennium, said his office saved the state $1.9 million during fiscal 1952-53 and another $800,000 so far this fiscal year. Kolb said "It's no fun always finding fault with public officials, but I think we owe it to you to protect these funds once you appropriate them."

State Land Office: Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, after assuring the committee there was "no overlapping between the duties of the State Land Office and the Mineral Board," asked $276,205 for the two years, an increase of almost $21,000. She warned that if the tidelands issue were finally settled, the increased business would make the budget too small.

Louisiana Art Commission: asked $32,180 for the biennium, and presented Director Jay Broussard with an invitation to the legislators to view the commission's current photography exhibit. "I think many of you gentlemen would be interested... the first prize is a picture of a cow. Many of you are in the cattle business."

Other requests (all showing the total biennium figure); Division of State Buildings, $1,072,162; State Parks and Recreation Commission, $960,058; Louisiana Liquefied Petroleum Gas Commission, $214,669; Louisiana Legislative Council $160,000; State Employes' Retirement System, $134,930; Department of Occupational Standards, $88,180; Youth Commission, $63,879; Banking Department, Commissioner of Securities, $45,199; State Examiner of Municipal Fire and Police Civil Service, $37,166; and Louisiana Historical Society, $30,000.

The fiscal group heard a report of the Civil Service Department that only a fraction less than two per cent of civil service-protected state employes are below the minimum wage scale and only 0.6 per cent are paid more than their scale. The report said $102,817 would be needed per month to bring salaries up to the minimum, as against $31,102 per month paid employes over the scale.

1953 Business In Louisiana Good, Survey Reveals

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 30—UP—Business activity in Louisiana was good during 1953 with an index on 30 lines of business up an average of 2.5 per cent over December, 1952.

The research division of the Louisiana State University college of commerce reported that the index rose 0.8 per cent over the November business level. It said 24 of the 30 series showed gains, while the other six lost ground.

"The largest favorable change was the 21.4 per cent drop in unemployment benefit payments, followed by a 16.8 per cent rise in sales of ordinary life insurance," the report said. Industrial electric power consumption was up 14 per cent while manufacturing sales gained 12.7.

Gains of between five and 10 per cent were reported in retail grocery sales, sales of auto supplies and accessories, postal receipts, wholesale drug sales, electric power consumption, telephones in service, bank deposits, and bank debits. Twelve other lines made gains of under five per cent.

Losses on the six lines were all under four per cent.

Louisiana's figures in three of the series may be compared with the national level. Department store sales gained 3.8 per cent in the state, compared to two per cent for the nation; freight car loadings in Louisiana were up 0.7 per cent but below the national increase of 1.5 per cent; and ordinary life insurance sales exceeded by 0.3 per cent the national increase of 16.5.

U. S. Promises Durable Aid To Europe's Army

BERLIN, Jan. 30 (AP) — The United States pledged today to "associate itself durably" with a future six-nation European defense army including German troops.

Secretary of State Dulles told the Big Four conference here that the creation of a European Defense Community — in which West Germany first and then a united Germany would join — is the only sure way to transform Europe "from a cockpit of war to a home of abiding peace."

Lashing the Western Allies' plan to unify this divided country, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov served notice that Germany must be neutralized.

"The Soviet government advocates that the German state be really free in its domestic and foreign affairs as a result of all-German elections," he said.

He insisted the four occupying powers should agree that a future all-German government could not be tied by agreement to any bloc.

The "Eden plan," submitted by Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden yesterday, would let the Germans start off their unification by free elections.

Then it would allow them to make their own choice of allies after regaining sovereignty — a choice the West is convinced would be in its favor.

Dulles noted Russia "professes to fear that this new community (EDC) which is being born might be dangerous to it."

"There will be only a common army so interlocked that no single member of the community could in practice commit armed aggression," he continued.

"There would be no more German army. There would be no German general staff. Such a European army could go into action only in response to great and pressing needs of self defense."

Molotov retorted that the EDC "gives German militarists a free hand" and charged that the Western powers, through their peace contract with Bonn, intended to "keep Germany in a state of semi-occupation" for 50 years.

"We ought to reach agreement that Germany will not be tied after all-German elections by any agreement to this or that group of powers, that Germany will be free not only in its domestic, but also in its foreign affairs," he said.

The Russian, whose surprise maneuvers had thrown the Berlin conference into a turmoil all week, announced he would present the "Molotov plan" for Germany at the next meeting in the Soviet embassy. He will be chairman.

James Roosevelt Stands Ground In Political Arena

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 30—UP—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, stood his ground in the political arena Saturday despite charges by his wife he committed adultery with a dozen women.

The 46-year - old former Marine declared that misconduct charges hurled at him by his wife, Romelle Schneider Roosevelt, in a separate maintenance suit, will not force him from the race for congressman in California's 26th district.

"Certainly I'll run. . . .It is my present plan to go on about my affairs as usual and meet all my commitments and see what happens."

Paul Ziffren, Democratic national committeeman, asked that judgment on "a matter of this nature' be suspended until all the facts are known.

"The district Democratic convention will want to know all the facts," Ziffren added. "A candidate's private life becomes the subject of inspection, and Roosevelt is no exception."

Mrs. Roosevelt's suit filed Wednesday, named three corespondents and cited nine other instances of alleged infidelity based on two letters Roosevelt allegedly wrote to her in 1945 while he was in the Marine Corps.

Her attorneys said only three women were named in the suit itself because of a two-year statute of limitations on adultery charges.

The three corespondents were named as Gladys Irene Ownes, or Irene Owens; June Nelson, or June Jordan; and Elaine Hilton.

Mrs. Roosevelt, a former nurse, nursed Roosevelt after a major operation at the Mayo Clinic in 1938 while he still was married to Betsy Cushing. She is asking $2,000 alimony a month and $1,500 a month for child support. Roosevelt had filed a separate maintenance suit on grounds of cruelty Jan. 18.

Train Plows Into Crowd Massed For Rally; 45 Killed

KAFR EL ZAYAT, Egypt, Jan. 30—UP—A train plowed into a crowd massed on the tracks to acclaim Egyptian President Mohammed Naguib Saturday and police reported 45 persons killed. At least seven other persons were hospitalized.

Officials said the accident was the worst rail disaster of the century in Egypt.

The president was in a train standing in the station at this Nileside city on the main rail line between Cairo and Alexandria being cheered by the crowd when tragedy struck.

A diesel-engined train enroute from Alexandria rammed into the demonstrators, grinding a number to death beneath its wheels and hurling others through the air to die by the right-of-way.

Tears streamed down Naguib's face as he sought to console the relatives of victims. As the dead were identified, Naguib himself called on the bereaved families to offer his sympathy. And from the funds brought along to finance his trip he handed out grants of $140 to each victim's family.

Naguib also ordered social affairs minister Maj. Kamal El-Din Huessin to investigate each family's needs and allocate further assistance.

He is Mr. X from "People are funny."

Soon after the new year came in, a group of Gypsy fortunte tellers swarmed down on Monroe. They all came in trailers and these were parked along DeSiard Street from near the colored cemetery to Twentieth Street. There were nearly a dozen of them, doubtless all related, and all hung out signs telling they would peer into the future for white and colored alike. But seemingly Monroe was not too responsive. By now all have folded their tents and like the Arabs have silently stolen away.

Monroe is about to declare relentless war on "that blind corner" where trees and shrubs operate to hide the view and encourage accidents that may cost limb and life at any unexpected moment.

McCarthy Charges

York, class of 1933. He said the major was married and had a daughter in Queens, New York. The major was commissioned as a captain in the Army in January, 1953, McCarthy said, and was questioned by Army authorities in August about "his Communist party activities."

At Saturday's hearing, McCarthy said, the witness refused to tell him whether he had held Communist meetings in his home, whether he had attended a Communist leadership school, whether he personally organized a Communist cell at Camp Kilmer, or whether soldiers had attended party meetings at his home.

"He refused to tell us whether as late as last week he attempted and succeeded in recruiting soldiers into the Communist party."

McCarthy said he was "interested to know how this man could be promoted after refusing to answer questions about communism."

Sen. Bricker

The compromise would include the first section of Bricker's proposal that "a provision of a treaty which conflicts with this Constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

With some changes, drafters of the compromise agreed to pick up a section proposed by George, which read originally: "An international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only by an Act of Congress."

The drafters then adopted from Knowland's previous proposal a clause requiring roll call votes of the Senate on the ratification of treaties.

The chief result of this patchwork was to eliminate the so-called "which" clause to which Eisenhower objected. That clause of the Bricker amendment read: "A treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of a treaty."

Since there are some fields in which only the states can legislate, this would mean that some treaties could become operative as domestic law only if the states passed legislation to carry them out.

Eisenhower objected that this would turn the clock back to the old Articles of Confederation days of the 18th century when, he said, each state had the right to repudiate a treay. Bricker vigorously disputed this interpretation. He said his amendment would not interfere with strictly international affairs, but was designed to prevent American liberties being taken away by treaties.

Under the Constitution as it now stands treaties, when negotiated by the President and ratified by two-thirds vote of the Senate, become the law of the land. Besides treaties there are other pacts, known as executive agreements, which are not submitted to the Senate for ratification.

With the "which" clause out of the way, some of the sponsors of the compromise explained that in its present form the proposal would spell out in the legal language of the Consttution these provisions:

1. Treaties and international agreements must conform to the Constitution.

2. No international agreements could override domestic law unless Congress affirmatively approved such a course.

3. Treaties and international agreements would be subject to challenge in the courts of their constitutionality.

4. The Senate must approve treaties by two-thirds of those balloting, on a record vote.

Without discussing at any point the contents of the compromise, Knowland told reporters "there is every reason to feel that what we have worked out is acceptable all around, although it is not necessarily in final form."

Highlights Of Two-Day Budget Hearing Given

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 30—UP—Highlights of the two - day budget hearings conducted here by the joint fiscal committee:

State Board of Health: asked $7,968,159 for the biennium, an increase of $352,914 over the present budget, principally to replace federal funds which have been cut.

Department of Revenue: asking an increase of two per cent the first year and 4.5 per cent the second, for a total of $7,184,000. Collector Rufus W. Fontenot noted that sales tax collected during 1953 totaled more than $6 million and added, "if there is a recession in Louisiana, I don't know where it is."

Department of Public Works: Director Roy Sessums presented a $2,614,822 budget, an increase of $1,035,972 over the present biennium. It was explained the increase was largely a booking procedure designed to eliminate the old system of "robbing Peter to pay Paul," by taking money from drainage funds to pay operating expenses. Sessums asked no pay raises because he said "I believe our economy is leveling off and I want our salaries to be in line with the economy."

State Auditor's office: Auditor Allison Kolb, requesting $1.3 million for the biennium, said his office saved the state $1.9 million during fiscal 1952-53 and another $800,000 so far this fiscal year. Kolb said "It's no fun always finding fault with public officials, but I think we owe it to you to protect these funds once you appropriate them."

State Land Office: Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, after assuring the committee there was "no overlapping between the duties of the State Land Office and the Mineral Board," asked $276,205 for the two years, an increase of almost $21,000. She warned that if the tidelands issue were finally settled, the increased business would make the budget too small.

Louisiana Art Commission: asked $32,180 for the biennium, and presented Director Jay Broussard with an invitation to the legislators to view the commission's current photography exhibit. "I think many of you gentlemen would be interested... the first prize is a picture of a cow. Many of you are in the cattle business."

Other requests (all showing the total biennium figure): Division of State Buildings, $1,072,162; State Parks and Recreation Commission, $960,058; Louisiana Liquefied Petroleum Gas Commission, $214,669; Louisiana Legislative Council $160,000; State Employes' Retirement System, $134,930; Department of Occupational Standards, $88,180; Youth Commission, $63,879; Banking Department, Commissioner of Securities, $45,199; State Examiner of Municipal Fire and Police Civil Service, $37,166; and Louisiana Historical Society, $30,000.

The fiscal group heard a report of the Civil Service Department that only a fraction less than two per cent of civil service-protected state employes are below the minimum wage scale and only 0.6 per cent are paid more than their scale. The report said $102,817 would be needed per month to bring salaries up to the minimum, as against $31,102 per month paid employes over the scale.

1953 Business In Louisiana Good, Survey Reveals

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 30—UP—Business activity in Louisiana was good during 1953 with an index on 30 lines of business up an average of 2.5 per cent over December, 1952.

The research division of the Louisiana State University college of commerce reported that the index rose 0.8 per cent over the November business level. It said 24 of the 30 series showed gains, while the other six lost ground.

"The largest favorable change was the 21.4 per cent drop in unemployment benefit payments, followed by a 16.8 per cent rise in sales of ordinary life insurance," the report said. Industrial electric power consumption was up 14 per cent while manufacturing sales gained 12.7.

Gains of between five and 10 per cent were reported in retail grocery sales, sales of auto supplies and accessories, postal receipts, wholesale drug sales, electric power consumption, telephones in service, bank deposits, and bank debits. Twelve other lines made gains of under five per cent.

Losses on the six lines were all under four per cent.

Louisiana's figures in three of the series may be compared with the national level. Department store sales gained 3.8 per cent in the state, compared to two per cent for the nation; freight car loadings in Louisiana were up 0.7 per cent but below the national increase of 1.5 per cent; and ordinary life insurance sales exceeded by 0.3 per cent the national increase of 16.5.

Mrs. Wright testified that the attorney advised her to shoot Jeff Law if he tried to remove some disputed cattle from her place Mrs. Wright allegedly fired a pistol in Law's direction as he tried to take the cattle. He was accompanied by two sheriff's deputies at the time.

Study In France Is Being Offered To Louisianian

Opportunity for a year's study in France is being offered to a Louisianian by the French government with the cooperation of France Amerique de la Louisiana, Inc.

Applications to compete for the fellowship to do advanced study may be obtained from Miss Hazel Mitchell of Northeast State's Romance language faculty.

The stay in France will be from November to June of the 1954-55 academic year.

Any college graduate is eligible to apply for the fellowship, Miss Mitchell said. Those in North Louisiana should request application forms from her.

The Cultural Relations Committee will make the final decision in recommending to the French government the comparative rank of the three winners in competition. This will be done after the screening of candidates by representatives appointed by the committee from various sections of the state. Miss Mitchell will give an evaluation of the candidates in this area.

Before declaring the winner and two alternates, the three highest rating candidates will be invited to go to New Orleans for an interview with the committee. Then the final decision will be made and the French government notified.

Recipient of the fellowship will be awarded with travel expenses from Louisiana to France and return; tuition in a French University for an academic year; a monthly stipend for living expenses in France; an accident and health insurance policy for the year.

The candidate must be a citizen of the United States; a native or resident of Louisiana; unmarried and under the age of thirty; have a bachelor's degree by the time of departure; have a "B" academic average; possess a knowledge of French; possess good moral character, personality and adaptability; be of good physical health; preferably not have studied in France for more than a summer.

U. S. Promises Durable Aid To Europe's Army

BERLIN, Jan. 30 (AP) — The United States pledged today to "associate itself durably" with a future six-nation European defense army including German troops.

Secretary of State Dulles told the Big Four conference here that the creation of a European Defense Community — in which West Germany first and then a united Germany would join — is the only sure way to transform Europe "from a cockpit of war to a home of abiding peace."

Lashing the Western Allies' plan to unify this divided country, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov served notice that Germany must be neutralized.

"The Soviet government advocates that the German state be really free in its domestic and foreign affairs as a result of all-German elections," he said.

He insisted the four occupying powers should agree that a future all-German government could not be tied by agreement to any bloc.

The "Eden plan," submitted by Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden yesterday, would let the Germans start off their unification by free elections.

Then it would allow them to make their own choice of allies after regaining sovereignty — a choice the West is convinced would be in its favor.

Dulles noted Russia "professes to fear that this new community (EDC) which is being born might be dangerous to it."

"There will be only a common army so interlocked that no single member of the community could in practice commit armed aggression," he continued.

"There would be no more German army. There would be no German general staff. Such a European army could go into action only in response to great and pressing needs of self defense."

Molotov retorted that the EDC "gives German militarists a free hand" and charged that the Western powers, through their peace contract with Bonn, intended to "keep Germany in a state of semi-occupation" for 50 years.

"We ought to reach agreement that Germany will not be tied after all-German elections by any agreement to this or that group of powers, that Germany will be free not only in its domestic, but also in its foreign affairs," he said.

The Russian, whose surprise maneuvers had thrown the Berlin conference into a turmoil all week, announced he would present the "Molotov plan" for Germany at the next meeting in the Soviet embassy. He will be chairman.

James Roosevelt Stands Ground In Political Arena

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 30—UP—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, stood his ground in the political arena Saturday despite charges by his wife he committed adultery with a dozen women.

The 46-year - old former Marine declared that misconduct charges hurled at him by his wife, Romelle Schneider Roosevelt, in a separate maintenance suit, will not force him from the race for congressman in California's 26th district.

"Certainly I'll run. . . .It is my present plan to go on about my affairs as usual and meet all my commitments and see what happens."

Paul Ziffren, Democratic national committeeman, asked that judgment on "a matter of this nature' be suspended until all the facts are known.

"The district Democratic convention will want to know all the facts," Ziffren added. "A candidate's private life becomes the subject of inspection, and Roosevelt is no exception."

Mrs. Roosevelt's suit filed Wednesday, named three co-respondents and cited nine other instances of alleged infidelity based on two letters Roosevelt allegedly wrote to her in 1945 while he was in the Marine Corps.

Her attorneys said only three women were named in the suit itself because of a two-year statute of limitations on adultery charges.

The three corespondents were named as Gladys Irene Ownes, or Irene Owens; June Nelson, or June Jordan; and Elaine Hilton.

Mrs. Roosevelt, a former nurse, nursed Roosevelt after a major operation at the Mayo Clinic in 1938 while he still was married to Betsy Cushing. She is asking $2,000 alimony a month and $1,500 a month for child support. Roosevelt had filed a separate maintenance suit on grounds of cruelty Jan. 18.

KAFR EL ZAYAT, Egypt, Jan. 30—UP—A train plowed into a crowd massed on the tracks to acclaim Egyptian President Mohammed Naguib Saturday and police reported 45 persons killed. At least seven other persons were hospitalized.

Officials said the accident was the worst rail disaster of the century in Egypt.

The president was in a train standing in the station at this Nileside city on the main rail line between Cairo and Alexandria being cheered by the crowd when tragedy struck.

A diesel-engined train enroute from Alexandria rammed into the demonstrators, grinding a number to death beneath its wheels and hurling others through the air to die by the right-of-way.

Tears streamed down Naguib's face as he sought to console the relatives of victims. As the dead were identified, Naguib himself called on the bereaved families to offer his sympathy. And from the funds brought along to finance his trip he handed out grants of $140 to each victim's family.

Naguib also ordered social affairs minister Maj. Kamal El-Din Huessin to investigate each family's needs and allocate further assistance.

Father of 15 children, of whom 13 are living, is the record of John G. Cooper, Sr., of Sicily Island, who celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday at the home of a son in Baton Rouge January 24. A real pioneer family this!

From Rayville, Mrs. R. E. Stevenson writes this paper thus: "People Are Funny" - this is certainly true in this "adv." in the Monroe Morning World where the husband is being advertised for $75,000 cash. The editor of the Kentwood News refuses to identify the person so I will.

He is Mr. X from "People are funny."

Soon after the new year came in, a group of Gypsy fortunte tellers swarmed down on Monroe. They all came in trailers and these were parked along DeSiard Street from near the colored cemetery to Twentieth Street. There were nearly a dozen of them, doubtless all related, and all hung out signs telling they would peer into the future for white and colored alike. But seemingly Monroe was not too responsive. By now all have folded their tents and like the Arabs have silently stolen away.

Monroe is about to declare relentless war on "that blind corner" where trees and shrubs operate to hide the view and encourage accidents that may cost limb and life at any unexpected moment.

All forces here are combining in the proposed warfare, schools, city beautiful groups, Chamber of Commerce, traffic departments and others are to join hands to rid the city of these danger spots.

York, class of 1933. He said the major was married and had a daughter in Queens, New York. The major was commissioned as a captain in the Army in January, 1953, McCarthy said, and was questioned by Army authorities in August about "his Communist party activities."

At Saturday's hearing, McCarthy said, the witness refused to tell him whether he had held Communist meetings in his home, whether he had attended a Communist leadership school, whether he personally organized a Communist cell at Camp Kilmer, or whether soldiers had attended party meetings at his home.

"He refused to tell us whether as late as last week he attempted and succeeded in recruiting soldiers into the Communist party."

McCarthy said he was "interested to know how this man could be promoted after refusing to answer questions about communism."

The compromise would include the first section of Bricker's proposal that "a provision of a treaty which conflicts with this Constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

With some changes, drafters of the compromise agreed to pick up a section proposed by George, which read originally: "An international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only by an Act of Congress."

The drafters then adopted from Knowland's previous proposal a clause requiring roll call votes of the Senate on the ratification of treaties.

The chief result of this patchwork was to eliminate the so-called "which" clause to which Eisenhower objected. That clause of the Bricker amendment read: "A treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of a treaty."

Since there are some fields in which only the states can legislate, this would mean that some treaties could become operative as domestic law only if the states passed legislation to carry them out.

Eisenhower objected that this would turn the clock back to the old Articles of Confederation days of the 18th century when, he said, each state had the right to repudiate a treay. Bricker vigorously disputed this interpretation. He said his amendment would not interfere with strictly international affairs, but was designed to prevent American liberties being taken away by treaties.

Under the Constitution as it now stands treaties, when negotiated by the President and ratified by two-thirds vote of the Senate, become the law of the land. Besides treaties there are other pacts, known as executive agreements, which are not submitted to the Senate for ratification.

With the "which" clause out of the way, some of the sponsors of the compromise explained that in its present form the proposal would spell out in the legal language of the Consttution these provisions:

1. Treaties and international agreements must conform to the Constitution.

2. No international agreements could override domestic law unless Congress affirmatively approved such a course.

3. Treaties and international agreements would be subject to challenge in the courts of their constitutionality.

4. The Senate must approve treaties by two-thirds of those balloting, on a record vote.

Without discussing at any point the contents of the compromise, Knowland told reporters "there is every reason to feel that what we have worked out is acceptable all around, although it is not necessarily in final form."

Award Merits Given By Morehouse D. A. R.

By MRS. W. M. NOLAN
Morning World Correspondent

BASTROP, Jan. 30. (Special)—Two Morehouse Parish citizens have been given the award of merit of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Judge Fred Odom of Bastrop and Miss Ellie Traylor of Oak Ridge received the awards formally at a recent luncheon given the Abram Morehouse members and guests by Mrs. B. E. Barham and Mrs. C. N. McDuffie at the Oak Ridge Methodist Church annex.

In presenting the awards, Mrs. George T. Madison, regent, gave sketches of the lives and accomplishments of the man and woman who had been selected by secret ballot in the November chapter meeting.

Judge Frederick Marion Odom's parents, James Marion Odom and Sara Dean Odom lived in Farmerville. He came, as a graduate of Louisiana State Normal College, to be principal of Bastrop High School.

Miss Traylor's parents, Robert Bruce Traylor and Georgia McDuffie Traylor, lived in Gum Ridge, Morehouse Parish. Miss Ellie attended St. Mary's in Dallas, Tex., and taught three years in one room schools along the Mississippi before coming to her home parish to teach. The citation, "outstanding services for the betterment of the community and preservation of our constitution," might have been given for this part of their lives alone. But they did much more than teach well. Miss Ellie instigated the organization of the first troop of Boy Scouts in Bastrop.

Judge Odom has had a long and honorable career as a member of the Louisiana Bar. He was district attorney, 1908-1918; judge, Sixth Judicial district, 1918-1924; judge, Court of Appeal, 1924-1930; and justice, Supreme Court of Louisiana, 1930-1944.

Miss Traylor, a devout member of the Church of the Redeemer in Oak Ridge spent three years in San Juan, Puerto Rico as principal of St. John's Episcopal School.

In their years of retirement from active employ both are contributing much to their communities through participation and counseling.

Judge and Mrs. Odom, the former Irene Scoggin of Bastrop, have four children: Emily Dean, wife of Sidney G. Morse; Fred M. Odom, Jr., of Shreveport; Liva Garland, wife of Roy C. Siefert of New York City; and John Scoggin Odom of Shreveport. They have several grandchildren.

The judge is an active member of the First Baptist Church of Bastrop, a Democrat, a thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar, a Shriner, and a Knight of Pythias.

The Oak Ridge High School building stands as a monument to Miss Ellie's horse - and - buggy campaigning for the consolidation of the Gum Ridge and Oak Ridge grammar schools.

Third Series Of Civil Defense Training Ended

The third series of basic civil defense training was concluded Wednesday afternoon at civil defense headquarters, 400 Stone Avenue.

Each basic civil defense course requires six hours of training and since the recent opening of the district defense headquarters in December three series of basic training have been given. Attendance of these classes, A. B. Clarkson, civil defense director of district F stated, have shown that people are interested in civil defense.

Classes have been held to a maximum of 40 participants to encourage discussion during the six-hour course. Mrs. David L. Agnew, assistant director of district F, introduces the overall plan of existing agencies — police, fire, welfare, communication, etc., that require auxiliary forces by volunteers of civilians at each of these courses. Other speakers, who are also members of the civil defense plan for district F, are Fire Chief H. L. Hales, fire services; Joe Worley, welfare; Dr. Jack T. Jackson, health and special weapons; Roy Johns, communications; Captain Jack Davis, police; George Whitlow, rescue; Mrs. Elmer C. Slagle, district coordinator of women, outlines the women's place in civil defense. Clay Johnson, field representative of district F, coordinates the classes.

A new series of basic training classes will begin Monday night, February 8 at 7 p. m. at civil defense headquarters. Mrs. George Forman, executive secretary of district F, announced that every second Monday of every month would begin a civil defense basic course for those who call the office, 9663, for this type of training. It is hoped that these second Monday nights will become as established knowledge to everyone that our training courses are available, she emphasized. The six hours are continued on the third and completed on the fourth Monday nights of every month.

The interlocutor for the evening will be Mr. Lawarence Gibbs. Endmen will be Messrs: Truman McCrea, D. Z. Morris, M. C. Canterberry, Gene Barker, Bob Nix, and Billy Joe Wafer. Mr. B. Mack Hearne will be director of the evening's entertainment.

By MRS. W. M. NOLAN
Morning World Correspondent

BASTROP, Jan. 30. (Special)—Two Morehouse Parish citizens have been given the award of merit of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Judge Fred Odom of Bastrop and Miss Ellie Traylor of Oak Ridge received the awards formally at a recent luncheon given the Abram Morehouse members and guests by Mrs. B. E. Barham and Mrs. C. N. McDuffie at the Oak Ridge Methodist Church annex.

In presenting the awards, Mrs. George T. Madison, regent, gave sketches of the lives and accomplishments of the man and woman who had been selected by secret ballot in the November chapter meeting.

Judge Frederick Marion Odom's parents, James Marion Odom and Sara Dean Odom lived in Farmerville. He came, as a graduate of Louisiana State Normal College, to be principal of Bastrop High School.

Miss Traylor's parents, Robert Bruce Traylor and Georgia McDuffie Traylor, lived in Gum Ridge, Morehouse Parish. Miss Ellie attended St. Mary's in Dallas, Tex., and taught three years in one room schools along the Mississippi before coming to her home parish to teach. The citation, "outstanding services for the betterment of the community and preservation of our constitution," might have been given for this part of their lives alone. But they did much more than teach well. Miss Ellie instigated the organization of the first troop of Boy Scouts in Bastrop.

Judge Odom has had a long and honorable career as a member of the Louisiana Bar. He was district attorney, 1908-1918; judge, Sixth Judicial district, 1918-1924; judge, Court of Appeal, 1924-1930; and justice, Supreme Court of Louisiana, 1930-1944.

Miss Traylor, a devout member of the Church of the Redeemer in Oak Ridge spent three years in San Juan, Puerto Rico as principal of St. John's Episcopal School.

In their years of retirement from active employ both are contributing much to their communities through participation and counseling.

Judge and Mrs. Odom, the former Irene Scoggin of Bastrop, have four children: Emily Dean, wife of Sidney G. Morse; Fred M. Odom, Jr., of Shreveport; Liva Garland, wife of Roy C. Siefert of New York City; and John Scoggin Odom of Shreveport. They have several grandchildren.

The judge is an active member of the First Baptist Church of Bastrop, a Democrat, a thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar, a Shriner, and a Knight of Pythias.

The Oak Ridge High School building stands as a monument to Miss Ellie's horse - and - buggy campaigning for the consolidation of the Gum Ridge and Oak Ridge grammar schools.

Third Series Of Civil Defense Training Ended

The third series of basic civil defense training was concluded Wednesday afternoon at civil defense headquarters, 400 Stone Avenue.

Each basic civil defense course requires six hours of training and since the recent opening of the district defense headquarters in December three series of basic training have been given. Attendance of these classes, A. B. Clarkson, civil defense director of district F stated, have shown that people are interested in civil defense.

Classes have been held to a maximum of 40 participants to encourage discussion during the six-hour course. Mrs. David L. Agnew, assistant director of district F, introduces the overall plan of existing agencies — police, fire, welfare, communication, etc., that require auxiliary forces by volunteers of civilians at each of these courses. Other speakers, who are also members of the civil defense plan for district F, are Fire Chief H. L. Hales, fire services; Joe Worley, welfare; Dr. Jack T. Jackson, health and special weapons; Roy Johns, communications; Captain Jack Davis, police; George Whitlow, rescue; Mrs. Elmer C. Slagle, district coordinator of women, outlines the women's place in civil defense. Clay Johnson, field representative of district F, coordinates the classes.

A new series of basic training classes will begin Monday night, February 8 at 7 p. m. at civil defense headquarters. Mrs. George Forman, executive secretary of district F, announced that every second Monday of every month would begin a civil defense basic course for those who call the office, 9663, for this type of training. It is hoped that these second Monday nights will become as established knowledge to everyone that our training courses are available, she em phasized. The six hours are continued on the third and completed on the fourth Monday nights of every month.

Juggling Act To Be Featured

The Ouachita Parish High School band minstrel, to be given February 12, will feature a special juggling act by Dr. John A. Moore, professor of botany at Louisiana Tech, according to B. Mack Hearne, the director. Dr. Moore has been seen in many public performances throughout north Louisiana, but it is believed that this is his first appearance in Monroe.

The minstrel will include other special acts such as vocal solos, accordian and instrumental solos, and a men's quartette.

The interlocutor for the evening will be Mr. Lawarence Gibbs. Endmen will be Messrs: Truman McCrea, D. Z. Morris, M. C. Canterberry, Gene Barker, Bob Nix, and Billy Joe Wafer. Mr. B. Mack Hearne will be director of the evening's entertainment.

Problems Of Aged To Be Theme Of Meeting Here

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the annual meeting of Louisiana conference of Social Welfare at the Virginia Hotel, Monroe. Meetings will open February 10 and continue through February 12.

Problems of the aging is the central theme of the conference. Each meeting will consider some aspect of needs and problems of our aging population in Louisiana. Daily sessions will open with general discussion. Smaller groups will then convene under able leadership to explore specific phases of the subject.

Registration begins at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The first general session is scheduled for 10 o'clock. Mrs. Moise S. Cahn of New Orleans, La., president, will open the meeting. There will be a business meeting on Thursday morning. Afternoon sessions on Thursday will center on health needs and problems. Dr. Eugene L. Wenk, prominent geriatrician of Shreveport, will speak on medical needs. Personal adjustment will be discussed by Miss Hilda Arndt, L. S. U. School of Social Welfare, Baton Rouge, La. A Need In These Days Youth For Christ

The weeks which are going by are ones of the greatest importance on the national and international level. Decisions involving each and every American are being made. It is apparent that upon the statesmen of today, will depend the eventual outcome of the United States as a free nation and as a fortress of the entire free world. It is also apparent that other statesmen of a few years ago either did not have the interests of the nation at heart, were ill advised, or in some frightening cases, were instruments of another government.

It is easy to see what the results of these actions have been and the United States is today faced with a danger which it probably would not have had to face. One must consider the backgrounds of the men and women involved in each case. The Hiss case, perhaps paramount in many minds, shows that there was little belief in religion or, a normal childhood involved. No one can forget Hiss. Like Quisling, the name has become equal to the word "traitor."

Today, the younger generation still in high school and college is preparing to make its way into a world not protected by the secure walls of a high school or a classroom, and sometimes, not even by close family ties. It is said that the rise in juvenile delinquency has been "phenomenal" in the last several years. Many people read of a youngster's actions sometimes not in accord with the law and on those actions, feel free to denounce all youth as "delinquent".

Far too many adults have forgotten those short years ago when they too were "juveniles". There are few adults today who cannot reach far back into the closet of their mind to see the outlines of some "skeleton" whether large or small. It is even wondered if the rate of juvenile delinquency is as high as that of adult delinquency?

In any case, there is far too much of the former mentioned and unless it is halted, serious repercussions will be at hand. The repercussions will come in the form of broken hearts, marriages and prison sentences now, and demoralization on even greater scale later. There is no doubt in the mind of anyone that the young people of today will eventually control the nation and they must be fitted for the job which requires so much responsibility. Each vote cast in the future will determine how the nation is to be run and these votes must be cast with great care.

In this community, there was an organization which was little known, some times even laughed at by fellow students but which was doing a job of a value so great as to almost defy description. Youth For Christ in the Twin Cities worked tirelessly among the younger generation to combat degeneration and juvenile delinquency by merely teaching the younger citizens that to be a party to such actions is to defy the laws of God.

Youth For Christ builds moral and spiritual character in a youth and instructs that it is necessary to be healthy both mentally, physically and spiritually. It teaches that family ties are ties not to be broken and the young people who are now adults and who were members of Youth for Christ can testify as to the guidance they received and the good it did them. There are numerous happy homes in this community, and in others which found their beginnings in the organization and it is a safe bet that these marriages will stay together.

Unfortunately, like so many other organizations, one seldom heard of Youth For Christ in that the organization desired no publicity only that it be permitted to do its great work. Alas, such was apparently not the case and the organization has been disbanded due to the fact that it could find no place in which to meet. It was found to have crossed "too many lines" and was a casualty of these days.

Youth For Christ is still going in some communities and is still doing a good job. Some say it is "too fanatical" and some say that it is an "extremist organization" but it is wondered if there is not a need for "extremist" organizations of this type in these days? It is unfortunate that Youth For Christ in the Twin Cities was forced to close down. It is also wondered if there was not some place in which the young people could not have met and held their gatherings.

In any case, it is gone. It would be a good thing to reconsider and perhaps bring back. There is perhaps not enough "religious fanaticism" in these days when there is no doubt that at least some is needed.

Upon the youth of this nation depends its future and a severe blow was dealt here when it became necessary to disband the Monroe Youth For Christ.

Politics And S. J. No. 1

Senator John Bricker is seeing what so many of his other colleagues have seen in the past being played with his all important bill. Namely: politics. It now appears that the Bricker proposal is in dire jeopardy and stands some chance of being killed in one manner or the other. Every internationalist, one worlder and leftist in the nation has bitterly fought the proposal and the American people have now a good chance to see how much power they can exert.

Senator Bricker and originally 63 of his colleagues sponsored the proposal and he believed that it was a bare minimum necessity for the protection which should have been passed at the last session. It was shelved and now could face either the same fate or a vote to the otherwise.

It is interesting to note the Louisiana lineup on the case. Senator Ellender, a co-sponsor of the proposal has remained firm and solid in support of it. Now, what about Russell B. Long, the junior senator? In a letter to the Morning World in June, Long stated that he was "strongly considering voting for the proposal," although, he had reservations. In a visit here some months ago, he stated that he was still undecided and on Friday, he stated that he did not expect to vote for it.

The interesting aspect to the situation concerns the left-wing Democrat-Republican clique (there is no necessity to classify this group as either Republican or Democrat in that left wingers have no conception of either word) which waited for Lodge, Shanley, Jackson and the other internationalists surrounding the White House to convince the administration to make a formal denunciation of the proposal.

No one in the clique had actually made a statement of any sort until this happened. Now, they are all in the position of "protecting the President" in their severe denunciation of the proposal. Also, it is a further known fact that the "Citizens for Eisenhower" group headed by Walter Williams whose name is easily discerned on the stationery of the American Association for the "United Nations" has been ready to urge the conservative Republicans in the GOP primaries unless they "vote right" on this proposal.

Senator Bricker heartbreakingly sees some of his support dwindle as "the pressure" is exerted. The co-sponsors to the proposal are clear deserters who are playing politics with their nation's future. If they signed the original draft, they should have known what they were signing or they do not belong in the Senate.

In this instance, there is no party fight. This proposal has crossed party lines and it has separated the sheep from the men. The deserters who originally signed the proposal should explain their reasons for signing it and now are seeking the safety of "neutrality." What a shameful thing these people have done in their desertion of a proposal which would protect the constitution from infringement by treaties made with nations which in the past have certainly shown that they do not have the better interests of the United States at heart.

It was widely advertised that the President was "against the Bricker amendment." It did not state that the president was not at all against the proposed section which would limit the power of treaties, but against section three which he believes would give the states the power to vote on the treaties. On this, there has been much discussion, but it is apparent that the American Bar Association doesn't go along with the theory.

The action of the left wingers has been adroit and extremely well maneuvered. However this refers only to those in the Senate. They have carefully allowed the administration leaders to carry the ball against the proposal so that it would look as though they did not do the damage. Now, they are hoping that the Republican party will destroy itself in the fight, an unlikely event unless the "Citizens For Eisenhower" metes out the destruction.

This newspaper was in contact with the Senator's office on Thursday morning and he stated that a redraft was to be submitted to the Senate in a speech he had prepared. It will then be stated by all the opponents that "Bricker has compromised," a statement which is not true. The Senator has time and time again stated he is willing to redraft the proposal in any language necessary as long as it will contain the same ideas.

Politics on a scale so huge as to not even be conceivable are being played with this vital piece of legislation. This next week will indeed be an important one in the life of every American and every future American.

The Bricker proposal must be passed.

Your Own High Barbaree

Do you remember a story written by one of the greatest storytellers of the South Sea Islands, James Norman Hall entitled "High Barbaree"? It came out during the war and concerned a young navy flyer from Iowa and his childhood sweetheart.

The story woven around these two young people, began on a Navy amphibian which had been decimated by the Japanese and was forced to land. It was what has come to be known as a "flashback" and as the men slowly waited and hoped for recovery, the central character told of his life and his sweetheart. The story is told of how the youngsters, all the way back in Iowa had dreamed of the South Seas and had been encouraged by the lad's uncle. The uncle, an old sea captain, had described in detail, a pearl of an island called "High Barbaree" and so implanted in the mind of the young man was High Barbaree that in his delirium, he found himself there.

His sweetheart who he had met again, both grown and in the navy, he as a pilot, she as a nurse, was sailing back to the states when the ship captained by the old Uncle, was torpedoed by an enemy submarine.

In any case, the story of a mystical end on High Barbaree is beautifully told and in reading it, you are all of a sudden on High Barbaree right in the middle of the Pacific. Gone are the worries of the world and the cold winter of this area and you are living on the sparkling beaches of a South Sea Island. Gone are the cares and the worries of everyday life. High Barbaree, in the tradition of James Norman Hall is a most beautiful story.

You know, it's a funny thing but nearly everybody can have his own High Barbaree. Nearly everybody who can read can travel with his mind. The South Seas through the stories of James Hall are far more beautiful than they really are, beautiful though they may really be. A book is your ticket to adventure and travel. It is your way of going places you've never been and meeting people you've never met.

High Barbaree is just a book, but it could have been true. It probably was to many people who had similar experiences and relived their lives just as did Nancy and Alec. Nearly everybody who ever wanted to trade headaches of modern civilization for the paradise isles of the South Pacific, the mountains of the Far North, or the jungles of Africa, need not necessarily buy a ticket to those places, but just get a good book.

Sometimes, you can surpass your dreams, sometimes your own High Barbaree lies only a tablelength away, in the book you thought you never would read. Try it, the library's full of them and they're yours for the borrowing.

Students— It's All Over But The Tears!!

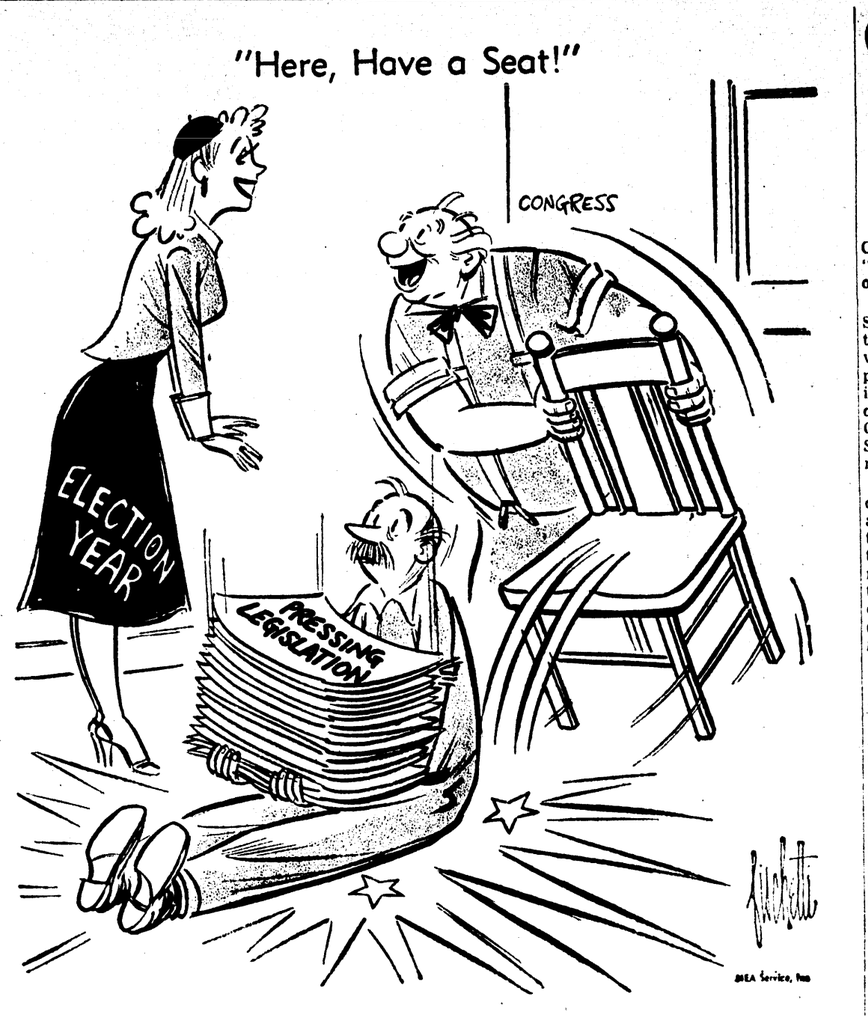
The marvelous Christmas holidays enjoyed by all high school and college students each year, not to mention the younger children, have been over for many weeks now. During those holidays, in the far reaches of the mind of many students throughout the nation was the dread word, a word which holds terror for many students and is not by any means looked forward to by the professors and instructors, called "examination".

To utter the word during the Christmas holidays is to render one's self an untouchable by others suffering the same thoughts but attempting nevertheless, to forget them. It's all about over now but the casualty lists. The students have been eagerly scanning the bulletin boards to see how they fared and have finished their pleas for mercy with their teachers and professors. There are many students who fear their parent's wrath more than the fact that they flunked a course.

Perhaps they fail to realize what their parents, with more experience in this complex world can know, and that one is the vital necessity for the attaining of grades which demonstrate that the student has concentrated on his or her work during the past semester. Parents and teachers are not prone to wrath by the grade which comes in letter form, only of the work it represents.

It matters not that you got an "F" and flunked the course to your parents in that the "F" is there, what does matter to them is that something is drastically wrong and that they are worried about you, their hopes for the future. There is another semester ahead and a chance to redeem the bad grades, improve on the mediocre ones and better the good ones. The grade you receive on the report merely stands for the culmination of all the work done by you and all the effort put out in the past few months. That's what really counts. When you get a good grade, you alone know how much work you've put into that grade and no-one is prouder than yourself.

The "old grind" has returned, and for your own good, for the good of the family you'll one day have and for the good of this great nation you love with all your heart, hit those books, make the "A's" ring out in a great chorus of success in this, the second semester of this scholastic year.



Public Forum—Voice Of All The People

No Government Can Give Both Freedom And Security

DeRidder, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Never has it been more vital than today that if the people are to continue as the sovereign power of the United States, they need facts that can help them decide important issues confronting this Republic. They need facts presented intelligently about both sides of major questions — foreign and domestic; as for example government corporations and private enterprise.

For many years the American people have had drummed into their ears propaganda presenting only one side of an issue, mostly Socialistic.

Many people hate "Socialism," or they say so, government meddling and such, but just let Washington officials try to cut down or discontinue one socialist scheme they have, and you hear on all sides, "Don't cut out that, cut some place else." In other words, "Rob the other fellow to help me, but don't take anything away from me."

The government has no constitutional right to take my property and give it to someone else. No group has any right to ask special favors at the expense of the rest of us.

High robbery taxes are bad for the morale of the people. Give away socialist schemes lowers the morals of those receiving the give aways.

A person who uses his talents to beat the elements is a better man or woman, and consequently becomes a prideful person.

No government can give us anything without first taking it away from us and our freedom along with it.

So called "Security" is mighty fine but no government can give both freedom and "so called security." A wooden bench can be harder than a silk cushion; but look out my friends, the silk cushion may have rocks and chains.

League Of Women Voters

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the Monroe News-Star of January 25th there is an article which states that the Monroe League of Women Voters Board voted to stand against the Bricker Amendment. Since the publication of that statement I have heard a great deal of comment about the League Board's statement. Unfortunately the public has construed it to mean that the entire membership of the League stands against the Bricker Amendment. That is far from the truth.

The League of Women Voters has often been criticized for not "taking a stand" . . . even during elections they are urged by this faction or that faction who do not understand the League organization to "take a stand." How can any organization take a stand on any issue when its membership is always sharply divided in its personal opinion. The League is an organization to teach women the fundamentals of government, to inform them on the pros and cons of the current issues, and to teach them to form their own opinions after hearing both sides of a question. It is not the duty of the board or any unit of the organization to "take a stand" in the public press.

It is well known that the league membership is divided about evenly on the issue of the Bricker Amendment; therefore, the statement in last Monday's paper merely meant that 13 of the women who sit on the board are against the amendment and one is for it. They do not speak for the entire membership in this matter and the vote of the board does not reflect the true picture of the difference in opinions among League members.

Movie Advertising

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the Monroe Morning World of January 18th there is a fine editorial which by its style and tone I believe you wrote. The message deplores the lauding in public press of two people who married last week in California. You go on to compare the frame of mind of the Roman Empire with that of our nation in this day...indicating that "the starry-eyed people" want to read about the sensational characters of our land and their private lives. You end the editorial with the paragraph: "Those ignorant, simple, unsophisticated, religious fanatics" keep attempting to bring back a little fundamental decency to this nation. May God help them in their "ignorance" and speed their good work."

The editorial is splendid and expresses my own views exactly. Unfortunately, the punch is taken out of it entirely by the Monroe Morning World of January 19th, page 5, movie advertising. Just what does a citizen have to do to get that sort of advertising stopped in the public press? Even reading about the marriage of two public figures is better than reading this sort of junk on the pages of our daily paper.

MRS. JOHN REITZELL.

New Probe Funds Asked Despite Ellender's Warning

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30, (CQ)— Congressional probers may stamp "Government Inspected" as firmly on 1954 as they did on 1953.

In spite of a warning Jan. 9 by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, Sr. (D La.) that the cost of Congressional investigations has risen one thousand per cent since 1940, over $1 million in new money has already been requested by committees of the 83rd Congress for second session probes. Several groups have not yet submitted their budgets.

The size of the new fund requests, which are subject to approval by the House or Senate, points toward a second session investigations kitty at least equal to the almost $4 million made available to the first session. A total of 137 special probes were begun in 1953, according to a tabulation by Congressional Quarterly.

More than half a million dollars may be used to investigate alleged subversives alone.

The House un-American Activities Committee, whose $300,000 budget was the second largest granted to any House committee during the first session, has requested the same amount for 1954.

The Senate Committee on Government Operations requested $192,830, less than the $199,000 it last year was authorized to spend. The committee said the funds were for its Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R Wis.), which conducted at least 16 probes in 1953—more than any other group. Many of them were investigations of subversive activities.

Another subversive - hunting unit Sen. William E. Jenner's (R Ind.) Internal Security Subcommittee, was scheduled to receive $170,000 of the $447,000 requested by its parent body, the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Judiciary Committee's first session budget of $366,000 made it 1953's best financed committee.

The Senate Armed Services committee, third among the Senate's fund - receivers in 1953, has requested $190,000, as compared to last year's $177,000.

The Senate Banking Committee this year requested $99,000. This is $11,000 less than it received last year. The Interstate and Foreign Commerce group has asked for $120,000. It received $125,000 last year.

Committees will use the funds to investigate everything from alleged "editing" of a witness' testimony to juvenile crime, judging from statements by investigating Congressman.

Investigations of investigators are being conducted by Reps. Karl M. LeCompte (R Iowa), Chairman of the House Administration committee, and Clare E. Hoffman (R Mich.), chairman of the House Government Operations committee. They are looking into the use of "counterpart funds" by Congressmen investigating overseas. Counterpart funds are put up by foreign governments to match U. S. aid.

LeCompte and Hoffman say they are concerned because Congressmen are not required by law to account for their use of this money.

Hoffman has also announced another probe, carrying out President Eisenhower's Jan. 11 recommendation that Congress "initiate a thorough study of welfare and pension funds covered by collective bargaining agreements."

The House Education and Labor Committee is planning a probe of alleged "labor racketeering" and the use of union welfare funds. The committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce is continuing its study of health insurance plans.

Congressmen have requested authorization to investigate charitable contributions and to create a joint committee to study the organization and operation of Congress.

The Senate investigations Subcommittee, according to Chairman McCarthy, is planning to investigate "more than 50" income tax compromise cases as well as alleged fraud and mismanagement of funds in Alaskan governmental operations.

Farmers and consumers are also in for Senatorial attention. A special committee has been appointed by the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee to investigate the farm-to-market price spread of agricultural products.

A Need In These Days Youth For Christ

The weeks which are going by are ones of the greatest importance on the national and international level. Decisions involving each and every American are being made. It is apparent that upon the statesmen of today, will depend the eventual outcome of the United States as a free nation and as a fortress of the entire free world. It is also apparent that other statesmen of a few years ago either did not have the interests of the nation at heart, were ill advised, or in some frightening cases, were instruments of another government.

It is easy to see what the results of these actions have been and the United States is today faced with a danger which it probably would not have had to face. One must consider the backgrounds of the men and women involved in each case. The Hiss case, perhaps paramount in many minds, shows that there was little belief in religion or, a normal childhood involved. No one can forget Hiss. Like Quisling, the name has become equal to the word "traitor."

Today, the younger generation still in high school and college is preparing to make its way into a world not protected by the secure walls of a high school or a classroom, and sometimes, not even by close family ties. It is said that the rise in juvenile delinquency has been "phenomenal" in the last several years. Many people read of a youngster's actions sometimes not in accord with the law and on those actions, feel free to denounce all youth as "delinquent".

Far too many adults have forgotten those short years ago when they too were "juveniles". There are few adults today who cannot reach far back into the closet of their mind to see the outlines of some "skeleton" whether large or small. It is even wondered if the rate of juvenile delinquency is as high as that of adult delinquency?

In any case, there is far too much of the former mentioned and unless it is halted, serious repercussions will be at hand. The repercussions will come in the form of broken hearts, marriages and prison sentences now, and demoralization on even greater scale later. There is no doubt in the mind of anyone that the young people of today will eventually control the nation and they must be fitted for the job which requires so much responsibility. Each vote cast in the future will determine how the nation is to be run and these votes must be cast with great care.

In this community, there was an organization which was little known, some times even laughed at by fellow students but which was doing a job of a value so great as to almost defy description. Youth For Christ in the Twin Cities worked tirelessly among the younger generation to combat degeneration and juvenile delinquency by merely teaching the younger citizens that to be a party to such actions is to defy the laws of God.

Youth For Christ builds moral and spiritual character in a youth and instructs that it is necessary to be healthy both mentally, physically and spiritually. It teaches that family ties are ties not to be broken and the young people who are now adults and who were members of Youth for Christ can testify as to the guidance they received and the good it did them. There are numerous happy homes in this community, and in others which found their beginnings in the organization and it is a safe bet that these marriages will stay together.

Unfortunately, like so many other organizations, one seldom heard of Youth For Christ in that the organization desired no publicity only that it be permitted to do its great work. Alas, such was apparently not the case and the organization has been disbanded due to the fact that it could find no place in which to meet. It was found to have crossed "too many lines" and was a casualty of these days.

Youth For Christ is still going in some communities and is still doing a good job. Some say it is "too fanatical" and some say that it is an "extremist organization" but it is wondered if there is not a need for "extremist" organizations of this type in these days? It is unfortunate that Youth For Christ in the Twin Cities was forced to close down. It is also wondered if there was not some place in which the young people could not have met and held their gatherings.

In any case, it is gone. It would be a good thing to reconsider and perhaps bring back. There is perhaps not enough "religious fanaticism" in these days when there is no doubt that at least some is needed.

Upon the youth of this nation depends its future and a severe blow was dealt here when it became necessary to disband the Monroe Youth For Christ.

Politics And S. J. No. 1

Senator John Bricker is seeing what so many of his other colleagues have seen in the past being played with his all important bill. Namely: politics. It now appears that the Bricker proposal is in dire jeopardy and stands some chance of being killed in one manner or the other. Every internationalist, one worlder and leftist in the nation has bitterly fought the proposal and the American people have now a good chance to see how much power they can exert.

Senator Bricker and originally 63 of his colleagues sponsored the proposal and he believed that it was a bare minimum necessity for the protection which should have been passed at the last session. It was shelved and now could face either the same fate or a vote to the otherwise.

It is interesting to note the Louisiana lineup on the case. Senator Ellender, a co-sponsor of the proposal has remained firm and solid in support of it. Now, what about Russell B. Long, the junior senator? In a letter to the Morning World in June, Long stated that he was "strongly considering voting for the proposal," although, he had reservations. In a visit here some months ago, he stated that he was still undecided and on Friday, he stated that he did not expect to vote for it.

The interesting aspect to the situation concerns the left-wing Democrat-Republican clique (there is no necessity to classify this group as either Republican or Democrat in that left wingers have no conception of either word) which waited for Lodge, Shanley, Jackson and the other internationalists surrounding the White House to convince the administration to make a formal denunciation of the proposal.

No one in the clique had actually made a statement of any sort until this happened. Now, they are all in the position of "protecting the President" in their severe denunciation of the proposal. Also, it is a further known fact that the "Citizens for Eisenhower" group headed by Walter Williams whose name is easily discerned on the stationery of the American Association for the "United Nations" has been ready to urge the conservative Republicans in the GOP primaries unless they "vote right" on this proposal.

Senator Bricker heartbreakingly sees some of his support dwindle as "the pressure" is exerted. The co-sponsors to the proposal are clear deserters who are playing politics with their nation's future. If they signed the original draft, they should have known what they were signing or they do not belong in the Senate.

In this instance, there is no party fight. This proposal has crossed party lines and it has separated the sheep from the men. The deserters who originally signed the proposal should explain their reasons for signing it and now are seeking the safety of "neutrality." What a shameful thing these people have done in their desertion of a proposal which would protect the constitution from infringement by treaties made with nations which in the past have certainly shown that they do not have the better interests of the United States at heart.

It was widely advertised that the President was "against the Bricker amendment." It did not state that the president was not at all against the proposed section which would limit the power of treaties, but against section three which he believes would give the states the power to vote on the treaties. On this, there has been much discussion, but it is apparent that the American Bar Association doesn't go along with the theory.

The action of the left wingers has been adroit and extremely well maneuvered. However this refers only to those in the Senate. They have carefully allowed the administration leaders to carry the ball against the proposal so that it would look as though they did not do the damage. Now, they are hoping that the Republican party will destroy itself in the fight, an unlikely event unless the "Citizens For Eisenhower" metes out the destruction.

This newspaper was in contact with the Senator's office on Thursday morning and he stated that a redraft was to be submitted to the Senate in a speech he had prepared. It will then be stated by all the opponents that "Bricker has compromised," a statement which is not true. The Senator has time and time again stated he is willing to redraft the proposal in any language necessary as long as it will contain the same ideas.

Politics on a scale so huge as to not even be conceivable are being played with this vital piece of legislation. This next week will indeed be an important one in the life of every American and every future American.

The Bricker proposal must be passed.

Your Own High Barbaree

Do you remember a story written by one of the greatest storytellers of the South Sea Islands, James Norman Hall entitled "High Barbaree"? It came out during the war and concerned a young navy flyer from Iowa and his childhood sweetheart.

The story woven around these two young people, began on a Navy amphibian which had been decimated by the Japanese and was forced to land. It was what has come to be known as a "flashback" and as the men slowly waited and hoped for recovery, the central character told of his life and his sweetheart. The story is told of how the youngsters, all the way back in Iowa had dreamed of the South Seas and had been encouraged by the lad's uncle. The uncle, an old sea captain, had described in detail, a pearl of an island called "High Barbaree" and so implanted in the mind of the young man was High Barbaree that in his delirium, he found himself there.

His sweetheart who he had met again, both grown and in the navy, he as a pilot, she as a nurse, was sailing back to the states when the ship captained by the old Uncle, was torpedoed by an enemy submarine.

In any case, the story of a mystical end on High Barbaree is beautifully told and in reading it, you are all of a sudden on High Barbaree right in the middle of the Pacific. Gone are the worries of the world and the cold winter of this area and you are living on the sparkling beaches of a South Sea Island. Gone are the cares and the worries of everyday life. High Barbaree, in the tradition of James Norman Hall is a most beautiful story.

You know, it's a funny thing but nearly everybody can have his own High Barbaree. Nearly everybody who can read can travel with his mind. The South Seas through the stories of James Hall are far more beautiful than they really are, beautiful though they may really be. A book is your ticket to adventure and travel. It is your way of going places you've never been and meeting people you've never met.

High Barbaree is just a book, but it could have been true. It probably was to many people who had similar experiences and relived their lives just as did Nancy and Alec. Nearly everybody who ever wanted to trade headaches of modern civilization for the paradise isles of the South Pacific, the mountains of the Far North, or the jungles of Africa, need not necessarily buy a ticket to those places, but just get a good book.

Sometimes, you can surpass your dreams, sometimes your own High Barbaree lies only a tablelength away, in the book you thought you never would read. Try it, the library's full of them and they're yours for the borrowing.

Students— It's All Over But The Tears!!

The marvelous Christmas holidays enjoyed by all high school and college students each year, not to mention the younger children, have been over for many weeks now. During those holidays, in the far reaches of the mind of many students throughout the nation was the dread word, a word which holds terror for many students and is not by any means looked forward to by the professors and instructors, called "examination".

To utter the word during the Christmas holidays is to render one's self an untouchable by others suffering the same thoughts but attempting nevertheless, to forget them. It's all about over now but the casualty lists. The students have been eagerly scanning the bulletin boards to see how they fared and have finished their pleas for mercy with their teachers and professors. There are many students who fear their parent's wrath more than the fact that they flunked a course.

Perhaps they fail to realize what their parents, with more experience in this complex world can know, and that one is the vital necessity for the attaining of grades which demonstrate that the student has concentrated on his or her work during the past semester. Parents and teachers are not prone to wrath by the grade which comes in letter form, only of the work it represents.

It matters not that you got an "F" and flunked the course to your parents in that the "F" is there, what does matter to them is that something is drastically wrong and that they are worried about you, their hopes for the future. There is another semester ahead and a chance to redeem the bad grades, improve on the mediocre ones and better the good ones. The grade you receive on the report merely stands for the culmination of all the work done by you and all the effort put out in the past few months. That's what really counts. When you get a good grade, you alone know how much work you've put into that grade and no-one is prouder than yourself.

The "old grind" has returned, and for your own good, for the good of the family you'll one day have and for the good of this great nation you love with all your heart, hit those books, make the "A's" ring out in a great chorus of success in this, the second semester of this scholastic year.

No Government Can Give Both Freedom And Security

DeRidder, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Never has it been more vital than today that if the people are to continue as the sovereign power of the United States, they need facts that can help them decide important issues confronting this Republic. They need facts presented intelligently about both sides of major questions — foreign and domestic: as for example government corporations and private enterprise.

For many years the American people have had drummed into their ears propaganda presenting only one side of an issue, mostly Socialistic.

Many people hate "Socialism," or they say so, government meddling and such, but just let Washington officials try to cut down or discontinue one socialist scheme they have, and you hear on all sides, "Don't cut out that, cut some place else." In other words, "Rob the other fellow to help me, but don't take anything away from me."

The government has no constitutional right to take my property and give it to someone else. No group has any right to ask special favors at the expense of the rest of us.

High robbery taxes are bad for the morale of the people. Give away socialist schemes lowers the morals of those receiving the give aways.

A person who uses his talents to beat the elements is a better man or woman, and consequently becomes a prideful person.

No government can give us anything without first taking it away from us and our freedom along with it.

So called "Security" is mighty fine but no government can give both freedom and "so called security." A wooden bench can be harder than a silk cushion; but look out my friends, the silk cushion may have rocks and chains.

League Of Women Voters

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the Monroe News-Star of January 25th there is an article which states that the Monroe League of Women Voters Board voted to stand against the Bricker Amendment. Since the publication of that statement I have heard a great deal of comment about the League Board's statement. Unfortunately the public has construed it to mean that the entire membership of the League stands against the Bricker Amendment. That is far from the truth.

The League of Women Voters has often been criticized for not "taking a stand" . . . even during elections they are urged by this faction or that faction who do not understand the League organization to "take a stand." How can any organization take a stand on any issue when its membership is always sharply divided in its personal opinion. The League is an organization to teach women the fundamentals of government, to inform them on the pros and cons of the current issues, and to teach them to form their own opinions after hearing both sides of a question. It is not the duty of the board or any unit of the organization to "take a stand" in the public press.

It is well known that the league membership is divided about evenly on the issue of the Bricker Amendment; therefore, the statement in last Monday's paper merely meant that 13 of the women who sit on the board are against the amendment and one is for it. They do not speak for the entire membership in this matter and the vote of the board does not reflect the true picture of the difference in opinions among League members.

Movie Advertising

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the Monroe Morning World of January 18th there is a fine editorial which by its style and tone I believe you wrote. The message deplores the lauding in public press of two people who married last week in California. You go on to compare the frame of mind of the Roman Empire with that of our nation in this day...indicating that "the starry-eyed people" want to read about the sensational characters of our land and their private lives. You end the editorial with the paragraph: "Those ignorant, simple, unsophisticated, religious fanatics" keep attempting to bring back a little fundamental decency to this nation. May God help them in their "ignorance" and speed their good work."

The editorial is splendid and expresses my own views exactly. Unfortunately, the punch is taken out of it entirely by the Monroe Morning World of January 19th, page 5, movie advertising. Just what does a citizen have to do to get that sort of advertising stopped in the public press? Even reading about the marriage of two public figures is better than reading this sort of junk on the pages of our daily paper.

MRS. JOHN REITZELL.

This Day For God

TODAY will disappear tonight . . . Whatever it may lack . . . And there will be no way for us . . . To ever bring it back . . . So why not use each minute now . . . Before it fades away . . . To honor God in every deed . . . And with each word we say? . . . Today may be the last for us . . . Before we have to die . . . So why throw caution to the wind . . . When it may mean good-by? . . . Tomorrow may become today . . . And we may still be here . . . But God will know how well we lived . . . And if we were sincere . . . And only as we live our lives . . . New Probe Funds Asked Despite Ellender's Warning

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (CQ)—Congressional probers may stamp "Government Inspected" as firmly on 1954 as they did on 1953.

In spite of a warning Jan. 9 by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, Sr. (D La.) that the cost of Congressional investigations has risen one thousand per cent since 1940, over $1 million in new money has already been requested by committees of the 83rd Congress for second session probes. Several groups have not yet submitted their budgets.

The size of the new fund requests, which are subject to approval by the House or Senate, points toward a second session investigations kitty at least equal to the almost $4 million made available to the first session. A total of 137 special probes were begun in 1953, according to a tabulation by Congressional Quarterly.

More than half a million dollars may be used to investigate alleged subversives alone.

The House un-American Activities Committee, whose $300,000 budget was the second largest granted to any House committee during the first session, has requested the same amount for 1954.

The Senate Committee on Government Operations requested $192,830, less than the $199,000 it last year was authorized to spend. The committee said the funds were for its Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R Wis.), which conducted at least 16 probes in 1953—more than any other group. Many of them were investigations of subversive activities.

Another subversive - hunting unit Sen. William E. Jenner's (R Ind.) Internal Security Subcommittee, was scheduled to receive $170,000 of the $447,000 requested by its parent body, the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Judiciary Committee's first session budget of $366,000 made it 1953's best financed committee.

The Senate Armed Services committee, third among the Senate's fund - receivers in 1953, has requested $190,000, as compared to last year's $177,000.

The Senate Banking Committee this year requested $99,000. This is $11,000 less than it received last year. The Interstate and Foreign Commerce group has asked for $120,000. It received $125,000 last year.

Committees will use the funds to investigate everything from alleged "editing" of a witness' testimony to juvenile crime, judging from statements by investigating Congressman.

Investigations of investigators are being conducted by Reps. Karl M. LeCompte (R Iowa), Chairman of the House Administration committee, and Clare E. Hoffman (R Mich.), chairman of the House Government Operations committee. They are looking into the use of "counterpart funds" by Congressmen investigating overseas. Counterpart funds are put up by foreign governments to match U. S. aid.

LeCompte and Hoffman say they are concerned because Congressmen are not required by law to account for their use of this money.

Hoffman has also announced another probe, carrying out President Eisenhower's Jan. 11 recommendation that Congress "initiate a thorough study of welfare and pension funds covered by collective bargaining agreements."

The House Education and Labor Committee is planning a probe of alleged "labor racketeering" and the use of union welfare funds. The committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce is continuing its study of health insurance plans.

Congressmen have requested authorization to investigate charitable contributions and to create a joint committee to study the organization and operation of Congress.

The Senate investigations Subcommittee, according to Chairman McCarthy, is planning to investigate "more than 50" income tax compromise cases as well as alleged fraud and mismanagement of funds in Alaskan governmental operations.

Farmers and consumers are also in for Senatorial attention. A special committee has been appointed by the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee to investigate the farm-to-market price spread of agricultural products.

Rep. Faulk Favors 2 New Polio Centers In State; One In Area Of Monroe

By JAMES McLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A state representative is working on legislation based on recent medical recommendations which he hopes will solve hazards involved in moving new Louisiana polio cases long distances to hospitals.

Polio marched into statewide headlines this week when thousands of mothers pushed at doorbells in a plea for the March of Dimes.

And those who are in fear of the disease threat to every child's health took keen note of national plans for mass tests of a new "trial polio vaccine."

Rep. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe says he is working on proposed legislation to carry out recommendations of a special polio study committee appointed by Gov. Robert Kennon.

The group was named as a result of Faulk's resolution introduced in the 1952 Legislature.

Faulk favors the committee's recommendations which, in effect, call for two new polio centers in the state and creation of a statewide system of regional polio consultants.

The two new polio centers would be in the Lafayette and Monroe areas because cases in those regions now must be moved long distances to polio clinics either at New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Alexandria or Shreveport.

While Faulk seeks expanded polio facilities, he says "I am awaiting with great interest results of the new mass inoculations planned by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

"Quite possibly, these new mass tests might show expanded polio facilities will not be necessary."

The National Foundation announced in Washington this week it is postponing the tests on school children until late in March or early in April. Delays in manufacture of the vaccine were cited.

Dr. David Brown, East Baton Rouge Parish health officer, says this parish is "almost certain" to be one of three selected in this state for the mass tests. East Baton Rouge had 74 polio cases last year, highest in the state.

Faulk said the committee report recently given Gov. Kennon emphasizes hazards in moving suspected or mild paralytic cases great distances to polio centers.

It suggests mental, physical and emotional stress appears to be an important factor in forcing paralysis in polio, and recommends physicians make every effort to get suspected, obvious non-paralytic or mild paralytic polio cases into their homes or at nearby hospitals.

The report, according to Faulk, also recommended, to assure adequate and expert medical services for diagnosis or treatment, that "qualified pediatric and orthopedic consultants should be designated and charged with responsibility for consultation with family physicians or local hospitals so suspected patients might be seen in a neighboring hospital, without the need for transportation to polio units."

Dr. R. V. Platou, head of the pediatrics department at Tulane University, is the committee chairman. Dr. Platou says "all over the country, the tendency has been to transport polio cases on threat in order to help safeguard the community . . . This may well be a hazard rather than a help to the patient."

Faulk says he will work with the State Department of Health in drafting the final shape of his proposed legislation.

"I know the Legislature will appreciate the work of this committee which acted at its own expense," he commented.

"I hope we can fill in the vacant regions now existing in polio facilities. All of Louisiana should have close-by facilities to handle polio cases."

Dailey Is Named Head Of Franklin Cattlemen's Unit

Speaking before the newly-elected officers and members of the association, Dr. Paul B. Brown of Louisiana State University discussed experimental winter foods for cattle.

M. A. Dailey was elected president; George V. Cotton, vice-president and Ike Drouet, secretary-treasurer.

Delegates were named to attend the state meeting of LCA in Alexandria February 18 and 19. They include: M. A. Dailey, Ben Broughton, J. A. Lewis, Carey Kincaid, George V. Cotton, Ike Drouet, G. A. Luno and E. B. Butler.

Two Scouts Aid Polio Fund Drive

A cub scout and a boy scout, prompted by the desire to do something extra for the March of Dimes campaign, went out on the streets yesterday. Their requests for donations brought in $16.19.

Presenting the money to A. L. Embanato of Troop 1, he said, "What's this for?" They said, "Well, we wanted to fight polio."

Improved Flight Schedule Given By So. Airways

Effective February 1, Southern Airways, Inc. has revised its schedules over the eight southeastern states to give improved service to the people of this area." This announcement was made by Mr. Frank W. Hulse, president of Southern Airways, Inc., after a schedule conference held in Atlanta.

Mr. Hulse placed particular emphasis on revised schedules serving cities in the Mississippi valley area from Memphis to New Orleans and Mobile. Mr. Hulse said, for example, that Monroe, La., the newest city on Southern's system, would now have morning and late evening service to Natchez, Baton Rouge and New Orleans, allowing the people of Monroe to make commuter trips in one day to any of these cities. Service also has been established from the Baton Rouge-Natchez area to Laurel, Gulfport and Mobile.

Northbound service from all Mississippi valley cities has been revised to give improved connections at Memphis to many points and, particularly to Washington and New York.

Southern serves twenty-nine cities in the southeast and has been operating in this area since 1949.

Deadline For Buying License Plates Near

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 30—UP—The last date for purchase of automobile licenses without a penalty is Feb. 6, Revenue Collector Rufus W. Fontenot reminded auto owners Saturday.

Fontenot said there will definitely not be an extension beyond that time.

Branch offices will remain open Feb. 6, Saturday, during regular business hours, Fontenot added.

The deadline does not apply to truck tags, which may be obtained up to May 1.

Guthrie, Grant Leave Monroe For Cotton Meeting

Louisiana Delta Council President Grayson Guthrie, Monroe, and Secretary-Manager Harvey P. Grant, Jr., Delhi, Saturday departed for the sixteenth annual National Cotton Council meeting in Atlanta on February 1 and 2.

Guthrie and Dr. David M. Amacker, Lake Providence, were recently appointed advisors to National Cotton Council President Harold A. Young.

National Grange Master Herschel Newsom will be the featured guest speaker on February 2.

The council convention this year, in addition to featuring cotton, will also stress methods for expanding and improving markets for cottonseed products.

On the agenda for consideration are controversial topics, such as export subsidies, various two-price systems and the billion dollar trade program proposed by President Eisenhower.

Discussions are also scheduled concerning domestic and foreign trade barriers; cotton research and utilization; marketing and promotional programs; and increasing competition from synthetics.

Gov't Support In Subsidies Hit By Blalock

RUSTON, Jan. 30 (Special)—Expressing his opposition to subsidies and dependency on the government, Bryan Blalock, public and industrial relations director of the Borden Company, urged a return to faith, courage and hard work in an address delivered here Thursday to a Chamber of Commerce capacity banquet crowd of several hundred Rustonians and special guests gathered in a dining hall on the Louisiana Tech campus.

"Too many of us want something for nothing. There's no such thing as a free lunch—somebody's got to pay for it," the speaker who was introduced by W. W. Durden, secretary-manager of the Ruston Chamber of Commerce, emphasized during the course of his speech, which he often enlivened with humorous remarks and anecdotes.

Enumerating many luxuries and conveniences available to the citizens of America and comparing them with those offered to its citizens by Russia, Blalock lashed out against those who would want to "overthrow this wonderful country."

"I'm for only one kind of "ism" and that's Americanism," stated Blalock and added that the Communists in this country should be given a one way ticket to Russia with no way to come back.

Yambilee Queen Visits Chicago

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan 30—UP—Louisiana's sweet potato queen and the junior cooking champion will combine their talents to promote Louisiana yams at a national food convention in Chicago Feb. 1-4.

Janet Rauschenberg of Lafayette, the Yambilee Queen, and cooking expert Geraldine Waguespach of St. James left Saturday for the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association's annual convention.

They will make several personal appearances during their visit, the first to Chicago for both, sponsored by the Louisiana Sweet Potato Commission and the Yambilee.

Miss Waguespach, a high school senior and one of 12 children in her family, was selected top homemaker from more than 15,000 home economics students competing in the third annual statewide sweet potato recipe contest last year. She is 17 years old.

Assurances Are Given On Cotton Allotments

DELHI, La., Jan. 27, (Special)—Cotton farmers throughout Louisiana are assured of receiving 1954 cotton acreage allotments up to 50 per cent of their crop lands, the Louisiana Delta Council announced today.

The Louisiana State Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee, formerly the Production Marketing Administration, meeting in Alexandria Friday voted unanimously to base 1954 allotments on the 65-40-50 formula and to make allotments directly to farms, states Harvey P. Grant, Jr., Delta Council manager.

Grant explained that the State ASC committee's ruling means that every cotton farmer is guaranteed to receive an allotment which is the larger of 65 per cent of his average planting in 1951-52-53 or 40 per cent of the highest year in that three-year period, not to exceed 50 per cent of his total tilled acreage.

The State AASC committee had the option of limiting the percentage of crop land to any figure between 40 and 50 per cent but chose the maximum of 50 per cent in order to reduce as much as possible the effect of acreage restrictions on the state's economy, Grant declared.

Increased cotton allotments under the 65-40-50 formula are being made directly to individual farmers without going through parish offices in order to expedite notifying farmers of their new allotments as soon as possible, Grant pointed out.

This method is being followed throughout most of the southern states.

"Farmers before receiving official notification of their allotments can approximate very closely just what the allotment will be," Grant emphasized. "They can secure PMA figures of cotton acreage planted for the past three years and by using their 1953 crop land acreage can know where they stand.

"This will enable a farmer to make financial arrangements and close agreements with tenants with the assurance that he can take care of them," Grant said.

Louisiana official 1954 cotton acreage allotments have been increased from 634,906 acres to 750,436 acres. Of this 115,530 acre increase the area embraced by the Louisiana Delta Council will receive approximately 60,000 acres according to Grant's estimates. This area consists of the parishes of Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas and West Carroll.

Under new regulations supported by the Louisiana Delta Council the cotton acreage legislation has also liberalized the use of "frozen acreage." This is cotton acreage allotted to parishes but which acreage farmers do not intend to plant. Under 1950 regulations such acreage could not be transferred from one parish to another.

Now such voluntarily surrendered acreage can be released to the parish committee. If all of this surrendered acreage can not be used in that parish, it is then relinquished to the state committee for redistribution wherever it is most needed in the state.

Transfer of some of this heretofore "frozen acreage" to northeast Louisiana will further improve the cotton acreage allotment picture, Grant stated.

Tito Reelected As President

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Marshal Tito was unanimously reelected President of Communist Yugoslavia today. Unopposed, he got Parliament's nod after declaring Yugoslav willingness to trade on both sides of the Iron Curtain, but denying any intention of returning to the Soviet camp.

Tito was the sole candidate of Yugoslavia's only political party, the Communist-ruled Socialist Alliance. He will take his oath of office for a four-year term in Parliament tomorrow.

Prior to his election, the greying, 61-year-old leader delivered a 70,000-word state of the nation message to Parliament in a voice hoarsened by a heavy cold. He looked a bit tired as he stood to speak.

Tito echoed sentiments contained in the report of his executive council to Parliament yesterday citing improved relations with the Soviet bloc and voicing readiness to deal with all lands on terms of "mutual respect."

Rep. Faulk Favors 2 New Polio Centers In State; One In Area Of Monroe

By JAMES McLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A state representative is working on legislation based on recent medical recommendations which he hopes will solve hazards involved in moving new Louisiana polio cases long distances to hospitals.

Polio marched into statewide headlines this week when thousands of mothers pushed at doorbells in a plea for the March of Dimes.

And those who are in fear of the disease threat to every child's health took keen note of national plans for mass tests of a new "trial polio vaccine."

Rep. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe says he is working on proposed legislation to carry out recommendations of a special polio study committee appointed by Gov. Robert Kennon.

The group was named as a result of Faulk's resolution introduced in the 1952 Legislature.

Faulk favors the committee's recommendations which, in effect, call for two new polio centers in the state and creation of a statewide system of regional polio consultants.

The two new polio centers would be in the Lafayette and Monroe areas because cases in those regions now must be moved long distances to polio clinics either at New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Alexandria or Shreveport.

While Faulk seeks expanded polio facilities, he says "I am awaiting with great interest results of the new mass inoculations planned by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

"Quite possibly, these new mass tests might show expanded polio facilities will not be necessary."

The National Foundation announced in Washington this week it is postponing the tests on school children until late in March or early in April. Delays in manufacture of the vaccine were cited.

Dr. David Brown, East Baton Rouge Parish health officer, says this parish is "almost certain" to be one of three selected in this state for the mass tests. East Baton Rouge had 74 polio cases last year, highest in the state.

Faulk said the committee report recently given Gov. Kennon emphasizes hazards in moving suspected or mild paralytic cases great distances to polio centers.

It suggests mental, physical and emotional stress appears to be an important factor in forcing paralysis in polio, and recommends physicians make every effort to get suspected, obvious non-paralytic or mild paralytic polio cases into their homes or at nearby hospitals.

The report, according to Faulk, also recommended, to assure adequate and expert medical services for diagnosis or treatment, that "qualified pediatric and orthopedic consultants should be designated and charged with responsibility for consultation with family physicians or local hospitals so suspected patients might be seen in a neighboring hospital, without the need for transportation to polio units."

Dr. R. V. Platou, head of the pediatrics department at Tulane University, is the committee chairman. Dr. Platou says "all over the country, the tendency has been to transport polio cases on threat in order to help safeguard the community . . . This may well be a hazard rather than a help to the patient."

Faulk says he will work with the State Department of Health in drafting the final shape of his proposed legislation.

"I know the Legislature will appreciate the work of this committee which acted at its own expense," he commented.

"I hope we can fill in the vacant regions now existing in polio facilities. All of Louisiana should have close-by facilities to handle polio cases."

Two Scouts Aid Polio Fund Drive

A cub scout and a boy scout, prompted by the desire to do something extra for the March of Dimes campaign, went out on the streets yesterday. Their requests for donations brought in $16.19.

The scouts are Jerry Mingledorff of Monroe, and Cub Dennis McDonald, both from Troop I.

Improved Flight Schedule Given By So. Airways

Effective February 1, Southern Airways, Inc. has revised its schedules over the eight southeastern states to give improved service to the people of this area." This announcement was made by Mr. Frank W. Hulse, president of Southern Airways, Inc., after a schedule conference held in Atlanta.

Mr. Hulse placed particular emphasis on revised schedules serving cities in the Mississippi valley area from Memphis to New Orleans and Mobile. Mr. Hulse said, for example, that Monroe, La., the newest city on Southern's system, would now have morning and late evening service to Natchez, Baton Rouge and New Orleans, allowing the people of Monroe to make commuter trips in one day to any of these cities. Service also has been established from the Baton Rouge-Natchez area to Laurel, Gulfport and Mobile.

Northbound service from all Mississippi valley cities has been revised to give improved connections at Memphis to many points and, particularly to Washington and New York.

Southern serves twenty-nine cities in the southeast and has been operating in this area since 1949.

Gov't Support In Subsidies Hit By Blalock

RUSTON, Jan. 30 (Special)—Expressing his opposition to subsidies and dependency on the government, Bryan Blalock, public and industrial relations director of the Borden Company, urged a return to faith, courage and hard work in an address delivered here Thursday to a Chamber of Commerce capacity banquet crowd of several hundred Rustonians and special guests gathered in a dining hall on the Louisiana Tech campus.

"Too many of us want something for nothing. There's no such thing as a free lunch—somebody's got to pay for it," the speaker who was introduced by W. W. Tito Reelected As President

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Marshal Tito was unanimously re-elected President of Communist Yugoslavia today. Unopposed, he got Parliament's nod after declaring Yugoslav willingness to trade on both sides of the Iron Curtain, but denying any intention of returning to the Soviet camp.

Tito was the sole candidate of Yugoslavia's only political party, the Communist-ruled Socialist Alliance. He will take his oath of office for a four-year term in Parliament tomorrow.

Prior to his election, the greying, 61-year-old leader delivered a 70,000-word state of the nation message to Parliament in a voice hoarsened by a heavy cold. He looked a bit tired as he stood to speak.

Tito echoed sentiments contained in the report of his executive council to Parliament yesterday citing improved relations with the Soviet bloc and voicing readiness to deal with all lands on terms of "mutual respect."

Civic Music To Present Noted Gershwin Group

The Gershwin concert orchestra, in an all Gershwin Festival, will appear in Monroe under the auspices of the Twin City Concert Association February 6 at 8 p.m. for members only.

The orchestra of 30 members, which includes 25 musicians, is under the direction of Robert Zeller, distinguished young American conductor. Since his debut at Tanglewood, Zeller has conducted leading orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Chicago Symphony, Cleveland Orchestra, San Francisco Symphony, Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, National Symphony Orchestra and the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

He has conducted the complete classic and modern repertoire of the world's foremost ballet companies on nation-wide tours, at the Metropolitan Opera House and in England and South America. He has achieved wide-spread recognition for his outstanding performances with the following: Ballet Theatre, Original Ballet Russe, Markova-Dolin Ballet and Sadler's Wells Theatre Ballet.

American trained and the winner of a fellowship at the Julliard Graduate School, he studied with Pierre Monteux, one of the first to encourage his conducting career, and with Serge Koussevitzky, who awarded him a scholarship at the Berkshire Music Center.

Zeller organized and directed the American Symphony Orchestra, which during the war was the first to make a concert tour under U. S. O. Auspices. He has served as musical director for the Los Angeles and San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association and has conducted on N. B. C. Television.

His notable directional artistry has been acclaimed by critics here and abroad. In 1951 he conducted at the Festival of Britain in London. Then following a successful trans-continental tour with Sadler's Wells Theatre Ballet, he was engaged for concerts with the Cleveland Orchestra during the summer of 1952 and for guest appearances in South America.

Rescue Work Is Taught By Civil Defense Leader

Rescue techniques are being taught at civil defense headquarters 400 Stone avenue on Wednesday and Thursday nights for the next two weeks, stated Clay Johnson, field representative for civil defense in District F. This basic course in rescue has been in progress since January 20th with twenty - two men participating.

Monroe Police Hunt Teenage Vandals

Late yesterday Monroe police were still trying to locate the gang of teenage vandals, who late Thursday night broke out the headlights on a parked automobile, and then sped from the scene in their own car.

A $650,000 rare clock exhibit will be shown here Monday at the Palace, with 35 of the most unusual clocks in the United States and the world on display.

Owned by the Old Charter Distillery of Louisville, Ky., the clock exhibit is now being toured through the country and will be on the first floor of the Palace.

Included in the exhibit are such clocks as the Viennese Pendulette, said to be the only one of its kind in America; the French nursery clock, formerly in the collection of the Noailles family of Paris; a fire clock and a water clock, made some 400 or 500 years ago; a 300-year old wood clock, made entirely of wood, and many more.

ROY ACUFF

Roy Acuff Will Make Appearance Here February 19

Roy Acuff and his Smoky Mountain Boys, direct from the WSM Grand Ole Opry, will be in Monroe, appearing at the Neville auditorium for two big shows.

Roy, the fiddlin' East Tennessee boy who made good in such a big way, is known as the "King of Mountain Music" and has also been called a "Mountain Caruso." The man who gave him the latter name also said that the famous opera tenor, Enrico Caruso, never played before even half as many people as has Roy Acuff. It is impossible to estimate the millions who have thronged to see and hear Roy sing and play.

Roy and his gang will offer the latest and best in shows. Featured along with Acuff are the humorous Pap and his jug band; Oswald, the funny man who is not half as dumb as he looks; harmonica playing Jimmy Riddle, Jess Easterday, Joe Zinkan, Tommy Magness, and others.

In addition to his fame through the WSM Grand Ole Opry and a long series of broadcasts on several networks, Acuff is noted as a Columbia records star, his various songs on record having sold 25,000,000 copies. His many motion pictures have been seen throughout several countries. His fame as a writer of great folk music songs has done much to make Roy the legend that he has become.

To keep up with all their dates in their current public appearance tour Roy and the Smoky Mountain Boys now travel by airplane. A special DC-3, "The Roy Acuff-WSM Grand Ole Opry Special," is used to fly from city to city, and back to Nashville every Saturday night for the broadcast there. All of the group enjoy flying, and use their hours in the air for brushing up on new tunes.

This group is being brought to Monroe under the auspices of The Monroe Lions Club, who through the years have brought to Monroe some of the finest entertainment in the United States. Funds raised through this activity will be used by the Lions Club for worthwhile civic and charitable work.

20-Year Search To Find Mother Has Happy End

Mrs. Josephine Loflin, 28, of Pasadena, Tex., saw her mother, Mrs. Eva May Ferri of Little Rock, last Monday for the first time since she was seven years old.

The young woman also was reunited with her three sisters. Ironically, she had been livin within 50 miles of one of them, Mrs. Mary Irene Kesel, 26, of Galveston, Tex.

The other sisters, who last remembered Mrs. Loflin as "a chubby little girl," are Mrs. Louise Cannon, 30, of Glenwood, Ark., and Mrs. Rosie Dering, 34, of St. Louis.

The family was divided in 1931 when Mrs. Ferri and her husband separated in St. Louis. Mrs. Ferri raised three daughters, while Charles A. Ferri of Vidalia, La., took Josephine with him.

"It wasn't until I was 16 years old and got married that I really started in earnest to look for my sisters and my mother," Mrs. Loflin said today. "I tried everything I could think of, but found no trace of them."

Meanwhile, the daughters had married and Mrs. Ferri had moved to Little Rock.

"Then three weeks ago," continued Mrs. Loflin, "I suddenly remembered from my childhood that my grandmother had bought a home at Little Rock."

Mrs. Loflin wrote to the city clerk here; got the address of her grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Letler, and wrote to her.

"Well, it wasn't long before I got a telegram back," said Mrs. Loflin. "It gave me the name, address and phone number of my sister Mary Irene in Galveston.

"I didn't even waste time with the telephone. I took my son, George and drove to Galveston."

Tigerettes Collect $485 In Polio Drive

The Neville High School Tigerettes proved yesterday that it isn't necessary for them to be on a drill field in order to make a "good showing".

About 2 p.m. yesterday 200 Tigerettes undertook to solicit contributions for the March of Dimes from generous Monroyans. By 5 p.m. the young ladies showed they are just adept at collecting funds for polio stricken children as they are at collecting prizes in drill competitions.

Last night the funds collected during the local drive were $485 higher, thanks to the Tigerettes.

Drainage Canals To Be Maintained By Police Jury

FERRIDAY (Special)—The Concordia Parish police jury has assumed maintenance of all federal drainage canals now constructed and also the proposed Buckner bayou drainage after an hour long discussion as to the merits of assuming maintenance. Herman Gibson, Ferriday, presided.

Tighe Smith of the state department of public works said that the U. S. engineers were preparing to advertise for bids for a $200,000 canal from Buckner Bayou to Cocodrie Bayou, which would be a key drainage construction for the northern part of the parish.

However, construction of the drainage would depend upon the police jury's assuming maintenance. Smith said that the new levee now under construction intercepts drainage from Lake St. John to Fletcher Lake.

Abner Maxwell, of Shaw, protested that such a canal might throw the weight of the water to the southern part of the parish. Leslie Murray, Vidalia, reminded jurors that they had not yet figured maintenance costs of the canals they already had to maintain and that the parish only had about $15,000 yearly from a 2-mill levy dedicated to maintenance.

However, when it was pointed out that this was the beginning of federal participation in the Concordia drainage problem, Maxwell offered a resolution that the police jury maintain all present federal maintenance for 10 years as well as Buckner's Bayou. This was unanimously passed.

The jury also gave Gibson authority to enter into agreements for right - of - ways in the Welch lake section, and to use expropriation proceedings as a last resort for drainage right - of - ways in this section.

The jury has agreed with the U. S. engineers to ditch in that area to take the water away from the levee in that section, but some objection has been encountered in securing right-of-ways from residents who felt that such ditching might drain the lake where their stock watered.

29 Prep Teams Enter Northeast Tourney

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Today we join McGuire Park Golf Club in helping to introduce its new pro, Leonard Warren, not that the veteran golfer isn't already well known to the links fraternity hereabouts. The successor to "Buster" Cupit, who resigned as professional at McGuire to join the winter tournament tour, has been working for Louisiana clubs for around eight years and is personally acquainted with all the state's pros and most of the amateurs. McGuire followers thought a lot of Cupit. We think McGuire president, A. C. Williams, and his supporters will like Warren as well.

Warren got his start in golf as a caddy at Lubbock, Tex., and served from 1936 until 1942 as assistant pro to Charles Akey at Lubbock before he entered service in World War II with the Air Corps. He served as assistant to Irving King at Shreveport for one year after the war, went to Lafayette for six years as head professional, and also had about a year's service with Ned White at Shreveport.

The new McGuire pro is already on the job and has taken up residence in West Monroe with his wife and three children—two sons 10 and six years old, and a three-year-old daughter.

T. H. Waters, Louisiana High School Athletic Association Commissioner, has announced the dates and sites for the state championship basketball tournaments. Class AA, with the two leaders from each of four districts qualifying, will be played at Louisiana State University; Class A, with two top contenders from each of eight districts qualifying, is billed for Southwestern Louisiana Institute; Class B will meet at Northeastern Louisiana State; and Class C will reign at Louisiana Tech. All state tournaments will run the same week end of March 4-5-6.

Byrd looks like the north district's best bet in "AA" with Ouachita and West Monroe still in the running. For Class A, the Neville High boys are looking mighty sharp with their fat winning streak, and LaSalle of Olla boasts one of its strongest teams. Winnsboro's girls look particularly impressive in "A". For Class B, the Baskin girls are going to make a strong bid for their seventh straight title. The Calhoun High boys are going to make it tough for somebody in their class.

Classes AA and A no longer play district championship games to qualify state title contenders, but classes B and C will be conducting most of their disrict title tournaments the week end of February 18-19-20 with some of the girls' meets a week earlier.

The professional football draft of the past week saw several performers with Louisiana schools claimed. Of note were James Lum, Louisiana Tech tackle, claimed by the Chicago Bears; Charles Oakley and Jerry Merchand, backs of L. S. U., both taken by the Chicago Cardinals; William Harris, L. S. U. tackle, grabbed by the New York Giants; Max McGee, Tulane back, to Green Bay; James Partridge, Tulane back, to New York; and George Cummins, Tulane tackle, to Cleveland. And the biggest name of the New Year's bowls, Tommy Lewis, Alabama's off-the-bench tackler, was claimed by the Chicago Cardinals.

Mrs. Smith 1st In Doherty Play

In the other bracket, grim little Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ontario, stroked her way into the finals with a steady 3 and 2 decision over Vonnie Colby, of Hollywood, Fla.

Miss Faulk's defeat spoiled prospects for a meeting in tomorrow's 36-hole final between the British and American amateur champions. The Georgia girl won the American crown last year while Miss Stewart was capturing the British title.

Tribe Set For Baptists

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians, hoping they have hit their stride again after shading tough Mississippi College, 72-70, in their last outing, will engage the rugged East Texas State Baptists here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Ouachita Parish high school gymnasium.

Earlier in the season, at Marshall, Tex., the Redskins dropped a 77-70 decision to the Baptists, but coach Arnold Kilpatrick's charges are confident they are capable of reversing the score.

Following the East Texas invasion, the Tribe will get its next-to - last home date here Friday in a Gulf States Conference encounter with the McNeese State Cowboys. It will be the first meeting of the season with McNeese.

After this week's home stand, the Tribe will be on the road for five successive games with Northwestern Louisiana, Southwestern, and McNeese before coming home to end the season with Louisiana College on Friday, February 26.

Halbach Accepts Trophy As 'Most Valuable' Trojan

TALLULAH, La., Jan. 30 (Special)—The annual football banquet honoring the Tallulah High School Trojans for the past season, which took place at the Community Club, was attended by members of the teams and their dates, coaches and members of the athletic board and their wives.

The highlight of the occasion was awarding of the Stewart-Massey trophy to the most valuable player, Bobby Halbach, by Herbert Massey, and football sweaters to the lettermen by Coach Harry Don Morton. Halbach was elected by vote of the A and B squads after he had tied with Jacob Storey in the first poll.

Lettermen receiving the long sleeves blue sweaters with gold letters and stripes were Doe Doe Crothers, Clayton Cox, Burney Rock Westmoreland, Deene Horn, Jerry Merritt, Jimmy Sturdivant, Tyrone Powell, Bobby Halbach, Gary James, Jacob Storey, Hoyt Lee, Lloyd (Shorty) Erwin, Robert Jackson, Billy Cy Wixson, William Thigpen, Lynn Naylor, Frank McKay, Skippy Wall.

In addition to speaches by Coach Morton and Herbert Massey, Mrs. Alfred Bethea rendered an appropriate humorous reading and Lloyd Alexander played several piano numbers.

The school colors, blue and gold, were featured in the decorations and appointments. A beautiful bouquet of blue and gold flowers formed the centerpiece for the officials' table and at the rear gold pennants inscribed with the lettermen's names hung from a facsimile of football gold posts. Place cards were miniature gold pennants held upright in gumdrops, and the menu written on a tiny blue megaphone marked each place. Turkey dinner was served.

Friendship Beats L. B. C. Five, Wins Downsville Event

DOWNSVILLE, La., Jan. 30 (Special)—The Friendship Independents defeated Louisiana Business College of Monroe, 58-30, here tonight to win the championship of the Downsville Independent Basketball Tournament at the Downsville High School gymnasium. "Sonny" Parker led the Friendship rout with 15 points, while Jimmy George led L.B.C. with nine.

Downsville won third place in the meet by edging Bernice, 51-49, in their consolation struggle as Ralph Sterrett set the winning pace with a 26-point production. J. W. Farr hooped 17 points for Bernice.

In the afternoon's semi-final action, Wiggers hooped 14 points in leading L.B.C. past Bernice, 46-34; and Glen Robinson set a 19-point pace to lead Friendship past Downsville, 51-39. "Buddy" Till and Bledsole hit for nine points apiece for Bernice in the semis, and Jimmy Cranford produced 12 for Downsville.

The "Big Three" of the Cleveland Indian pitching staff — Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn — defeated the Yankees 11 times in 1953. They lost nine to the New Yorkers.

The 1954 roster of the Brooklyn Dodgers lists 21 pitchers, 4 catchers, 10 infielders and 11 outfields.

Long Shot Count Cain Cops Royal Palm's Top Cash

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 30 (AP)—Long shot Count Cain, a 4-year-old colt claimed for $10,000 in November, broke in front and outbattled favored Capeador in a neck-and-neck stretch drive today and won the $19,325 Royal Palm Handicap at Hialeah.

Owned and trained by John W. Nizlek, Port Chester, N. Y., the son of Count Fleet went off at 21-1 and returned $44.70, $12.90 and $7.10 after a fine ride by Bobby Permane.

The photo finish victory was worth $13,750 to the owner.

Capeador, a Brookmeade stable entry with Sunglow, paid $3.80 and $2.90. The entry was a 2-1 favorite. The Brookmeade gelding was four lengths ahead of the third horse, Apheim stable's Quiet Step, who paid $4.50 to show.

A crowd of 22,238 saw Count Cain outspring Quiet Step for the early lead. Capeador, winner of the Tropical Park Handicap, was a constant challenger and never worse than fourth.

Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's Royal Vale, who gave Tom Fool his two closest races and captured seven stakes last year, made his first start since Oct. 31. Topweighted at 126, he was never a challenger and finished eighth.

Piersall Ready To Try Any Job In Bosox Lineup

Piersall batted .272 in 151 games last season when he returned to action after a long illness. Two nights ago he shared the 1953 Red Sox outstanding achievement honors with absent Ted Williams at the Boston Baseball Writers' dinner.

Earlier this week, Piersall assured manager Lou Boudreau he was willing to change his outfield position.

Jensen came to the Boston club in a trade for southpaw pitcher Maury McDermott and rookie center fielder Tom Umphlett. The writers voted Umphlett their outstanding rookie award.

Syracuse University's boxing team will attempt to win its sixth straight Eastern team crown at Charlottesville, Va., March 12-13.

Monpharo Comes Up Fast To Take Pelleteri Sprint

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Monpharo, a seven-year-old gelding from the Reverie Knoll farms, staged a mighty run in the stretch today to win the $10,000-added Pelleteri Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

The black sprinter, held in close contention by jockey Bill Fisk, made his bid at the top of the stretch to catch the flying Ever Bright and win by three-quarters of a length.

Monpharo traveled the six furlongs in 1:11.3, the fastest time of the meeting so far. Close behind Ever Bright through the early running, Monpharo trailed in second place through the back stretch as Ever Bright set a sizzling pace.

Fisk turned Monpharo lose as the 10-horse field made the turn for home and took over the lead as Ever Bright began to fade.

Tom C. Buhl's Second Avenue, winner of the Michigan Mile last year, also came strongly in the stretch to overtake Ever Bright for the place position by half a length.

Monpharo, established as a 2½ to one favorite by the 13,000 fans, returned $7.40, $4 and $3.40. Second Avenue paid $7 and $5.40, while Pollard and Harkins' Ever Bright, second choice at the mutuel windows, returned $3.60.

The victory was worth $9,400 to Monpharo's owners. With 10 starters the race grossed $13,225.

Holly Ridge '5', Transylvania Win Sterlington Meet

(Special)—The Holly Ridge boys and Transylvania girls captured first place trophies in the annual A. L. Smith School Junior Invitational Basketball Tournament here tonight with Smith cagers bowing out in both final games. The Holly Ridge team beat Sterlington's boys, 55-37, after the Transylvania sextet had scored a 44-38 win over the Sterlington girls.

Velma Dooley and Doyle Hough, with 14 and 13 points respectively, led Holly Ridge, while Billy Roach, Frank Jones sparked Sterlington with 14 and 11. Barbara Leggett, with 25, and Elaine Stone, with 18, led the Transylvania sextet, while Elsie Phillips, 18, and Ella Faye Beasley and Wanda Garrett, 10 each, were tops for Sterlington's girls.

Calhoun's boys and girls were consolation winners, Calhoun's sextet beating Bonita, 30-26, and the Calhoun boys stopping Transylvania, 38-34. Shirley White led the Calhoun girls with 22, and Carolyn Still hooped 13 for Bonita. Jimmy Chandler, 12, and Robert Shelton, 11, sparked Transylvania's boys, while Archie Calhoun, 9, and Dickie Fuller, 8, were high scorers for Calhoun.

In the semi-finals the Smith girls beat Bonita, 38-22; the Transylvania girls beat Calhoun, 31-24; the Smith boys defeated Calhoun, 36-32; and the Holly Ridge boys beat Transylvania, 37-34.

George S. Buckner, president of the Sterlington Lions Club, addressed the crowd on the purposes of the tournament and how proceeds are used to improve recreation facilities here, and he also presented trophies to first, second, and third place teams.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced tonight they had received signed contracts from pitcher George O'Donnell and outfielder Gerry Lynch.

Curtises Meet Kelly, Unknown Tag Partner

Never-give-up "Irish Jack" Kelly returns once again to Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, this time with a partner of his own choice, to do battle with the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, in a feature tag wrestling match.

Kelly's partner is unknown to Promotor Kallio and the Curtises. Having been thrice defeated by Jack and George in "relay-rassles," twice with Rex Mobley as his partner, and last week with Al Massey, the sleepy-eyed villian from St. Louis claimed he could beat the popular Vicksburgers if he were allowed to choose his own partner. Massey said the same, so Gus Kallio tossed a coin, and the winner, Kelly, will be permitted to select his own teammate for Tuesday's battle.

It may be assumed that Kelly will select a "doozy-marooney." The husky unpopularite will be sure to select someone who is, in a manner of speaking, a wrestler after his own heart. And two opponents using "Irish Jack's" style bodes no good for the Curtis brothers.

Kelly has persisted in tossing Jack through the ropes and out of the ring in recent weeks, besides his routine illegal tricks, none of these actions endearing him to the local fans, or Jack. If his unknown-as-yet partner uses the same methods, fans and Curtises will be gnashing teeth and smashing heads respectively.

Kallio requested that Kelly notify him prior to last night the identity of his tag-partner. Kelly instead sent him a picture—with the head cut off, so it remains impossible to learn just who all the Curtis opponents will be.

Two one-fall, ten-minute time limit preliminaries, between opposing team members serve as warmups for the feature grapplers. The first match begins at 8:15 and Bill Barney will referee all bouts.

Double Headers Will Appear On SEC Grid Cards

ATLANTA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Double header football games, tried out successfully in the Southwest Conference at Dallas, appear on the way for Southeastern Conference teams.

The first SEC double bill will be staged at Memphis next Sept. 25. Tennessee and Mississippi State will play at Crump Stadium in the afternoon and the Mississippi and Kentucky teams will take over the field at night. The latter game previously had been scheduled for Lexington, Ky.

Plans for the Memphis double headed and possibly others came from the schedule making meeting of conference athletic directors in Birmingham yesterday.

Journal sports editor Ed Danforth reported in his column that Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech coach, and Georgia's Wallace Butts talked the idea over at the Birmingham meeting and are trying to work out arrangements for a double-header at Tech's Grant Field on dates when both Georgia teams have home games scheduled.

In addition to offering fans a chance to see four conference teams in action in one day, the idea may mean better gate receipts.

Georgia and Tech have two conflicting home games this season. Tech plays Florida and Georgia plays Clemson Sept. 25. On Oct. 16, Tech meets Auburn and Georgia plays Vanderbilt. Under the doubleheader plan, one game would be played here in the afternoon and the other at night.

"Butts and I talked it over and are determined to work out something to give Georgia people a chance to see both our teams as often as possible," Dodd said.

"We would have to strengthen our lighting system which now is inadequate for a college game but it would be worth that expense. Then we could consider the double header idea or we could play one of our games at night to avoid a conflict with Athens. It would mean better gates for both of us."

Butts said he thought the chance to see four conference teams in action in one day "would pack them in." He added he would have to talk over the project with his athletic board but thought the board would agree it would be a profitable move.

SEC Adds Fifth Official For Its Football Games

The action, taken at the two-day session of athletic directors and coaches, followed the trend of several other conferences which had found modern football too taxing for just four officials.

The fifth man will be known as a back judge and will work deep in the secondary of the defensive team where he will be in position to give close attention to long pass plays and punts.

Yesterday the football schedule problems were ironed out, with Mississippi and Mississippi State adding games to bring their totals up to six conference contests.

George C. Gardner, secretary of the SEC Football Officials Association, said officials from the other four classes could be shifted into the fifth category.

The SEC coaches also voted to adopt a uniform numbering of players by positions. Most schools have been doing that but the action today makes it obligatory.

Quarterbacks will be numbered from 10 through 19; halfbacks 20 through 39; 40 through 49; centers 50 through 59; guards 60 through 69; tackles 70 through 79 and ends 80 through 89.

The Big Ten provided a fifth official for its games in 1951 and the Pacific Coast Conference followed a year later. Professional football leagues have had five officials for several years.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said today's sessions were routine except for the numbering and official changes.

Moore said that Kentucky, Auburn, Florida and Georgia added to their schedules to enable the conference to follow its rule that each member must play six SEC games.

Mississippi still has only five for the 1954 season, but Mississippi State added a game with Florida at this meeting to bring its schedule up to six. The State schedule has not been announced.

Apple Valley 1st In Maturity For Return Of $21.30

ARCADIA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Long shot Apple Valley raced through the mud today to run away with the $101,400 Santa Anita Maturity going away. By Zeus was second and Cerise Reine third.

Ridden by Merlin Volzke, the winner, a 10-1 shot took the lead in the back stretch and didn't give it up despite the challenges of actress Jane Greer's By Zeus and the filly Cerise Reine.

Greentree stable's Straight Face, the 8-5 favorite flown in from Florida for this race finished fourth.

Apple Valley, owned by Mrs. A. W. Ryan picked up the $85,025 purse and paid $21.30, $7.60 and $4.20. By Zeus returned $4.20 and $2.80 and Cerise Reine $3.20.

Time for the mile and a quarter race for four-year-olds on the heavy track was 2:08, a full eight seconds off Noor's track record established in 1950.

Apple Valley, handled by the national champion trainer of 1953, H. H. McDaniel, made it a virtual runaway, taking command after his stablemate, History Book, had set the pace into the backstretch. From the middle of the backstretch to the wire, Volzke had Apple Valley running smoothly on the rail and when he applied pressure after heading into the stretch the horse responded gamely and was more than equal to the challenge of By Zeus.

Cockell Handed Win Over Johnny Arthur

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Today we join McGuire Park Golf Club in helping to introduce its new pro, Leonard Warren, not that the veteran golfer isn't already well known to the links fraternity hereabouts. The successor to "Buster" Cupit, who resigned as professional at McGuire to join the winter tournament tour, has been working for Louisiana clubs for around eight years and is personally acquainted with all the state's pros and most of the amateurs. McGuire followers thought a lot of Cupit. We think McGuire president, A. C. Williams, and his supporters will like Warren as well.

Warren got his start in golf as a caddy at Lubbock, Tex., and served from 1936 until 1942 as assistant pro to Charles Akey at Lubbock before he entered service in World War II with the Air Corps. He served as assistant to Irving King at Shreveport for one year after the war, went to Lafayette for six years as head professional, and also had about a year's service with Ned White at Shreveport.

The new McGuire pro is already on the job and has taken up residence in West Monroe with his wife and three children—two sons 10 and six years old, and a three-year-old daughter.

T. H. Waters, Louisiana High School Athletic Association Commissioner, has announced the dates and sites for the state championship basketball tournaments, Class AA, with the two leaders from each of four districts qualifying, will be played at Louisiana State University; Class A, with two top contenders from each of eight districts qualifying, is billed for Southwestern Louisiana Institute; Class B will meet at Northeastern Louisiana State; and Class C will reign at Louisiana Tech. All state tournaments will run the same week end of March 4-5-6.

Byrd looks like the north district's best bet in "AA" with Ouachita and West Monroe still in the running. For Class A, the Neville High boys are looking mighty sharp with their fat winning streak, and LaSalle of Olla boasts one of its strongest teams. Winnsboro's girls look particularly impressive in "A". For Class B, the Baskin girls are going to make a strong bid for their seventh straight title. The Calhoun High boys are going to make it tough for somebody in their class.

Classes AA and A no longer play district championship games to qualify state title contenders, but classes B and C will be conducting most of their disrict title tournaments the week end of February 18-19-20 with some of the girls' meets a week earlier.

The professional football draft of the past week saw several performers with Louisiana schools claimed. Of note were James Lum, Louisiana Tech tackle, claimed by the Chicago Bears; Charles Oakley and Jerry Merchand, backs of L. S. U., both taken by the Chicago Cardinals; William Harris, L. S. U. tackle, grabbed by the New York Giants; Max McGee, Tulane back, to Green Bay; James Partridge, Tulane back, to New York; and George Cummins, Tulane tackle, to Cleveland. And the biggest name of the New Year's bowls, Tommy Lewis, Alabama's off-the-bench tackler, was claimed by the Chicago Cardinals.

Curtises Meet Kelly, Unknown Tag Partner

Never-give-up "Irish Jack" Kelly returns once again to Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, this time with a partner of his own choice, to do battle with the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, in a feature tag wrestling match.

Kelly's partner is unknown to Promotor Kallio and the Curtises. Having been thrice defeated by Jack and George in "relay-rassles," twice with Rex Mobley as his partner, and last week with Al Massey, the sleepy-eyed villian from St. Louis claimed he could beat the popular Vicksburgers if he were allowed to choose his own partner. Massey said the same, so Gus Kallio tossed a coin, and the winner, Kelly, will be permitted to select his own teammate for Tuesday's battle.

It may be assumed that Kelly will select a "doozy-marooney." The husky unpopularite will be sure to select someone who is, in a manner of speaking, a wrestler after his own heart. And two opponents using "Irish Jack's" style bodes no good for the Curtis brothers.

Kelly has persisted in tossing Jack through the ropes and out of the ring in recent weeks, besides his routine illegal tricks, none of these actions endearing him to the local fans, or Jack. If his unknown-as-yet partner uses the same methods, fans and Curtises will be gnashing teeth and smashing heads respectively.

Kallio requested that Kelly notify him prior to last night the identity of his tag-partner. Kelly instead sent him a picture—with the head cut off, so it remains impossible to learn just who all the Curtis opponents will be.

Two one-fall, ten-minute time limit preliminaries, between opposing team members serve as warmups for the feature grapplers. The first match begins at 8:15 and Bill Barney will referee all bouts.

Double Headers Will Appear On SEC Grid Cards

ATLANTA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Double header football games, tried out successfully in the Southwest Conference at Dallas, appear on the way for Southeastern Conference teams.

The first SEC double bill will be staged at Memphis next Sept. 25. Tennessee and Mississippi State will play at Crump Stadium in the afternoon and the Mississippi and Kentucky teams will take over the field at night. The latter game previously had been scheduled for Lexington, Ky.

Plans for the Memphis double headed and possibly others came from the schedule making meeting of conference athletic directors in Birmingham yesterday.

Journal sports editor Ed Danforth reported in his column that Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech coach, and Georgia's Wallace Butts talked the idea over at the Birmingham meeting and are trying to work out arrangements for a double-header at Tech's Grant Field on dates when both Georgia teams have home games scheduled.

In addition to offering fans a chance to see four conference teams in action in one day, the idea may mean better gate receipts.

Georgia and Tech have two conflicting home games this season. Tech plays Florida and Georgia plays Clemson Sept. 25. On Oct. 16, Tech meets Auburn and Georgia plays Vanderbilt. Under the doubleheader plan, one game would be played here in the afternoon and the other at night.

"Butts and I talked it over and are determined to work out something to give Georgia people a chance to see both our teams as often as possible," Dodd said.

"We would have to strengthen our lighting system which now is inadequate for a college game but it would be worth that expense. Then we could consider the double header idea or we could play one of our games at night to avoid a conflict with Athens. It would mean better gates for both of us."

Butts said he thought the chance to see four conference teams in action in one day "would pack them in." He added he would have to talk over the project with his athletic board but thought the board would agree it would be a profitable move.

Tribe Set For Baptists

Halbach Accepts Trophy As 'Most Valuable' Trojan

TALLULAH, La., Jan. 30 (Special)—The annual football banquet honoring the Tallulah High School Trojans for the past season, which took place at the Community Club, was attended by members of the teams and their dates, coaches and members of the athletic board and their wives.

The highlight of the occasion was awarding of the Stewart-Massey trophy to the most valuable player, Bobby Halbach, by Herbert Mossey, and football sweaters to the lettermen by Coach Harry Don Morton. Halbach was elected by vote of the A and B squads after he had tied with Jacob Storey in the first poll.

Lettermen receiving the long sleeves blue sweaters with gold letters and stripes were Doe Doe Crothers, Clayton Cox, Burney Rock Westmoreland, Deene Horn, Jerry Merritt, Jimmy Sturdivant, Tyrone Powell, Bobby Halbach, Gary James, Jacob Storey, Hoyt Lee, Lloyd (Shorty) Erwin, Robert Jackson, Billy Cy Wixson, William Thigpen, Lynn Naylor, Frank McKay, Skippy Wall.

In addition to speaches by Coach Morton and Herbert Massey, Mrs. Alfred Bethea rendered an appropriate humorous reading and Lloyd Alexander played several piano numbers.

The school colors, blue and gold, were featured in the decorations and appointments. A beautiful bouquet of blue and gold flowers formed the centerpiece for the officials' table and at the rear gold pennants inscribed with the letterman's names hung from a facsimile of football gold posts. Place cards were miniature gold pennants held upright in gumdrops, and the menu written on a tiny blue megaphone marked each place. Turkey dinner was served.

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians, hoping they have hit their stride again after shading tough Mississippi College, 72-70, in their last outing, will engage the rugged East Texas State Baptists here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Ouachita Parish high school gymnasium.

Earlier in the season, at Marshall, Tex., the Redskins dropped a 77-70 decision to the Baptists, but coach Arnold Kilpatrick's charges are confident they are capable of reversing the score.

Following the East Texas invasion, the Tribe will get its next-to-last home date here Friday in a Gulf States Conference encounter with the McNeese State Cowboys. It will be the first meeting of the season with McNeese.

After this week's home stand, the Tribe will be on the road for five successive games with Northwestern Louisiana, Southwestern, and McNeese before coming home to end the season with Louisiana College on Friday, February 26.

Monpharo Comes Up Fast To Take Pelleteri Sprint

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Monpharo, a seven-year-old gelding from the Reverie Knoll farms, staged a mighty run in the stretch today to win the $10,000-added Pelleteri Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

The black sprinter, held in close contention by jockey Bill Fisk, made his bid at the top of the stretch to catch the flying Ever Bright and win by three-quarters of a length.

Monpharo traveled the six furlongs in 1:11.3, the fastest time of the meeting so far. Close behind Ever Bright through the early running, Monpharo trailed in second place through the back stretch as Ever Bright set a sizzling pace.

Fisk turned Mompharo lose as the 10-horse field made the turn for home and took over the lead as Ever Bright began to fade.

Tom C. Buhl's Second Avenue, winner of the Michigan Mile last year, also came strongly in the stretch to overtake Ever Bright for the place position by half a length.

Monpharo, established as a 2½ to one favorite by the 13,000 fans, returned $7.40, $4 and $3.40. Second Avenue paid $7 and $5.40, while Pollard and Harkins' Ever Bright, second choice at the mutuel windows, returned $3.60.

The victory was worth $9,400 to Monpharo's owners. With 10 starters the race grossed $13,225.

Piersall Ready To Try Any Job In Bosox Lineup

Piersall batted .272 in 151 games last season when he returned to action after a long illness. Two nights ago he shared the 1953 Red Sox outstanding achievement honors with absent Ted Williams at the Boston Baseball Writers' dinner.

Earlier this week, Piersall assured manager Lou Boudreau he was willing to change his outfield position.

This action, taken at the two-day session of athletics directors and coaches, followed the lead of several other conferences which had found modern football too taxing for just four officials.

The fifth man will be known as a back judge and will work deep in the secondary of the defensive team, where he will be in position to give close attention to long pass plays and punts.

Yesterday the football schedule problems were ironed out, with Mississippi and Mississippi State adding games to bring their totals up to six conference contests.

George C. Gardner, secretary of the SEC Football Officials Association, said officials from the other four classes could be shifted into the fifth category.

The SEC coaches also voted to adopt a uniform numbering of players by positions. Most schools have been doing that, but the action today makes it obligatory.

Quarterbacks will be numbered from 10 through 19; halfbacks 20 through 39; 40 through 49; centers 50 through 59; guards 60 through 69; tackles 70 through 79 and ends 80 through 89.

The Big Ten provided a fifth official for its games in 1951 and the Pacific Coast Conference followed a year later. Professional football leagues have had five officials for several years.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said today's sessions were routine except for the numbering and officials changes.

Moore said that Kentucky, Auburn, Florida and Georgia added to their schedules to enable the conference to follow its rule that each member must play six SEC games.

Mississippi still has only five for the 1954 season, but Mississippi State added a game with Florida at this meeting to bring its schedule up to six. The State schedule has not been announced.

ARCADIA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Long shot Apple Valley raced through the smog today to run away with the $161,400 Santa Anita Maturity going away. By Zeus was second and Cerise Reine third.

Ridden by Merlin Volzke, the winner, a 10-1 shot took the lead in the back stretch and didn't give it up despite the challenges of actress Jane Greer's By Zeus and the filly Cerise Reine.

Apple Valley, owned by Mrs. A. W. Ryan picked up the $85,025 purse and paid $21.30, $7.60 and $4.20. By Zeus returned $4.20 and $2.80 and Cerise Reine $3.20.

Time for the mile and a quarter race for four-year-olds on the heavy track was 2:08, a full eight seconds off Noor's track record established in 1950.

Apple Valley, handled by the national champion trainer of 1953, H. H. McDaniel, made it a virtual runaway, taking command after his stablemate, History Book, had set the pace into the backstretch. From the middle of the backstretch to the wire, Volzke had Apple Valley running smoothly on the rail and when he applied pressure after heading into the stretch the horse responded gamely and was more than equal to the challenge of By Zeus.

Cockell Handed Win Over Johnny Arthur

The fight was slow-moving and disappointing to the crowd of about 8,500 in Rand Stadium. The fans started clapping for action several times and cheered when the last round began. Cockell did most of the attacking, but Arthur had him in trouble during the later rounds.

Lion Five, Bolton Girls Winners Of Consolation Tilts

By TED HECKATHORN

Neville High School Principal Paul J. Neal had the pleasure last night of awarding the first place trophies in the Neville Invitational Basketball Tournament to the boys and girls teams from his own school; after a more-than-capacity crowd had squeezed into every available seat, piled four deep in the exit space, and ringed the floor to watch the undefeated Tiger boys, winners of 32 straight games, play perhaps their best game of the season to down the Calhoun Chieftains, 52-26; while the Bengal sextette, in the girls final, defeated a highly-touted Start crew, 48-32.

Ouachita Parish High won the boys consolation game, downing Gibsland, 55-51; Bolton girls won the consolation tilt in their division over West Monroe, 33-30; Calhoun boys reached their final spot by edging Gibsland, 57-54; Neville girls beat West Monroe in a morning semi-final, 53-29; and the Tiger boys defeated Ouachita yesterday afternoon, 51-41, to reach the finals.

The undefeated Neville five, in the title tilt, started slowly, leading only 10-9 at the end of the first, but from then on, the lead increased quarter by quarter until the final doubling count. The Neville defense held the Chiefs to a lone field goal and free throw in the second period, and rushed sharpshooters Joe White and Kenneth Coon all the way; the Calhoun aces emerging with a total of 14 points between them.

Wayne Causey, who has been a ball-hawking defenseman for the Tigers all season, broke loose with a rash of field goals last night, and came out with 18 points, for game-high. Art Swanson, Billy Hardy, Fred Frickie, and Jerry LaPrarie all have had their nights offensively, so it was Causey's turn to hit, and hit he did.

Neville coach Buddy Bonnette played the starting five all the way, and each of the lads played flawless ball, on both passing and defense.

Though Calhoun's rugged White controlled the boards for the Calhoun rebounds, it was stocky Donald Finley who played the hardest game all evening for the losers.

The Neville girls, with big Martha Thompson reaching high above her Start guard and dropping them in regularly, and little Lois Stephens sinking her left-handed loops, forged into 10-7 first period lead and doubled the count on the orange and white-clad losers in the second, 26-13.

The third quarter went on almost even terms with the hostesses outscoring their guests by a single point.

Billy Jean Head's "sucker play", which usually results in an open shot for Miss Stephens or a foul on Miss Head, was working to perfection in the fourth as the Neville girls hit for 11 more markers.

The Bolton girls led the West Monroe sextet, 17-10, at halftime in the girls' consolation game, but the Rebel lassies tied it 22-up at the end of their only to be outscored by three points in the final count.

John Ann Painich, with 21 points, led the Rebel girls, and Ann Holy, with 22, was the game's high scorer from Bolton.

The boys' consolation found the Ouachita Lions leading all the way with a six-point margin at the end of the first and a 13-point spread at the intermission as well as the end of the third. Doyle Holstead, who was the outstanding Ouachita lad under the hoops, was high pointman for his team and the game with 17. Larry Barnes had 13 for second high. Jerry Rogers sparked the Gibsland pointmakers with 12.

In the Calhoun-Gibsland boys' semi-final, the Chieftians found themselves trailing 16-9 at the end of the first and 30-25 at intermission. However, they pulled away to a 40-38 lead at the end of the third, and, with White hitting for a dozen points in the fourth, took the final three-point lead.

White was game high scorer with 18, and Huey Meyers and Rogers led the Johnny McConathy-coached boys' attack with 17 and 15 respectively.

In the boys' 2:30 semi-final, the Tigers and Ouachita Lions battled tooth and nail for four full quarters before a full house before the home team finally emerged on the long end of a 51-41 count.

The Bengals got away to a fast 15-7 lead at the end of the first period, but Ouachita, largely due to the pair of long zippers by guard Billy Smith, was in front at halftime, 22-21. Neville couldn't seem to "buy" a field goal in this quarter, missing numerous crip shots as well as jumps, and only two dribbling layups and a free throw by Hardy, who became high point man for the game, with a total of 18, kept the Neville quint from falling further behind.

The Tigers began to hit with regularity during the third, pulling up to 37 points at quarter's end, while holding the Lions to four, and the huge crowd settled back to watch the favorites increase their lead.

But the Lions had different ideas, and closed to within two points, 39-37, in the final moments, as their rooters went wild. Larry Barnes, who was high for the losers, with 14, hit steadily to close the gap, but six free throws and a couple of Causey field goals gave the Bengals a safe lead, which they held successfully for their 31st consecutive win.

Ouachita gained the semi-finals, by downing Cloutierville in an 8:30 a.m. fray. Leading all the way, the Lions were never seriously threatened. Barnes led in the scoring department, with 17 points; while George Mabforg had nine to pace the losers.

The girls semi-final followed at 9:30, with the Neville sextette taking the measure of the West Monroe girls for the second time in one week, though it was a little closer yesterday, 39-29.

Martha Thompson again led the Bengal girls, scoring a total of 20 points. Billy Jean Head was next for Neville, with 14 markers, 11 of them in the first half, which ended, 22-8, Neville.

The West Monroe lassies, who were led by John Ann Painich, with 15, outscored the Tigers in the second half by four points, not quite enough to overcome the 14-point halftime margin. Pat Weems was second high for the Rebel girls with 13 points.

Favored Calhoun won their way into the semi-finals, by defeating Start High, 46-32, in the 10:45 boys' game. The Chieftains were sparked by White and Coon, with 11 and 11 points respectively. Leading the Owls by at least 12 points throughout, the Chiefs showed plenty of accuracy and class all the way.

In the second girls' semi-final, the ever-strong Start sextette, led by Gladys Sullivan, with 26 points, defeated the Bolton High School girls, 42-30. The Owls' girls team led all the way, the nearest Bolton approaching being five points in the third. June McNeal led the Bolton girls, with 12 points, and Kathy Fleischman, a hard-working courtster for the winners, was second high for the victors and the game, with 16 markers.

In the closest of the daylight tussles, Gibsland High's boys edged Fairview-Alpha in an overtime game, 60-56. Gibsland had a 21-4 first period lead, and a 30-18 lead at halftime, but sparked by "Willy" Williams, with 24 points for game-high honors, the Natchitoches-suburb school pulled to a 54-54 tie at the end of regulation time. It was Fairview's J. B. McElwee who tied the second-half battle for the loser with two long net-swishers just before the horn.

8 Schools Go Own Way

ALEXANDRIA, La., Jan. 30 (AP) — The Louisiana State High School Athletic Association today approved the formation of a "Big 12" for schools in southern Louisiana.

Approval was asked by eight schools. They were Baton Rouge, Istrouma, Catholic High, Bogalusa and Terrebonne of the Southeast District and Warren Easton, St. Aloysius and Holy Cross of New Orleans.

The group hopes to include two more New Orleans schools — Jesuit and De La Salle — and two from Jefferson Parish.

The Big 12 aims to promote better athletic activities among the schools and stimulate public interest. The new group will not affect state playoff competition by schools in the two districts.

The double-A schools also received approval to hold their baseball and basketball championship tourneys in much the same manner as they decide the football title. Bi-district playoffs will be held and then sectional winners will meet for the state title.

In other action at the two-day meeting Slidell was allowed to transfer from District 7-A (Riverside) to District 8-A (Strawberry Belt).

Class B schools voted to increase the number of districts from five to eight. This will require bi-district playoffs, then sectional playoffs and finals.

The boxing committee received approval of having Class AA and Class A boxing tournaments at Southwestern Louisiana Institute annually, starting in 1955. They will be held at Louisiana State University this year. The B. and C class tourneys will be at SLI.

Class A voted to allow more than two teams to qualify for the state baseball and basketball tournaments, making a total of 20 which can compete.

The association turned down a request by the Lafayette Kiwanis Club to eliminate the payment of a 10 per cent fee to the association.

Membership fees for girls' schools was reduced to $25 for Class AA $15 for A, $10 for B and $5 for C. Formerly they were required to pay the same fee as boys or co-educational schools.

3 Alterations Made In Girls' Cage Code

Mrs. Elizabeth Manhein, member of the women's advisory council for girls' high school basketball rules in Louisiana, returned last night from the annual meeting at Alexandria to report three changes in girls' rules to go into effect for the 1954-55 season.

The changes unlimited dribble (the girls are now permitted not not more than two bounces), allows offensive forwards only three seconds in the foul lane at a time, thus meaning the tall forwards will have to become more maneuverable, and reduced time for quarter play to seven minutes instead of the present eight.

Marion Quintet Registers 32nd Win For Season

MARION, La., Jan. 30 (Special) —The Marion High School boys' basketball team notched its 32nd victory in 36 starts for Coach Glenn Post tonight by turning back Strong, Ark., 57-35, as Perry Murry led the way with 18 points.

Ardis Phillips backed Murry with 16, and Joe Wooley, six-foot-six pivotman, sparked Strong with 14. Brashier played an outstanding floor game for Marion.

Marion, which will appear in the Dual State Tournament next week end at Junction City, is listed as the tournament favorite. Marion's first appearance in the event will be Thursday night.

The Bengals got away to a fast 15-7 lead at the end of the first period, but Ouachita, largely due to the pair of long zippers by guard Billy Smith, was in front at halftime, 22-21. Neville couldn't seem to "buy" a field goal in this quarter, missing numerous crip shots as well as jumps, and only two dribbling layups and a free throw by Hardy, who became high point man for the game, with a total of 18, kept the Neville quint from falling further behind.

The Tigers began to hit with regularity during the third, pulling up to 37 points at quarter's end, while holding the Lions to four, and the huge crowd settled back to watch the favorites increase their lead.

But the Lions had different ideas, and closed to within two points, 39-37, in the final moments, as their rooters went wild. Larry Barnes, who was high for the losers, with 14, hit steadily to close the gap, but six free throws and a couple of Causey field goals gave the Bengals a safe lead, which they held successfully for their 31st consecutive win.

Ouachita gained the semi-finals, by downing Cloutierville in an 8:30 a.m. fray. Leading all the way, the Lions were never seriously threatened. Barnes led in the scoring department, with 17 points; while George Mabforg had nine to pace the losers.

The girls semi-final followed at 9:30, with the Neville sextette taking the measure of the West Monroe girls for the second time in one week, though it was a little closer yesterday, 39-29.

Martha Thompson again led the Bengal girls, scoring a total of 20 points. Billy Jean Head was next for Neville, with 14 markers, 11 of them in the first half, which ended, 22-8, Neville.

The West Monroe lassies, who were led by John Ann Painich, with 15, outscored the Tigers in the second half by four points, not quite enough to overcome the 14-point halftime margin. Pat Weems was second high for the Rebel girls with 13 points.

Favored Calhoun won their way into the semi-finals, by defeating Start High, 46-32, in the 10:45 boys' game. The Chieftains were sparked by White and Coon, with 14 and 11 points respectively. Leading the Owls by at least 12 points throughout, the Chiefs showed plenty of accuracy and class all the way.

In the second girls' semi-final, the ever-strong Start sextette, led by Gladys Sullivan, with 26 points, defeated the Bolton High School girls, 42-30. The Owls' girls team led all the way, the nearest Bolton approaching being five points in the third. June McNeal led the Bolton girls, with 12 points, and Kathy Fleischman, a hard-working courtster for the winners, was second high for the victors and the game, with 16 markers.

In the closest of the daylight tussles, Gibsland High's boys edged Fairview-Alpha in an overtime game, 60-56. Gibsland had a 21-4 first period lead, and a 30-18 lead at halftime, but sparked by "Willy" Williams, with 24 points for game-high honors, the Natchitoches-suburb school pulled to a 54-54 tie at the end of regulation time. It was Fairview's J. B. McElwee who tied the second-half battle for the loser with two long net-swishers just before the horn.

3 Alterations Made In Girls' Cage Code

Mrs. Elizabeth Manhein, member of the women's advisory council for girls' high school basketball rules in Louisiana, returned last night from the annual meeting at Alexandria to report three changes in girls' rules to go into effect for the 1954-55 season.

The changes unlimited dribble (the girls are now permitted not not more than two bounces), allows offensive forwards only three seconds in the foul lane at a time, thus meaning the tall forwards will have to become more maneuverable, and reduced time for quarter play to seven minutes instead of the present eight.

ALEXANDRIA, La., Jan. 30 (AP) — The Louisiana State High School Athletic Association today approved the formation of a "Big 12" for schools in southern Louisiana.

Approval was asked by eight schools. They were Baton Rouge, Istrouma, Catholic High, Bogalusa and Terrebonne of the Southeast District and Warren Easton, St. Aloysius and Holy Cross of New Orleans.

The group hopes to include two more New Orleans schools — Jesuit and De La Salle — and two from Jefferson Parish.

The Big 12 aims to promote better athletic activities among the schools and stimulate public interest. The new group will not affect state playoff competition by schools in the two districts.

The double-A schools also received approval to hold their baseball and basketball championship tourneys in much the same manner as they decide the football title. Bi-district playoffs will be held and then sectional winners will meet for the state title.

In other action at the two-day meeting Slidell was allowed to transfer from District 7-A (Riverside) to District 8-A (Strawberry Belt).

Class B schools voted to increase the number of districts from five to eight. This will require bi-district playoffs, then sectional playoffs and finals.

The boxing committee received approval of having Class AA and Class A boxing tournaments at Southwestern Louisiana Institute annually, starting in 1955. They will be held at Louisiana State University this year. The B. and C class tourneys will be at SLI.

Class A voted to allow more than two teams to qualify for the state baseball and basketball tournaments, making a total of 20 which can compete.

The association turned down a request by the Lafayette Kiwanis Club to eliminate the payment of a 10 per cent fee to the association.

Membership fees for girls' schools was reduced to $25 for Class AA $15 for A, $10 for B and $5 for C. Formerly they were required to pay the same fee as boys or co-educational schools.

Marion Quintet Registers 32nd Win For Season

MARION, La., Jan. 30 (Special) —The Marion High School boys' basketball team notched its 32nd victory in 36 starts for Coach Glenn Post tonight by turning back Strong, Ark., 57-35, as Perry Murry led the way with 18 points.

Ardis Phillips backed Murry with 16, and Joe Wooley, six-foot-six pivotman, sparked Strong with 14. Brashier played an outstanding floor game for Marion.

Marion, which will appear in the Dual State Tournament next week end at Junction City, is listed as the tournament favorite. Marion's first appearance in the event will be Thursday night.

DON'T LOOK BACK...

A few weeks from now and wish "like the devil" you had made this sensible purchase in an older home in a choice location. For, among the 1426 Sq. feet of this distinctive home is a "lotta livin' "! For example . . . there are three comfortable bedrooms; life-time slate roof; glass-lined water heater; separate living & dining room and there's a breakfast room. It's selling for the FHA appraised value of $9500 with only $1900 down! We'd welcome the opportunity of showing you 2004 JACKSON ST. today!

BREATH TAKING!

So adequately describes this home . . . one of the finest on the northside! Here's a home that combines the best of distinctiveness with worlds of comfort among its 2239 sq. feet and in all of its seven rooms. Distinctiveness, such as: imported chandeliers . . . imported Belgian marble for the fireplace . . . decoration by Friend-Piper. Comfort, such as: 3 spacious bedrooms (one with private tile bath) . . . 3 floor furnaces . . . 1½ ton air conditioning unit . . . appealing breezeway on the back . . . 113'x 150' corner lot . . . roomy, double carport . . . 2 tile baths . . . separate laundry room . . . and a host of other lovable features. For something out of the ordinary, call for appointment to see this one!

SOUND SILLY?

A 6-room, 2-bedroom and 10'x15' paneled den home only 2½ years old for only $1300 down? It does, I'll admit, but we have "got the goods" at 1612 S. 4th! Goods, such as: 1,138 sq. feet of living area; 42" auto. shutter attic fan; floor furnace; large (14'x24') living room with fireplace; separate dining room; a captivating kitchen with washer plumbing. . . . storehood and utility closet; glistening oak floors; and an oddity in modern construction . . . there are three back entrances! It's vacant. Wanta' look?

$500 DOWN!

And monthly payments of as low as $47 per month plus loads of good livin' in every inch of all 812 sq. feet! Sounds like a dream, doesn't it and it almost is with its 2 bedrooms, its roomy (10'x15') kitchen with a serving bar and new water heater, its natural woodwork, its disappearing stair to attic and last, but not least . . . its sparkling hardwood floors! Every bit of the above can be found at 1304 S. 1st. It's vacant, too.

PEOPLE ARE CRAZY

For a reasonably priced, 3-bedroom & den home with location plus! There are few homes that can fit the above description, . . . but we've got one! Wanta' hear about it? Well . . . it's middle-aged (13 yrs. old) with 7-rooms . . . with a graceful living room and separate dining room; 3 bedrooms & den, or 4 bedrooms if you like; large aluminum screened porch; Venetian blinds; wallpaper in excellent condition; and last, but not least . . . all of the above is on an 81'x150' lot just a ½ block from Mitchell Lane grammar school and it's selling for a $1000 bucks less than FHA appraisal with only $1800 down!

WHO SAID...

Modern construction is "for the birds"? Well, if you have that mistaken notion (and you're not by yourself), we would like to show you something inspiring! It's an impervious home of solid brick with a lifetime white crushed marble roof with a host of flawless features. For example: 2 bedrooms and an unusual den with interior walls of brick; living room with a lavish Roman brick fireplace and walls-to-wall carpeting; central heating; aluminum frame windows; pine-paneled dining area and a compact, but well-arranged kitchen. It's new and on a 130 x150' corner lot on SANDEL DRIVE.

SHORT ON CASH?

Well, if that's the case and you'd like a home in one of Monroe's best northside neighborhoods, you're in luck . . . that is if you're eligible for a G. I. loan! For we've a honey on a 75'x150' corner lot with these dominating features: among its 1123 sq. feet: 2 large bedrooms . . . excellent taste in decoration throughout . . . 42" attic fan with auto. control and floor furnace . . . screened porch on the east side of house . . . double garage with metal, over-head doors. It's located at 707 "K" st. and $608 down is all it takes to move into this happy home! Wanta' look?

WANT A TIP?

Been struggling to find a "family" home in the college area without any luck? Well, here's the tip: We've such a comfortable home at 705 FILHIOL that will please the hardest to please with its abundance of comfortable features! Comfortable features, such as: 3 bedrooms, solid maple floors, tile bath with a tub and tile shower stall, large living room with an unusually large separate dining room, copper plumbing, also a garage with storeroom on the back. All of the above is on a 70'x150' lot, with an ageless pecan tree providing the shade all summer. $2500 down turns the key!

GOT THE URGE

To get away from the noise and the hubbub of city life? Well . . . if you've the urge, we've a happy home on an 81'x200' corner lot at 602 SPLANE DRIVE that will please you with its 900 sq. feet of floor space . . . its 3 comfortable bedrooms (one with a huge walk-in closet) . . . its separate living and dining room . . . its copper plumbing and 30 gal. water heater . . . its carport and attic fan. And "to boot" the lot is covered with trees and it's just a block to the Highland grammar school! $1274 down is all it takes to enjoy the above for a lifetime!

"IT'S SAD!"

For I made one family extremely happy for seven years, but they were transferred to another city, and now I'm vacant with no kids ringing the halls with laughter . . . no friends dropping by for a visit (we had lots of them) . . . no loving attention that the Mrs. used to give me every day. Why, I'm so lonesome I'd even like to hear the "old man" snore once again! So have a heart and just come look at my 3 bedrooms, my bath-and-a-half . . . my floor furnace & attic fan . . . my delightful breezeway . . . my large (7'x12') store room with washer plumbing and dryer connections . . . and my newly decorated interior, even if you don't buy me! I'm located on a corner lot at 323 STEWART in West Monroe . . . just a ½ a block to Mitchell Lane Grammar. $2300 down buys me!"

WHO CARES?

After all, who cares if this inviting home at 1102 COLE is on a 75' x 150' lot? Who cares for its 2 14'x14' bedrooms, or its attic fan, or its 1134 sq. feet of living area, or its side screened porch, or its enclosed utility porch with washer and dryer connections, or its new 30-gallon water heater, or its roomy kitchen with loads of cabinet space, or its garage with storeroom? Well . . . if you care and would like to see . . . WE CARE!

even to call about the down payment on most 3-bedroom homes you see advertised? Well, if that's the case how does this sound! DON'T LOOK BACK...

A few weeks from now and wish "like the devil" you had made this sensible purchase in an older home in a choice location. For, among the 1426 Sq. feet of this distinctive home is a "lotta livin' "! For example . . . there are three comfortable bedrooms; life-time slate roof; glass-lined water heater; separate living & dining room and there's a breakfast room. It's selling for the FHA appraised value of $9500 with only $1900 down! We'd welcome the opportunity of showing you 2004 JACKSON ST. today!

BREATH TAKING!

So adequately describes this home . . . one of the finest on the northside! Here's a home that combines the best of distinctiveness with worlds of comfort among its 2239 sq. feet and in all of its seven rooms. Distinctiveness, such as: imported chandeliers . . . imported Belgian marble for the fireplace . . . decoration by Friend-Piper. Comfort, such as: 3 spacious bedrooms (one with private tile bath) . . . 3 floor furnaces . . . 1½ ton air conditioning unit . . . appealing breezeway on the back . . . 113'x 150' corner lot . . . roomy, double carport . . . 2 tile baths . . . separate laundry room . . . and a host of other livable features. For something out of the ordinary, call for appointment to see this one!

SOUND SILLY?

A 6-room, 2-bedroom and 10'x15' paneled den home only 2½ years old for only $1300 down? It does, I'll admit, but we have "got the goods" at 1612 S. 4th! Goods, such as: 1,138 sq. feet of living area; 42" auto. shutter attic fan; floor furnace; large (14'x24') living room with fireplace; separate dining room; a captivating kitchen with washer plumbing, . . . stovehood and utility closet; glistening oak floors; and an oddity in modern construction . . . there are three back entrances! It's vacant. Wanta' look?

And monthly payments of as low as $47 per month plus loads of good livin' in every inch of all 812 sq. feet! Sounds like a dream, doesn't it and it almost is with its 2 bedrooms, its roomy (10'x15') kitchen with a serving bar and new water heater, its natural woodwork, its disappearing stair to attic and last, but not least . . . its sparkling hardwood floors! Every bit of the above can be found at 1304 S. 1st. It's vacant, too.

PEOPLE ARE CRAZY

For a reasonably priced, 3-bedroom & den home with location plus! There are few homes that can fit the above description. . . . but we've got one! Wanta' hear about it? Well . . . it's middle-aged (13 yrs. old) with 7-rooms . . . with a graceful living room and separate dining room; 3 bedrooms & den, or 4 bedrooms if you like; large aluminum screened porch; Venetian blinds; wallpaper in excellent condition; and last, but not least . . . all of the above is on an 83'x150' lot just a ½ block from Mitchell Lane grammar school and it's selling for a $1000 bucks less than FHA appraisal with only $1800 down!

WHO SAID...

Modern construction is "for the birds"? Well, if you have that mistaken notion (and you're not by yourself), we would like to show you something inspiring! It's an impervious home of solid brick with a lifetime white crushed marble roof with a host of flawless features. For example: 2 bedrooms and an unusual den with interior walls of brick; living room with a lavish Roman brick fireplace and wall-to-wall carpeting; central heating; aluminum frame windows; pine-paneled dining area and a compact, but well-arranged kitchen. It's new and on a 130'x150' corner lot on SANDEL DRIVE.

SHORT ON CASH?

Well, if that's the case and you'd like a home in one of Monroe's best northside neighborhoods, you're in luck . . . that is if you're eligible for a G. I. loan! For we've a honey on a 75'x150' corner lot with these dominating features: among its 1122 sq. feet: 2 large bedrooms . . . excellent taste in decoration throughout . . . 48" attic fan with auto. control and floor furnace . . . screened porch on the east side of house . . . double garage with metal, over-head doors. It's located at 707 "K" st. and $608 down is all it takes to move into this happy home! Wanta' look?

WANT A TIP?

Been struggling to find a "family" home in the college area without any luck? Well, here's the tip: We've such a comfortable home at 705 FILHIOL that will please the hardest to please with its abundance of comfortable features! Comfortable features, such as: 3 bedrooms, solid maple floors, tile bath with a tub and tile shower stall, large living room with an unusually large separate dining room, copper plumbing, also a garage with storeroom on the back. All of the above is on a 70'x150' lot, with an ageless pecan tree providing welcome shade all summer. $2500 down turns the key!

GOT THE URGE

To get away from the noise and the hubbub of city life? Well . . . if you've the urge, we've a happy home on an 81'x200' corner lot at 602 SPLANE DRIVE that will please you with its 900 sq. feet of floor space . . . its 2 comfortable bedrooms (one with a huge walk-in closet) . . . its separate living and dining room . . . its copper plumbing and 30 gal. water heater . . . its carport and attic fan. And "to boot" the lot is covered with trees and it's just a block to the Highland grammar school! $1274 down is all it takes to enjoy the above for a lifetime!

"IT'S SAD!"

For I made one family extremely happy for seven years, but they were transferred to another city, and now I'm vacant with no kids ringing the halls with laughter . . . no friends dropping by for a visit (we had lots of them) . . . no loving attention that the Mrs. used to give me every day. Why, I'm so lonesome I'd even like to hear the "old man" snore once again! So have a heart and just come look at my 3 bedrooms, my bath-and-a-half . . . my floor furnace & attic fan . . . my delightful breezeway . . . my large (7'x12') store room with washer plumbing and dryer connections . . . and my newly decorated interior, even if you don't buy me! I'm located on a corner lot at 322 STEWART in West Monroe . . . just a ½ a block to Mitchell Lane Grammar. $2300 down buys me!"

"PABLUM FED"

Here's the one home that I'll bet you a dollar you won't find a flaw for it's been cared for like a baby! You would enjoy such features as: the living room has fireplace with built-in bookcases on either side; floor furnace and attic fan; shining hardwood floors; garage with metal overhead door and large storeroom; side screened porch and it also has a termite contract! It's located at 1309 COLLEGE AVE. and only $926 down makes the move.

"I WISH I HAD!"

Don't be guilty of making that statement, when so much can be had for so little down payment. Only $950 down moves you into the nicest 2-bedroom and den home in West Monroe at 118 RIVERBEND with all its gay features. Such as: it's just been completely re-decorated . . . roomy kitchen with washer plumbing and nice cabinet space . . . floor furnace . . . attached garage with entrance into kitchen . . . venetian blinds . . . large storeroom . . . and all of the above is on a 75' lot. It's vacant so call for appointment now!

WHO CARES?

After all, who cares if this inviting home at 1102 COLE is on a 75' x 150' lot? Who cares for its 2 14'x14' bedrooms, or its separate living and dining room, or its attic fan, or its 1134 sq. feet of living area, or its side screened porch, or its enclosed utility porch with washer and dryer connections, or its new 30-gallon water heater, or its roomy kitchen with loads of cabinet space, or its garage with storeroom? Well . . . if you care and would like to see . . . WE CARE!

"WHAT'LL YOU HAVE?"

Reasonable down payment? Roomy (912 sq. feet) 2 - bedroom home just barely 7 years old? Attic fan and floor furnace: Walk-in closet in one bedroom? Unusually good taste is wallpaper throughout? Large kitchen with utility closet and serving bar? Roomy dining area? Aluminum window screens throughout? 220 volt wiring for air conditioning unit in bedroom? If you'd like any of the above, you'd adore 3104 GORDON AVE. for only $1050 down!

SCARED...

even to call about the down payment on most 3-bedroom homes you see advertised? Well, if that's the case how does this sound! Only $950 down buys an FHA built 3-bedroom home with 1132 sq. feet of floor space with these additional features: 30-gallon water heater; disappearing stair to attic; double closets in one bedroom; floor furnace with thermostat; front screened porch; has 3 outside aluminum awnings and 42" attic fan. It's an unusual buy and located at 1009 ARKANSAS ROAD!

LOTS OF LOT!

Just the peace of mind knowing that the young'uns can romp freely on this 75' x 150' well shaded lot on a dead-end street at 105 PECAN is worth the price alone. Not only a comfortable lot but also: 2 large bedrooms; both front and back screened porch; attic fan and roomy kitchen; and a one-car garage. It's selling for the FHA appraised value of $8250. Call for appointment today.

Next time you want to try some thing different in cake decorations, use tinted coconut. Half fill a glass jar with shredded coconut and sprinkle in a few drops of diluted coloring. Place cover on jar tightly and shake vigorously.

To prevent the wrapping from sticking to the icing of a frosted cake during freezer storage, try this: Bake the cake, frost it and put it into the freezer for a few hours. Then remove it from the freezer and wrap for storage.

Backschies-Oljar Vows Said In Afternoon Ceremony

Claiming wide interest in Monroe and vicinity was the wedding on Saturday afternoon, January 16 at 3 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, Seattle, Washington, of Miss Margaret Lee Backschies and Donald Lee Oljar. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Backschies, 6539 Windemere Road and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Francis Ojar, both of Seattle.

The bridal party took their places in front of the altar where massive arrangements of white gladioli and stock backed with palms and myriad candles burning in wrought iron candelabra were used for decorations. The aisles of the church were lined with tall white candles.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and was beautiful in a gown of blush delustered satin and lace with full train. A cap of lace held her veil of illusion and she carried a round bouquet of lily of the valley centered with a single white orchid on the satin covered missal. For sentiment she wore as something borrowed, a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Lloyd Nordstrom and the something old was a sunburst locket given her maternal grandmother on her wedding day.

Mrs. Willis Clarke Jr. was the matron of honor and Miss Virginia Rodrick the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Kay Armour of Portland, Oregon, Miss Judith Oljar, Mrs. Douglas Campbell, Mrs. Jack O. Neville, Miss Elizabeth Stone and Miss Jane Ponting of San Francisco. They were identically gowned in dresses of irridescent white taffeta with tucked bodices and full skirts. They wore white hats of matching fabric and white gloves and carried colonial baskets of garnet roses.

Next time you want to try some thing different in cake decorations, use tinted coconut. Half fill a glass jar with shredded coconut and sprinkle in a few drops of diluted coloring. Place cover on jar tightly and shake vigorously.

To prevent the wrapping from sticking to the icing of a frosted cake during freezer storage, try this: Bake the cake, frost it and put it into the freezer for a few hours. Then remove it from the freezer and wrap for storage.

'Early History' Photostats Presented To The Library By The Colonial Dames

The Monroe Committee of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America met Monday, Jan. 18 with Mrs. Charles Mitchell, hostess. A coffee hour was enjoyed preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Stanley Blower, chairman of patriotic service committee, was authorized to present American flags to the Girls Guard and Sunbeam Troop, both organizations of the Salvation Army; also to present a radio to a veteran's hospital.

In its work of historic activity, Mrs. James R. Wooten reported that a copy of the marriage records of Ouachita Parish from 1807-1840 had been sent to the state society to be housed in Tilton Memorial Library and that copies would be turned over to the Ouachita Parish Public Library together with sketches of the early history, "Colonial History of Monroe" by Jennie O'Kelly Mitchell and "Historical Data Concerning the Founding of the Town of Monroe" by May Lee Wooten. Mrs. Wooten also reported the following photostats concerning the early history were sent to the state society with copies retained in the Ouachita Parish Library:

1. A petition, in 1790, by the inhabitants and soldiers of the Ouachita post of the Territory of Orleans for the building of a fort as protection against the Indians. The reply of Don Juan Filhoil, commander of the post.
2. Copy of an original land grant.
3. A trade agreement.
4. Deed for the first school in this section of Louisiana.
5. Copy of the will of the first judge of Ouachita Parish, Judge Louis Lamy, dated October 7, 1811.
6. Copy of a deed of sale of land in Ouachita Parish in 1811 by Samuel McKeen of Maryland.
7. Abstract of the grant of Baron de Bastrop.
8. Earliest ownership map of the Ouachita Post.

Election of officers was held with the following slate elected to serve for the three ensuing years: Chairman, Mrs. David I. Garrett; vice president, Mrs. Robert Layton; recording secretary, Mrs. Gordon Wright; treasurer, Mrs. George Snellings; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Theus.

Present were Mrs. David I. Garrett, Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., Mrs. Guy P. Stubbs, Mrs. Allen Sholars, Mrs. Elmer C. Slagle, Mrs. John Theus, Mrs. Thomas Leigh, Mrs. James R. Wooten, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. E. T. Lamkin, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mrs. King Stubbs, and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Mitchell.

Girl Scout News

Next Saturday, remember, is one of the tree-planting days. Best not wait to plan for the 13th. If next week end should be rainy or bitter cold, there will still be another to fall back on. Mr. Gene Demmary is securing the pine trees for us, so there will be plenty of trees to plant. Of course, if a troop wants to bring a tree of its own, that will be fine.

Each girl should remember to take a permission slip to her leader, bring her own lunch and a drinking cup, wear warm clothes, a scarf for her head, and boots or galoshes if there's rain during the week. Some troops plan a cook out instead of bringing lunch. It's a good opportunity to do some of those out of door activities you've been needing to do—lashing, cooking, laying trails, using a compass.

Of course, there will be time to go on a hike or practice the flag ceremony. There will be outdoor fires for warmth and a fire in the fireplace inside, if needed.

Any troop may take part in the tree-planting — Brownie or Intermediate. Of course, if there are any trees not planted on the 6th or the 13th, they can be planted later—the 20th, perhaps.

We've been hearing that a number of troops have shown an interest in the "Kits for Korea" project. Sounds as if we might have a big pile of kits for the birthday celebration on March 7. February is international month in Girl Scouting and the very time for collecting pennies for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund and to learn about our sister Scouts in other lands.

Weren't we proud of the Scouts who appeared on the program at the council's annual dinner Tuesday night? Their talks were in their very own words, we're told. Certainly they pictured Scouting as probably no grown-up could.

Do you know who wrote the clever songs that were interspersed throughout the program? No other than Dot Breard, program chairman of the council.

That was a wonderful tribute Betty Davis paid to our executive director, Annis Klie, when she presented the 20 year pin. Annis, who started as a lone troop leader, and held almost every volunteer job in Scouting before deciding on the career of a professional, says the 20 year pin just proves how durable she is. At the drop of a hat, though, she'll tell you how much she enjoyed being a troop leader.

Betty Davis herself started out as leader of one of Monroe's first troops and deserves a lot of credit for what she has contributed in the ten years she has been with the organization. Betty's was the first ten-year pin to be presented by the local council.

Mattie Dean, Eva Claire Noland, Helen Hofler, and Lucy Webster received five-year pins, awarded by Mrs. Robert Easterling, a Scout of many years experience.

The council is still hearing complimentary remarks about the annual meeting. If you are a leader or a parent who missed it, make a mental note to attend next year's.

Don't forget the tree-planting next week end and the next.

Tindell-Bruner

FERRIDAY — Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bruner, of St. Joseph, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jean, to Lt. Norris L. Tindell, U. S. army air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tindell of Newellton. A summer wedding is planned.

To remove candle wax from table linens before you launder them, first scrape off as much as possible. Then remove the remaining grease with cleaning fluid and use mild chlorine if there's a persistent color stain.

Cleanliness Is Important To Your Toddler

Women from the age of two, are charmed by things that bear the exclusively feminine stamp. You might keep this in mind if you would interest your feminine toddler in the use of soap and water.

Let her feel that she is acting like a grown-up beauty.

Instead of offering her soap, face cloth and towel, give her her own body brush, bath mitt, nail and complexion brushes. A novelty toothbrush is also good insurance for after-meal brushing.

To add appeal to these items, you might make them into a package to present as a special gift. Wrap it in pretty paper and ribbon to complete the glamor touch.

Of course, as much as they love acting grownup, little girls can't resist fun with soapsuds. If you show your youngster how to smooth the suds across her mouth and exhale gently to create bubbles, she'll have a wonderful time and get her face clean in the process.

You might also extend the adult atmosphere to shampoo time, though, of course, this will be your responsibility for some while. For instance, your daughter will love having her curls lathered above a plastic shield that will keep the soap out of her eyes.

Then she won't mind at all having her hair washed as often as once a week. And you will be starting her out right on the sound practice of the weekly shampoo.

Now's Time To Slim Legs

It is not solely a male viewpoint that trim ankles are a beauty asset. Fashionable women realize that heavy ankles throw the nicest figure off balance, creating a very awkward appearance.

Fortunately, no one has to endure such a situation. There are numerous exercises that will reduce the ankles as much as three inches within three months.

So, if heavy ankles are your problem, teen-agers, get with the exercise mat. Don't hope that nature will be kind in time. The flesh will only settle more firmly while you hope in vain. Meantime, you will feel mighty awkward in the slim-line dresses that are destined for popularity in coming months.

Here are three very simple exercises that will show amazing results if you are faithful to them:

1. Wring the flesh around the ankles as though it were a rag. Do this for several minutes a few times a day.
2. Slap the ankles with your fists until they are pink. Slap upward, as far as your legs need reducing. Do not slap downward.
3. Lying on back with right leg raised and ankle and knee relaxed, make a circle out from ankle 10 times with toes. Then make 10 circles with ankle of left leg. Do this exercise two or three times a day, gradually working up to at least 200 circles each day.

Tin utensils should be protected against rust when not in use for a long period of time. They should, therefore, be coated with a thin film of oil.

Play Down Poor Points

Before a girl decides to capitalize on a good feature she ought to consider other features that will accidentally come into the limelight with it.

This was brought sharply to mind recently when we observed a girl who, in wearing yellow pumps, was obviously calling attention to her rather attractive legs.

Apparently, she was unaware of, or was ignoring, the unfortunate fact that she was very flat-footed. The east and westerly directions her feet took actually arrested one's eyes. The flat feet completely detracted from the allure of her legs.

The woman whose feet are big, either in length or width, should never wear light-colored shoes. She should keep them discreetly in the background by wearing black, navy or brown, regardless of the current color trend.

Shoes that feature considerable ornamentation should also be left to the girl blessed with well-shaped feet. The wearers of the plain, dark pumps can find consolation in other accessories of more elaborate design to point up real assets.

And the flat-footed women in the group certainly should consult their doctors about the problem.

If you need an extra stand in your bedroom but don't wish to spend too much money for it, why not ask your grocer for an empty orange crate and cover it with some inexpensive cloth or plastic material?

Protecting your furs from friction will prolong their beauty and their service to you. Keep them from rubbing against chair backs, don't sit on them and don't carry bundles that will rub against them. When you have errands to do or long distances to drive, leave your furs in your closet.

Scarves are highly useful accessories. In addition to being decorative, they'll keep necklines of your suits and dresses clean much longer and will help prevent neckline wear and tear.

'Early History' Photostats Presented To The Library By The Colonial Dames

The Monroe Committee of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America met Monday, Jan. 18 with Mrs. Charles Mitchell, hostess. A coffee hour was enjoyed preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Stanley Blower, chairman of patriotic service committee, was authorized to present American flags to the Girls Guard and Sunbeam Troop, both organizations of the Salvation Army; also to present a radio to a veteran's hospital.

In its work of historic activity, Mrs. James R. Wooten reported that a copy of the marriage records of Ouachita Parish from 1807-1840 had been sent to the state society to be housed in Tilton Memorial Library and that copies would be turned over to the Ouachita Parish Public Library together with sketches of the early history, "Colonial History of Monroe" by Jennie O'Kelly Mitchell and "Historical Data Concerning the Founding of the Town of Monroe" by May Lee Wooten. Mrs. Wooten also reported the following photostats concerning the early history were sent to the state society with copies retained in the Ouachita Parish Library:

1. A petition, in 1790, by the inhabitants and soldiers of the Ouachita post of the Territory of Orleans for the building of a fort as protection against the Indians. The reply of Don Juan Filhoil, commander of the post.
2. Copy of an original land grant.
3. A trade agreement.
4. Deed for the first school in this section of Louisiana.
5. Copy of the will of the first judge of Ouachita Parish, Judge Louis Lamy, dated October 7, 1811.
6. Copy of a deed of sale of land in Ouachita Parish in 1811 by Samuel McKeen of Maryland.
7. Abstract of the grant of Baron de Bastrop.

Election of officers was held with the following slate elected to serve for the three ensuing years: Chairman, Mrs. David I. Garrett; vice president, Mrs. Robert Layton; recording secretary, Mrs. Gordon Wright; treasurer, Mrs. George Snellings; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Theus.

Present were Mrs. David I. Garrett, Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., Mrs. Guy P. Stubbs, Mrs. Allen Sholars, Mrs. Elmer C. Slagle, Mrs. John Theus, Mrs. Thomas Leigh, Mrs. James R. Wooten, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. E. T. Lamkin, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mrs. King Stubbs, and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Mitchell.

Girl Scout News

Next Saturday, remember, is one of the tree-planting days. Best not wait to plan for the 13th. If next week end should be rainy or bitter cold, there will still be another to fall back on. Mr. Gene Demmary is securing the pine trees for us, so there will be plenty of trees to plant. Of course, if a troop wants to bring a tree of its own, that will be fine.

Each girl should remember to take a permission slip to her leader, bring her own lunch and a drinking cup, wear warm clothes, a scarf for her head, and boots or galoshes if there's rain during the week. Some troops plan a cook out instead of bringing lunch. It's a good opportunity to do some of those out of door activities you've been needing to do—lashing, cooking, laying trails, using a compass.

Of course, there will be time to go on a hike or practice the flag ceremony. There will be outdoor fires for warmth and a fire in the fireplace inside, if needed.

Any troop may take part in the tree-planting — Brownie or Intermediate. Of course, if there are any trees not planted on the 6th or the 13th, they can be planted later—the 20th, perhaps.

We've been hearing that a number of troops have shown an interest in the "Kits for Korea" project. Sounds as if we might have a big pile of kits for the birthday celebration on March 7. February is international month in Girl Scouting and the very time for collecting pennies for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund and to learn about our sister Scouts in other lands.

Weren't we proud of the Scouts who appeared on the program at the council's annual dinner Tuesday night? Their talks were in their very own words, we're told. Certainly they pictured Scouting as probably no grown-up could.

Do you know who wrote the clever songs that were interspersed throughout the program? No other than Dot Breard, program chairman of the council.

That was a wonderful tribute Betty Davis paid to our executive director, Annis Klie, when she presented the 20 year pin. Annis, who started as a lone troop leader, and held almost every volunteer job in Scouting before deciding on the career of a professional, says the 20 year pin just proves how durable she is. At the drop of a hat, though, she'll tell you how much she enjoyed being a troop leader.

Betty Davis herself started out as leader of one of Monroe's first troops and deserves a lot of credit for what she has contributed in the ten years she has been with the organization. Betty's was the first ten-year pin to be presented by the local council.

Mattie Dean, Eva Claire Noland, Helen Hofler, and Lucy Webster received five-year pins, awarded by Mrs. Robert Easterling, a Scout of many years experience.

The council is still hearing complimentary remarks about the annual meeting. If you are a leader or a parent who missed it, make a mental note to attend next year's.

Tindell-Bruner

FERRIDAY — Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bruner, of St. Joseph, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jean, to Lt. Norris L. Tindell, U. S. army air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tindell of Newellton. A summer wedding is planned.

To remove candle wax from table linens before you launder them, first scrape off as much as possible. Then remove the remaining grease with cleaning fluid and use mild chlorine if there's a persistent color stain.

Cleanliness Is Important To Your Toddler

Women from the age of two, are charmed by things that bear the exclusively feminine stamp. You might keep this in mind if you would interest your feminine toddler in the use of soap and water.

Let her feel that she is acting like a grown-up beauty.

Instead of offering her soap, face cloth and towel, give her her own body brush, bath mitt, nail and complexion brushes. A novelty toothbrush is also good insurance for after-meal brushing.

To add appeal to these items, you might make them into a package to present as a special gift. Wrap it in pretty paper and ribbon to complete the glamor touch.

Of course, as much as they love acting grownup, little girls can't resist fun with soapsuds. If you show your youngster how to smooth the suds across her mouth and exhale gently to create bubbles, she'll have a wonderful time and get her face clean in the process.

You might also extend the adult atmosphere to shampoo time, though, of course, this will be your responsibility for some while. For instance, your daughter will love having her curls lathered above a plastic shield that will keep the soap out of her eyes.

Then she won't mind at all having her hair washed as often as once a week. And you will be starting her out right on the sound practice of the weekly shampoo.

Now's Time To Slim Legs

It is not solely a male viewpoint that trim ankles are a beauty asset. Fashionable women realize that heavy ankles throw the nicest figure off balance, creating a very awkward appearance.

Fortunately, no one has to endure such a situation. There are numerous exercises that will reduce the ankles as much as three inches within three months.

So, if heavy ankles are your problem, teen-agers, get with the exercise mat. Don't hope that nature will be kind in time. The flesh will only settle more firmly while you hope in vain. Meantime, you will feel mighty awkward in the slim-line dresses that are destined for popularity in coming months.

Here are three very simple exercises that will show amazing results if you are faithful to them:

1. Wring the flesh around the ankles as though it were a rag. Do this for several minutes a few times a day.
2. Slap the ankles with your fists until they are pink. Slap upward, as far as your legs need reducing. Do not slap downward.
3. Lying on back with right leg raised and ankle and knee relaxed, make a circle out from ankle 10 times with toes. Then make 10 circles with ankle of left leg. Do this exercise two or three times a day, gradually working up to at least 200 circles each day.

Tin utensils should be protected against rust when not in use for a long period of time. They should, therefore, be coated with a thin film of oil.

Play Down Poor Points

Before a girl decides to capitalize on a good feature she ought to consider other features that will accidentally come into the limelight with it.

This was brought sharply to mind recently when we observed a girl who, in wearing yellow pumps, was obviously calling attention to her rather attractive legs.

Apparently, she was unaware of, or was ignoring, the unfortunate fact that she was very flat-footed. The east and westerly directions her feet took actually arrested one's eyes. The flat feet completely detracted from the allure of her legs.

The woman whose feet are big, either in length or width, should never wear light-colored shoes. She should keep them discreetly in the background by wearing black, navy or brown, regardless of the current color trend.

Shoes that feature considerable ornamentation should also be left to the girl blessed with well-shaped feet. The wearers of the plain, dark pumps can find consolation in other accessories of more elaborate design to point up real assets.

And the flat-footed women in the group certainly should consult their doctors about the problem.

If you need an extra stand in your bedroom but don't wish to spend too much money for it, why not ask your grocer for an empty orange crate and cover it with some inexpensive cloth or plastic material?

Protecting your furs from friction will prolong their beauty and their service to you. Keep them from rubbing against chair backs; don't sit on them and don't carry bundles that will rub against them. When you have errands to do or long distances to drive, leave your furs in your closet.

Scarves are highly useful accessories. In addition to being decorative, they'll keep necklines of your suits and dresses clean much longer and will help prevent neckline wear and tear.

A cake fashioned with steps and topped by miniature figurines of a bride and groom centered the dining table. The bridal path was outlined with pink roses. Pink perfection camellias surrounded the cake and extended the length of the table.

Those enjoying the occasion with the bride and hostesses were: Miss Anna Stokes, Miss Elizabeth Ann Doane, Mrs. John Fluitt, Miss Betty Jo Roach, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. H. F. Shepard, Miss Maretta Heidenreich.

Tea Shower

A lovely tea shower in the home of Mrs. W. W. Stevens on Columbia avenue hosted by Mrs. Stevens, M.s. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. W. M. Love and Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap feted the bride on Friday.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Stevens. Mrs. H. F. Shepard, mother of the bride Mrs G. M. Heidenreich, the bridegroom's mother, and the bride stood in the receiving line with the hostesses.

In the living room, a copper bowl of red camellias adorned the mantel. Other arrangements of red camellias were placed at vantage points throughout the room.

The dining table was centered with a miniature bride and groom surrounded by a ring container filled with pink camellias and trailing ivy. On each side were slender pink tapers in crystal candle holders.

Mrs. Herbert Walker presided at the coffee service. Assisting in the courtesies were Miss Elizabeth Doane, Miss Patsy Doane, Miss Anna Stokes and Miss Harrietta Pritchard.

Kitchen Shower

Miss Elizabeth Ann Doane, Miss Anna Stokes and Miss Betty Jo Roach feted the former Frances Shepard at a kitchen shower in the home of Mrs. Pearl Reynolds in Edgewater Gardens.

Assisting with the shower were Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. J. D. Roach and Miss Patsy Doane.

Refreshments were served buffet style to the following: Mrs. Heidenreich, Miss Alma Ford, Miss Charlotte Holloway, Mrs. J. W. Richards, Jr., Mrs. Richard Morrison, Miss Katherine Guerriero, Mrs. Billy McClendon, Mrs. John Loy Fluitt, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. H. F. Shepard, Mrs. J. D. Low Prices Mark New Furniture

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The homemaker's problems and purse are the center of a flattering amount of attention from furniture designers and manufacturers.

As a matter of fact, some of the best designs I saw were aimed at moderate incomes and average families. You'll see in stores this spring less emphasis on tricks and gadgets and more on practical, handsome design.

You'll also see less flashiness and more attention to fine workmanship and details of hardware and upholstery. Emphasis is placed on wider use of a variety of materials and colors and designs that can blend in any interior.

I was glad to see materials such as plastic laminates, brass, steel, tone, leather, iron and glass used with such versatility. Cabinets, for example, in one low-priced group, are made entirely of melamine laminate (a rigid, tough plastic) in a tawny finish.

These cabinets, finished on all sides, are designed to be stacked as room dividers, spread out as wall storage or put together to suit a special need.

The same laminate is used for the wide variety of tables in this series, including a game table with built-in checkerboard. Framework for chairs and tables in the line is ebonized wrought steel.

Yielding not an inch in elegant appearance to more expensive cousins, another outstanding group in hard rock maple features buffets and servers scaled down to fit smaller rooms and finished on all sides so that they may be used as room dividers.

Walnut and cherry in warmtoned finishes, birch, mahogany and hard rock maple are popular. Deepertoned finishes are dull and handrubbed to show off the graining.

Upholstered couches and chairs are so deep, so soft, that they're an open invitation to sleep. Fine upholstery materials in silk, nylon and linen, sometimes shot with metallic threads, add beauty to the comfortable furnishings.

Colors hit the eye, brightening the rooms--blues from clear turquoise to deep purply tones, pinks of all shades, melon tints, and green and gold brighten the rooms.

To thaw a frozen cake, place it on a cake rack in its freezer wrapping and keep it at room temperature. An eight-inch, two-layer, frosted cake will thaw in three to four hours at average room temperature.

If you are a busy housewife, a rolling cart might help to conserve your energy. Use it for taking laundry from hamper to tub to line and for carrying cleaning equipment from one room to another.

MISS MARY ALICE PARKER'S engagement and approaching marriage to Johnny King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. King of Sterlington, is announced today by her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Parker of Jonesboro. The wedding will be an event of February 5 at the First Presbyterian Church.

Richards, Jr., and Mrs. C. B. Fluitt were hostesses at an informal dinner party in the Batton home on College Avenue Thursday night.

Red camellias were used over the fireplace in the living room. A large bouquet of pink gladioli also enchanced the room.

A cake fashioned with steps and topped by miniature figurines of a bride and groom centered the dining table. The bridal path was outlined with pink roses. Pink perfection camellias surrounded the cake and extended the length of the table.

Those enjoying the occasion with the bride and hostesses were: Miss Anna Stokes, Miss Elizabeth Ann Doane, Mrs. John Fluitt, Miss Betty Jo Roach, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. H. F. Shepard, Miss Maretta Heidenreich.

Tea Shower

A lovely tea shower in the home of Mrs. W. W. Stevens on Columbia avenue hosted by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. W. M. Love and Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap feted the bride on Friday.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. H. F. Shepard, mother of the bride, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, the bridegroom's mother, and the bride stood in the receiving line with the hostesses.

In the living room, a copper bowl of red camellias adorned the mantel. Other arrangements of red camellias were placed at vantage points throughout the room.

The dining table was centered with a miniature bride and groom surrounded by a ring container filled with pink camellias and trailing ivy. On each side were slender pink tapers in crystal candle holders.

Mrs. Herbert Walker presided at the coffee service. Assisting in the courtesies were Miss Elizabeth Doane, Miss Patsy Doane, Miss Anna Stokes and Miss Harrietta Pritchard.

Low Prices Mark New Furniture

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The homemaker's problems and purse are the center of a flattering amount of attention from furniture designers and manufacturers.

As a matter of fact, some of the best designs I saw were aimed at moderate incomes and average families. You'll see in stores this spring less emphasis on tricks and gadgets and more on practical, handsome design.

You'll also see less flashiness and more attention to fine workmanship and details of hardware and upholstery. Emphasis is placed on wider use of a variety of materials and colors and designs that can blend in any interior.

I was glad to see materials such as plastic laminates, brass, steel, tone, leather, iron and glass used with such versatility. Cabinets, for example, in one low-priced group, are made entirely of melamine laminate (a rigid, tough plastic) in a tawny finish.

These cabinets, finished on all sides, are designed to be stacked as room dividers, spread out as wall storage or put together to suit a special need.

The same laminate is used for the wide variety of tables in this series, including a game table with built-in checkerboard. Framework for chairs and tables in the line is ebonized wrought steel.

Yielding not an inch in elegant appearance to more expensive cousins, another outstanding group in hard rock maple features buffets and servers scaled down to fit smaller rooms and finished on all sides so that they may be used as room dividers.

White and black-lacquered finishes, which because of improved techniques are easy to keep gleaming, makers say, crop up all along the price scale.

Walnut and cherry in warmtoned finishes, birch, mahogany and hard rock maple are popular. Deepertoned finishes are dull and hand-rubbed to show off the graining.

Upholstered couches and chairs are so deep, so soft, that they're an open invitation to sleep. Fine upholstery materials in silk, nylon and linen, sometimes shot with metallic threads, add beauty to the comfortable furnishings.

Colors hit the eye, brightening the rooms—blues from clear turquoise to deep purply tones, pinks of all shades, melon tints, and green and gold brighten the rooms.

To thaw a frozen cake, place it on a cake rack in its freezer wrapping and keep it at room temperature. An eight-inch, two-layer, frosted cake will thaw in three to four hours at average room temperature.

If you are a busy housewife, a rolling cart might help to conserve your energy. Use it for taking laundry from hamper to tub to line and for carrying cleaning equipment from one room to another.

Miss Noyes Plans April Wedding

FERRIDAY — Colonel and Mrs. Edgar Turner Noyes, Ret., of San Antonio, Tex., announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Luella to Frederick Smith Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wesley Berry of St. Joseph.

Miss Noyes is now attending the University of Texas, where she is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Berry is also attending the University of Texas in Austin, and he is a member of the Delta Nu Alpha transportation fraternity.

The wedding will take place on April 17 at Kelly Air Force Base Chapel in San Antonio, Tex.

Skin Requires Pampering In The Winter

While the career woman usually can limit her excursions into the outdoors, the housewife must contend with frequent trips outside to hang the wash, to supervise the children's play and to do her marketing.

In addition, doing dishes and laundry keeps her hands in water a good part of the day. And housecleaning necessitates frequent face scrubbings.

So, the busier she is, the more she is in need of a special skincare program, if, like most American women, her skin is dry. Naturally, she is inclined to think that she just doesn't have the time for such a program.

Yet, if she is willing to formulate a plan, she will find that it takes only a few minutes a day to care for her skin.

For example, if she keeps small bottles of hand lotion in strategic spots around the house, it will be no trouble to give her hands a protective coating before exposing them to water or weather. Very sensitive hands will greedily consume as much lubrication as one remembers to give them.

Cleaning time is perfect for treating one's face to extra lubrication. Not only will the covering continue the softening action of the night cream, but will also serve to prevent flying dust from penetrating the pores.

Incidentally, this is also the ideal time for all - around beauty care. Women who complain of the boredom of housecleaning might find it less irksome if they were to use the time to improve their appearance.

While the cream or lotion is working on the face, the housewife can do her dusting, using motions that will tone her stomach, waist and leg muscles. And before starting her big weekly cleaning, she might wash and set her hair.

Thus the hair is safely tucked away from the dust and her husband is spared the sight of the various stages from shampooing to pin curling.

With just a bit of extra effort, the housewife can plan her day so that both she and her home are looking their best when the man of the house returns in the evening.

A few short rest periods throughout the day are the best help to efficiency. Going without a stop from breakfast to dinner will leave one only exhausted and irritable. And probably less will have been accomplished.

After the dinner preparations are under way, a quick shower will do wonders to refresh both body and spirit. But it shouldn't be taken so hurriedly that the important skin beauty ritual is neglected.

Take just two minutes to apply a soothing lotion all over your body. The maker of a complete line of lanolin - rich preparations says that its body lotion will spread on easily and will quickly penetrate when applied before the skin is completely dry.

Musical Coterie Meets In Mrs. Estelle Sanders' Home

The Musical Coterie met last Friday in the home of Mrs. Estelle Sanders. The president, Mrs. F. V. Allison opened the meeting and presided at the short business session.

Mrs. L. J. Hays reviewed the achievements of two composers. The first, John Field, was known as the Russian Field to distinguish him from Henry Field, the Field of Bath. He is especially noted for his nocturnes, which have withstood the wear of time surprisingly well. No doubt Chopin's high estimation of them and adoption of the title for some of his most beautiful creations have perpetuated their fame. Liszt, too edited them with a laudatory preface. To a modern pianist who is aware of Chopin and Liszt the name of John Field recalls little or nothing beyond Field's nocturnes. Both as a player and as a composer Chopin and with him all modern pianists, are much indebted to Field. Mr. Hutcheson says, "Field's claim to our admiration may seem slim, but it was no small achievement to invent the nocturne type and to name it so happily."

The second composer reviewed was Carl Maria Von Weber. His greatest contribution was in the field of opera. Weber's Der Freischultz is still hummed and whistled in the villages of Germany. His compositions for the piano are difficult and florid. Of his five piano compositions, Mr. Hutcheson places the Invitation to the Dance as first and Momento Capriccioso as second.

Mrs. James E. Murphy played "Nocturne, No. 5" in B flat by Field;

Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., "Invitation to the Dance," by Weber;

Mrs. Everett Zeagler, "Momento Capriccioso, Op. 12' by Weber.

Members present were: Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. James G. Caldwell, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., Mrs. L. Jack Hays, Mrs. E. F. Hayward, Jr., Mrs. H. L. Johns, Mrs. Hugh G. McDonald, Mrs. James E. Murphy, Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. Henry Whitfield, Mrs. Felix J. Wiley, Mrs. Bobby Wilson, Mrs. Everett Zeagler.

Dr. Thompson To Be Guest Speaker Here

On Tuesday the Women of the First Presbyterian Church will meet in Fellowship Hall for the general program meeting. Dr. H. H. Thompson, formerly director of the assembly's committee on evangelism and now pastor of the Presbyterian church of Ruston will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Thompson's message will be based on "The World Church," the heritage of our world Christian community.

Mrs. C. Bassett Guest Speaker In Ruston

RUSTON, Women members of the Ruston Presbyterian Church and their guests were addressed here Monday night at the church by Mrs. Clarence M. Bassett, wife of a Presbyterian (southern) missionary to Mexico and herself a missionary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bassett have been spending a few days in Ruston, where they have been entertained by various members of the local congregation, which helps support them. They are on a year's furlough, which is nearing its close.

In her interesting talk to women's group, Mrs. Bassett, who was introduced by the evening's program chairman, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Jr., spoke of the importance of the church's Christian and secular educational program for women and girls in Mexico.

Mrs. Bassett, the daughter of Mexican missionaries and a vivacious speaker, who speaks English with a slight accent, emphasized the fact that in spite of many difficulties, arising from poverty and other harkships, numbers of Mexican girls are seeking the advantages to be obtained in the Presbyterian Student Home Schools to which the Ruston church contributes.

These schools where they live, worship and study afford the students protection against the possibility of being stolen by men seeking wives, as well as give the girls an education, according to the speaker.

Harkey, Jr., Monroe attorney, was chosen the winner of Moses Shelby Chapter, D.A.R., Good Citizenship Pilgrimage contest. Mrs. C. R. Evans and Mrs. W. M. Knobles were committee members conducting the contest. The announcement was made at the January meeting of which Mrs. Evans was hostess. Musical Coterie Meets In Mrs. Estelle Sanders' Home

The Musical Coterie met last Friday in the home of Mrs. Estelle Sanders. The president, Mrs. F. V. Allison opened the meeting and presided at the short business session.

Mrs. L. J. Hays reviewed the achievements of two composers. The first, John Field, was known as the Russian Field to distinguish him from Henry Field, the Field of Bath. He is especially noted for his nocturnes, which have withstood the wear of time surprisingly well. No doubt Chopin's high estimation of them and adoption of the title for some of his most beautiful creations have perpetuated their fame. Liszt, too edited them with a laudatory preface. To a modern pianist who is aware of Chopin and Liszt the name of John Field recalls little or nothing beyond Field's nocturnes. Both as a player and as a composer Chopin and with him all modern pianists, are much indebted to Field. Mr. Hutcheson says, "Field's claim to our admiration may seem slim, but it was no small achievement to invent the nocturne type and to name it so happily."

The second composer reviewed was Carl Maria Von Weber. His greatest contribution was in the field of opera. Weber's Der Freischultz is still hummed and whistled in the villages of Germany. His compositions for the piano are difficult and florid. Of his five piano compositions, Mr. Hutcheson places the Invitation to the Dance as first and Momento Capriccioso as second.

Mrs. James E. Murphy played "Nocturne, No. 5" in B flat by Field;

Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., "Invitation to the Dance," by Weber;

Dr. Thompson To Be Guest Speaker Here

On Tuesday the Women of the First Presbyterian Church will meet in Fellowship Hall for the general program meeting. Dr. H. H. Thompson, formerly director of the assembly's committee on evangelism and now pastor of the Presbyterian church of Ruston will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Thompson's message will be based on "The World Church," the heritage of our world Christian community.

Your furs should never be dried out near a radiator. Shake them until they are fluffy, then dry them in an open place that's away from heat or direct sunlight.

Mrs. C. Bassett Guest Speaker In Ruston

RUSTON, Women members of the Ruston Presbyterian Church and their guests were addressed here Monday night at the church by Mrs. Clarence M. Bassett, wife of a Presbyterian (southern) missionary to Mexico and herself a missionary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bassett have been spending a few days in Ruston, where they have been entertained by various members of the local congregation, which helps support them. They are on a year's furlough, which is nearing its close.

In her interesting talk to women's group, Mrs. Bassett, who was introduced by the evening's program chairman, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Jr., spoke of the importance of the church's Christian and secular educational program for women and girls in Mexico.

Mrs. Bassett, the daughter of Mexican missionaries and a vivacious speaker, who speaks English with a slight accent, emphasized the fact that in spite of many difficulties, arising from poverty and other harkships, numbers of Mexican girls are seeking the advantages to be obtained in the Presbyterian Student Home Schools to which the Ruston church contributes.

These schools where they live, worship and study afford the students protection against the possibility of being stolen by men seeking wives, as well as give the girls an education, according to the speaker.

Kitchen Desk Does Double Duty

Finding desk and drawer space for the home manager is no easy trick in today's homes where every inch of space counts. Many model kitchens are designed to include such "planning centers" which incorporate a desk, bookshelves, telephone and so on.

I like the idea, but most of us just can't give over several square feet in the busiest room in the house to the exclusive use of a desk which may be used only an hour a day.

One way to solve the dilemma is to have your desk double as extra serving space or kitchen table between "planning" or bill-paying sessions.

You can do this by giving an old or unfinished wood desk a tough, new, plastic top which laughs off such marring agents as spilled food and liquids, hot dishes, ordinary wear and tear from utensils, pots and pans, soaps or greases.

This new plastic material is flexible and comes in rolls 30 inches wide, so you buy only what you need. A friend of mine, who used it on a desk which doubles as a server between kitchen and dinette, says it's easy to work with because it is flexible.

The adhesive on the back of the material must be activated with a special liquid. To glue a sheet into place, you brush two coats of the activator on the clean, dry, desk top, letting each coat dry thoroughly.

Then you brush the activator on the back of the plastic. Next you smooth down the plastic. Next you smooth down the plastic with hand pressure, making sure it's firm and square on the desk top.

If the material is slightly wider than the desk, or overhangs the ends an inch or two, you can trim off the excess after gluing.

To do this, poke an ice pick through from the underside to indicate the desk edge. Make several punches to give you a "dotted" line to follow. Next, draw a straight line and break off excess material with your fingers.

How To Seek Best Bargain

If you are considering doing so, make the very best of your bargain. Before setting out on your shopping expedition, decide on the type of fur that will be most becoming to you.

Tall, slim women will find medium, long-haired or very long-haired furs, such as fox, becoming.

Plan to take at least one day to look around before making your decision. You can learn a great deal simply by looking. Look for fur that is bright and lustrous, uniform in color, texture and depth.

King - Davis Vows Pledged

Miss Betty Anne Davis and Mr. Hugh Randolph King were united in marriage at the First Methodist Church of Sterlington at five o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. C. W. Jones, pastor, officiated in the impressive double ring ceremony marked with beautiful simplicity and quiet dignity.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Davis of Sterlington and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. King, Sr., also of Sterlington.

A program of prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. Alpha Dickey and Mr. Jerry Futrel who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridal party took their places at the alter beneath an improvised arch entwined with southern smilax and white flowers. Tall baskets of white stock and carnations interspersed with ferns were placed on each side of the arch against a background of greenery reflected by branched candelabra with white tapers.

The groom's only attendant was Airman Jimmy Maxey of Barksdale Field, formerly of Sterlington. Messrs. Harlan Edmiston and Billy Ray Stewart served as ushers and candle lighters.

The brides table, covered with a linen cutwork cloth, was centered by a lovely arrangement of pink carnations and maidenhair fern accented with white tapers in silver candelabra. The tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds was placed at one end of the table and the punch bowl at the other. Mrs. Marvin Wright presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. John Broyles served the cake. They were assisted by Mrs. Monroe Alford and Mrs. Jeff Roswell.

Mrs. Harold Boyd presided at the guest book.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holstead and daughters of Port Arthur, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Holstead and son, Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Land Calhoun, Mrs. Milton Calhoun and daughter, Choudrant; Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Crocker, West Monroe; Mrs. Kermit Kennedy, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Gates and children, Rochelle; and Mr. and Mrs. C. Roamin' In The Rural

Are you planting a tree this year? If it is a pecan select a Stuart, Schley, Jennings, or Elliott. These varieties are recommended by L. S. U. extension service for north Louisiana.

A good soil is basically essential to any good garden, whether vegetables or flowers. You will save time, energy and money if you take time to improve it. Use well rotted unleached barnyard manure or compost and mix it in the soil well before you plant. Gladiolus may be planted now. If you have many corms you may want to plant some every two weeks through March to have blooms over a long period.

Plant dahlia tubers. Stake at time of planting so as not to injure tubers later. (Mimeographed material is available by calling 3-2251.)

Prune evergreen shrubs and late summer and fall flowering shrubs now. Use all the good wood for making cuttings. Share surplus with your neighbor. She may have some to swap with you. Do not prune spring flowering shrubs such as forsythia, yellow jasmine, deutzia, spirea, etc., now - wait until after the blooming season. Take time to care for your shrubs - a well groomed shrub is as important to the appearance of your garden as a good haircut is to you.

Prune rose bushes late in February or March in north Louisiana. Consult bulletin "Roses for the Yard," page 12, on fertilizer recommendations. February is the time to fertilize roses.

The flower seeds may be sown this month are: petunias, pinks, calendula, snap dragon, gypsophila, feverfew, phlox, lobelia, cornflower, nasturtium, salvia, larkspur, four o'clock, early cosmos, sweet alyssum, forget - me - not, and African golden daisy.

If you are going to add shrubs to your planting, it would be helpful to visit your nurseryman and see the plants that you might use. Each year nurserymen get new kinds and varieties. These would make your planting more interesting. Don't forget some late spring and summer blooming shrubs as weigela rosea (weigela), punica granatum (flowering pomegranite), philadelphus coronarius (mock orange), lantana camara (lantana), deutzia gracilis (deutzia), lagerstremia indica (crepe myrtle), buddleia davidi (butterfly bash), hibiscus syriacus (althea), abelia grandiflora (abelia), nerium oleander (oleander), malvaviscus (turk's cap), and vitex agnus - castus (chaste tree)

Slip Cover Workshop

Bishop Sheen in his television program Tuesday stated, "Work which produced satisfactory results brings happiness to the individual." The truth of the statement was proven by the Ouachita Parish women who took home a chair with a lovely slip cover — made by her and her team mate. These homemakers worked under the supervision of Mrs. Jessie Hill, L. S. U. extension specialist in housing and house furnishings. Those participating in the workshop were: Mrs. Lee Wilder and Mrs. Cleburn White, Cadeville Club; Mrs. Scott Horton and Mrs. T. T. Jones, Watson Club; Mrs. Inez Spangler and Mrs. Myers, McClendon Club; Mrs. Clara Moore, Progressive Club; Mrs. H. W. Gill, Mrs. Victor Boyd and Mrs. E. W. Earl, Colony Club; Mrs. Will Davis and Mrs. Thelma Frost, Cheniere Club; Mrs. W. J. Dunn, Mrs. Ouida Jones, and Mrs. J. M. Adams, Claiborne Club; Mrs. L. R. McClain and Mrs. S. O. Sharp, Sterlington Club; and Mrs. O. H. Guyton and Mrs. J. W. Wallace not club members; and Mrs. J. L. Joyner and Mrs. Lucy Whitlock, Lenwil Club.

We wish to thank the sewing machine people, Mr. Naff and Mr. and Mrs. Hortman for their splendid cooperation. It would have not been possible to do this work without their machines. Thanks a million.

See you next Sunday.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been keeping steady company with a girl who is all I ever looked for in a girl. I am twice her age (40) but she thinks I am only 10 or 11 years older than she is. I have never told her that I love her (which I do), and although she has never told me that she loves me I know that I am the gleam in her eye. I think too much of her to hurt her in any way. Now, my problem: Should I tell her the truth about myself or just try to forget her? — All Confused.

Coward. Certainly, tell her the truth and let her judge whether she wants to be tied to a man twice her age. She probably will. It isn't too difficult to get a young girl to fall for an "older" man (pardon me) and she probably has fallen.

You might be the gleam in her eye, now, brother, but when you are 60 and she is only 40 I hope you are prepared to keep it there! What's the matter, wouldn't women nearer your own birth date fall for you? Or is this the paternal instinct clamoring for recognition? After all, the child is young enough to be your own.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I have been living in the city with my brother and his wife for the past four years. My parents own a farm. I have dated many boys but have not really cared for any of them (I am 22). Recently, while home on a visit, I saw, spoke and danced with a boy I have known all of my life and have come to the conclusion that I think a lot of him. I love my job and living in the city, however. I always said I would never leave here for anyone. Now I know I would for this boy. My parents would like me to come home. What do you think?—Undecided

Getting a husband you care for is more important than all the jobs and cities in the world. Quit your job — it will be there if you decide to come back — and go home to give the boy a chance to come to a decision about you. And, don't delay. The rest of those farmer girls are right on the spot, you know.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 25, my husband is 30. We have a little girl who is a little over one year and are expecting another child next month. Our marriage has been ideal until a few months ago and now I am terrified and don't know what to do. When I was 15 I got into a crowd of smart - alecky teen-agers (I don't blame them but know that under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't have gone bad as I was reared in a good home), drank spiked soft drinks and listened to a boy tell me to "enjoy" life! The baby was taken and reared by my parents and is now 9 years old. My present husband knows nothing but thinks the boy is a younger brother.

Two months ago my father had a stroke and my mother says she can no longer care for the boy—that it is time he knew the truth and was reared by me and my husband. I don't know what to do. What if my husband holds it against me and wants a divorce? Please tell me what to do.—Desperate.

Stop being terrified. You should feel relieved. You have been skating on thin ice all the years of your marriage waiting for the cracks and the fall. It couldn't have been a happy situation. You must have known you couldn't get away with your past when your boy was being reared under your nose (that was a mistake for you, your parents and the child). Under those circumstances you should have told your husband the story before you married him, and allowed him to accept or reject you then. Even now, you have no choice. I do not think he will hold your past against you. Only the fact that you didn't tell him earlier.

One more thing: None of you seems to be thinking of the boy. It may not be the right thing to shock him about his parentage. You need trained advice on that score — something you and your parents needed at the time of your mishap (a family service bureau, adoption agency, marriage counselor or child guidance clinic or psychiatrist).

There's a popular notion that clean woolens are relatively safe from moths. This is untrue. Moths and carpet beetles will attack clean woolens. To be safe, make sure that your woolen clothing is treated with a moth preventive. Your dry cleaner can do this for you.

Each time you buy a new dress, check over buttons and buttonholes immediately. If buttons are loose, sew them on securely before you ever wear the dress. It will save you time and trouble later on. And go over any buttonholes that are poorly stitched.

TWO TOPPERS—SLIM AND FLARED IN COUTURE PATTERN BY JABLOW

PATTERN M372

An Arthur Jablow Original

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Two toppers—the two newest silhouettes of spring! And both are basically simple enough for home dressmakers in the opinion of Arthur Jablow, head of the distinguished house that bears his name. "See the width across the top that emphasizes the tapered lines of the slim topper—this is the new PARENTHESES SHAPE you're hearing so much about. And this," Mr. Jablow declared pointing to the bands that control the fullness of the back-flared topper, "is the favorite line of Paris—the EMPIRE. Fabric? I made the narrow coat in chiffon zibeline, the flared coat in an imported worsted," he said. Both styles are simple and casual in the way Americans like best. You can wear them around the clock, around the seasons. Add a slim skirt to one—you have a new suit. Or—for later on, make one in novelty pique or linen. Sew your Jablow with loving-care—you'll have an exact duplicate of spring's newest fashion.

Roamin' In The Rural

Are you planting a tree this year? If it is a pecan select a Stuart, Schley, Jennings, or Elliott. These varieties are recommended by L. S. U. extension service for north Louisiana.

Landscape gardening:

A good soil is basically essential to any good garden, whether vegetables or flowers. You will save time, energy and money if you take time to improve it. Use well rotted unleached barnyard manure or compost and mix it in the soil well before you plant. Gladiolus may be planted now. If you have many corms you may want to plant some every two weeks through March to have blooms over a long period.

Plant dahlia tubers. Stake at time of planting so as not to injure tubers later. (Mimeographed material is available by calling 3-2251.)

Prune evergreen shrubs and late summer and fall flowering shrubs now. Use all the good wood for making cuttings. Share surplus with your neighbor. She may have some to swap with you. Do not prune spring flowering shrubs such as forsythia, yellow jasmine, deutzia, spirea, etc., now - wait until after the blooming season. Take time to care for your shrubs - a well groomed shrub is as important to the appearance of your garden as a good haircut is to you.

Prune rose bushes late in February or March in north Louisiana. Consult bulletin "Roses for the Yard," page 12, on fertilizer recommendations. February is the time to fertilize roses.

The flower seeds may be sown this month are: petunias, pinks, calendula, snap dragon, gypsophila, feverfew, phlox, lobelia, cornflower, nasturtium, salvia, larkspur, four o'clock, early cosmos, sweet alyssum, forget - me - not, and African golden daisy.

You'll want to try man - in - the-moon marigold and blaize zinnas this year, as they are new varieties. So get your seed early.

If you are going to add shrubs to your planting, it would be helpful to visit your nurseryman and see the plants that you might use. Each year nurserymen get new kinds and varieties. These would make your planting more interesting. Don't forget some late spring and summer blooming shrubs as weigela rosea (weigela), punica granatum (flowering pomegranite), philadelphus coronarius (mock orange), lantana camara (lantana), deutzia gracilis (deutzia), lagerstremia indica (crepe myrtle), buddleia davidi (butterfly bash), hibiscus syriacus (althea), abelia grandiflora (abelia), nerium oleander (oleander) malvaviscus (turk's cap), and vitex agnus - castus (chaste tree) There are many more you may see at your nurseryman.

Slip Cover Workshop

Bishop Sheen in his television program Tuesday stated, "Work which produced satisfactory results brings happiness to the individual." The truth of the statement was proven by the Ouachita Parish women who took home a chair with a lovely slip cover — made by her and her team mate. These homemakers worked under the supervision of Mrs. Jessie Hill, L. S. U. extension specialist in housing and house furnishings. Those participating in the workshop were: Mrs. Lee Wilder and Mrs. Cleburn White, Cadeville Club; Mrs. Scott Horton and Mrs. T. T. Sharp, Sterlington Club; and Mrs. O. H. Guyton and Mrs. J. W. Wallace not club members; and Mrs. J. L. Joyner and Mrs. Lucy Whitlock, Lenwil Club.

We wish to thank the sewing machine people, Mr. Naff and Mr. and Mrs. Hortman for their splendid cooperation. It would have not been possible to do this work without their machines. Thanks a million.

See you next Sunday.

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been keeping steady company with a girl who is all I ever looked for in a girl. I am twice her age (40) but she thinks I am only 10 or 11 years older than she is. I have never told her that I love her (which I do), and although she has never told me that she loves me I know that I am the gleam in her eye. I think too much of her to hurt her in any way. Now, my problem: Should I tell her the truth about myself or just try to forget her? — All Confused.

Coward. Certainly, tell her the truth and let her judge whether she wants to be tied to a man twice her age. She probably will. It isn't too difficult to get a young girl to fall for an "older" man (pardon me) and she probably has fallen.

You might be the gleam in her eye, now, brother, but when you are 60 and she is only 40 I hope you are prepared to keep it there! What's the matter, wouldn't women nearer your own birth date fall for you? Or is this the paternal instinct clamoring for recognition? After all, the child is young enough to be your own.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I have been living in the city with my brother and his wife for the past four years. My parents own a farm. I have dated many boys but have not really cared for any of them (I am 22). Recently, while home on a visit, I saw, spoke and danced with a boy I have known all of my life and have come to the conclusion that I think a lot of him. I love my job and living in the city, however. I always said I would never leave here for anyone. Now I know I would for this boy. My parents would like me to come home. What do you think?—Undecided

Getting a husband you care for is more important than all the jobs and cities in the world. Quit your job — it will be there if you decide to come back — and go home to give the boy a chance to come to a decision about you. And, don't delay. The rest of those farmer girls are right on the spot, you know.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 25, my husband is 30. We have a little girl who is a little over one year and are expecting another child next month. Our marriage has been ideal until a few months ago and now I am terrified and don't know what to do. When I was 15 I got into a crowd of smart - alecky teen-agers (I don't blame them but know that under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't have gone bad as I was reared in a good home), drank spiked soft drinks and listened to a boy tell me to "enjoy" life! The baby was taken and reared by my parents and is now 9 years old. My present husband knows nothing but thinks the boy is a younger brother.

Two months ago my father had a stroke and my mother says she can no longer care for the boy—that it is time he knew the truth and was reared by me and my husband. I don't know what to do. What if my husband holds it against me and wants a divorce? Please tell me what to do.—Desperate.

Stop being terrified. You should feel relieved. You have been skating on thin ice all the years of your marriage waiting for the cracks and the fall. It couldn't have been a happy situation. You must have known you couldn't get away with your past when your boy was being reared under your nose (that was a mistake for you, your parents and the child!). Under those circumstances you should have told your husband the story before you married him, and allowed him to accept or reject you then. Even now, you have no choice. I do not think he will hold your past against you. Only the fact that you didn't tell him earlier.

One more thing: None of you seems to be thinking of the boy. It may not be the right thing to shock him about his parentage. You need trained advice on that score — something you and your parents needed at the time of your mishap (a family service bureau, adoption agency, marriage counselor or child guidance clinic or psychiatrist).

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper).

Smoke Trees Add Beauty To Garden

A wonderful indoor sport when the weather's bad, is armchair gardening. That's just reading the fascinating new seed and plant catalogs. I can literally spend hours in an imaginary world with these books sent to us each fall. It's my opinion that this is one indoor sport that pays off. You learn so much and can decide what you want to buy—at home from your own nurseries.

Around The Garden

You remember last April I suggested you go by Mildred Lucky's (407 Filhoit) and see her tamorix (salt cedar) and smoke trees in bloom. Many of you have asked where you could find plants. One of the local nurseries has these now. Tamorix starts blooming the last of March. It has lacy, silvery, blue green foliage. The flowers are airy, rose pink spikes that grow on top of the foliage. It's natural height is about eight feet but it can be kept pruned to five or six feet.

The smoke tree will cause a great deal of comment because it makes a fine display. This small tree is truly named because it looks like a cloud of blue, misty smoke. Both this and tamorix bloom most of the summer and are excellent for cutting.

There are very few white crabapples in North Louisiana. One of the nurseries now has the buccata, the only white that I know.

For those who need dwarf plants, you can also find the lavender-blue dwarf crape myrtle. Can you imagine anything lovelier for facing down an evergreen planting? Another plant we overlook is Vitex. It's a graceful shrub with attractive spikes of lovely lavender-blue flowers. It blooms profusely from late June, July and grows more than you need again unless pruned back. It fits in well in a border if you give it plenty of room and sunshine.

Several gardeners have asked the name of the clematis growing in the Bernard Biedenharn garden. It's name is Jackmanii and it bears large purple flowers. Somebody called and asked for name of the Cornell variety of blooms. I didn't know at the time, but I've found it is Duchess of Edinburgh.

If you want a true pink camellia get Dixiana Bridges. I don't know a lot of nurserymen have this variety but for sure they'll get it for you if you'll ask.

You all remember the magnificent Kramer camellias that bloom in February. We've found this variety difficult to transplant. There's a new variety that will be on the market in a year or two—Dr. Merrill. It's a faster grower and easier to transplant.

February is the month to fertilize native iris for more and better blooms. Use 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. In fact, it's a good idea to get your fertilizer and be ready for feeding everything in the yard when danger of freeze is over.

New Materials

If you haven't seen the new denims make a special trip to town. I'd call them glamorized, because they surely are a far way from the denims we've had in past years. Also the silk weave linen that is called "silk linen," is beautiful. This will really be a linen year. Somebody just back from New Orleans said the windows in every large department store were featuring nothing but linen dresses from one end of Canal to the other. This is a good time to oil up the sewing machine, select a pattern and start sewing.

Red Eyes? Pink Toothbrush?

If your eyes are red it could be caused by not enough vitamin C. If you have pink toothbrush, it could be caused by a shortage of vitamin C. One of the best ways to insure getting that valuable vitamin is drinking at least one half cup of orange juice daily. You can't store vitamin C. It must be included in every day's diet.

Note

Have you noticed the new slimmer tin cans? It's number 303, holds about two cups and makes three or four servings. Number 2 cans, hold 2½ cups and makes from four to five servings. Make a price per ounce cost comparison and see which serves you best and most nearly gives the amount needed for your family.

To The Marion Group

I really enjoyed serving on your program last week, and meeting so many of you. I'm happy to know that you read this column and tune in on my radio and T.V. shows. Write me anytime if there's a particular demonstration you want me to give on T.V. or information you'd like through this column. What I don't know, I'll find out. We have specialists at the University in the Agricultural Extension Department who know just about everything.

Dates

The tailoring class got off to a good start with thirty-four enrolled. We'll show you these completed suits and coats on T. V., which reminds me—be sure to tune in Tuesday at 2:45 on KNOE-TV for Gladys Dickerson's Camellia arrangement show. I do believe those very short stem flowers are the most difficult of all to arrange so their real beauty is shown off to advantage.

See you next Sunday.

Putting new life back into old kitchen towels or cloth napkins is easy with iron-on designs available in most sewing centers. They're washable and come in a number of colors.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Now Is The Time For Tree Planting

The sooner you can get your planting done, now, the better established your new trees and shrubs will become before the spring and summer drouths. It takes several weeks for a nursery to dig your order and get it to you, so you had better begin to make plans and decide what you will order. While you are waiting for the new plants to come the holes can be dug and topsoil or humus brought to the holes. You will need some wire and some pieces of old garden hose to hold your young trees firmly against the spring winds. Three wires spaced equal distance from a tree and made fast at the ground by fastening them to stakes in which you have made little groves will hold trees tightly against that rocking motion which the wind causes. The pieces of old hose will prevent the wire from cutting into the bark of hte tree.

If you are going to plant shrubs around the foundation of your house be prepared for a shock. The area within ten feet of a house usually turns out to be a ghastly mess of rubble and junk which builders throw out as they put up a structure. You will find big chunks of mortar, all sorts of wire and bits of metal, enough wood to build a new house—and to invite termites to start a colony and eat your house down. You will also have to look out for the drain pipes leading the water from the roof and gutters away from the house. This drainage line is nearly always right where you think you want to set out some of your foundation plants. A drainage line can be a blessing in disguise, however, because it may force you to plant your shrubs farther from the foundation than you wanted to, and it is better to plant them too far away than too close to a wall.

The shrubs in most foundation plantings have to get along the best way they can in the mass of junk which we find around houses. A lot of foundation plantings really starve to death through the years because people do not bring in enough good soil to sustain their plants. If the area around the foundation of your house is a mess of litter covered over by the final grading before the contractor left, it is worthwhile to plow it up and haul it off and then put in some good soil, it ought to be removed because of the danger from termites' established themselves in the trash and then coming into the foundation of the house.

Our fear of having trees too close to the house because of the danger of their blowing over on the house or dopping leaves or needles into the gutters has made us afraid to plant even small flowering trees close enough to shade south and west windows in the Summer. Lots of picture windows have no shade in summer when a dogwood or redbud, a crape myrtle, a flowering crabapple or any of a long list of good small trees could be grown in just the right spot to knock off that hot afternoon sun. Such a small tree can be planted either within just a few feet or far enough away so that wind will not cause it to brush against the window in storms. A small tree is a beautiful thing when planted fairly close to a house. It will have to grow into a one-sided specimen and sort of lean out away from the house, but trees like this are not ugly. They will cool the walls of the house and serve as a landing place for birds which is quite convenient if you like to watch birds close at hand.

One of the most delicate and beautiful little native trees is the Serviceberry. It is a native tree of the south, and there are two species, both of which start out as shrubs, but you can make them into small trees by trimming off the lower branches. Birds like the little apple like fruits—and so do people, but the real charm of the shadblow, the name lots of people know these trees by, lies in the delicate pinkish white blossoms in early spring before any other trees have bloomed. Another especially delicate spring flowering tree is the Chinese redbud. It differs from our native redbud in being just a little pinker, but the main difference lies in the fact that the Chinese redbud flowers more heavily than our wild one. The type which some of our southern nurseries have to sell starts off as a bush but soon develops some main trunks. On these trunks, the flowers burst out all over the little trees almost from the ground up to the tips of the branches. Allow several trunks to grow instead of just one if you want a sort of oriental effect. Let us not forget the double form of the native dogwood. Some southern nurseries still offer this tree. After the regular dogwood season, the "double" flowered type will go on for another week or ten days.

There are several ways to handle those "difficult" spots on your place. You can decide what really wants to grow there instead of what you have planted there, or you can change these places so that they will grow what you wish to grow there. If they are too wet, you can drain them or plant things that like wet feet. If they are too dry, bring in more humus and prepare to water. As a rule, however, large areas are expensive to change, and it will be cheaper and more satisfactory in the long run to change the plants to something suitable to present conditions. There are beautiful plants for almost every problematical spot to be found anywhere. Nature has got something for you if you can just find it.

Plants Handbook Asset To Garden Center Library

Gray's Manual of Botany has been presented to the garden center by Mr. Harry L. Hipp of Calhoun. Many thanks to Mr. Hipp who is one of the best iris growers in this section and booster for the garden center. This handbook of flowering plants, ferns and trees of the United States is a valuable asset to the library.

Mrs. W. E. Conger, president of the Arcadia Garden Club (located in the Fourth District) and Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Fifth District Director of Garden Clubs graciously served as judges this week. A lovely interpretative arrangement "Children and Books" was displayed by Mrs. Verley Brothers, librarian of the West Monroe library. The seated figurine of a little girl reading a book was the inspiration for this lovely design. The figurine is dressed in a turquoise pinafore with bib and hair-ribbon in tints of orange. These colors were picked up in the design of tall equi-sedum, white gladiolus with tints of orange in the throat, nandina and euonymus foliage.

The Tallulah Home Gardeners designed the arrangements for competition this week. Mrs. J. W. Huckabay was awarded first place for a lovely airy design of yellow josmine, yellow daffodils and white roman hyacinths in a low container.

In a crystal ivy ring Mrs. Tonore grouped violets and violet leaves, pink quince blossoms and white roman hyacinths. In the horticulture section there was keen competition for specimens of Professor Sargent camellias.

First place, Mrs. J. W. Huckabay, second, Mrs. Ralph Loe, third place, Mrs. Louis Tonore. The garden center is for everyone. The public is invited to view the weekly displays and to use the library. Free information for all gardeners is the aim of the center.

It's a good idea to begin planning early for your spring-cleaning needs. You will avoid last-minute shopping tours and be prepared for those unexpected warm days that introduce the coming of spring.

For those who need dwarf plants, you can also find the lavender-blue dwarf crape myrtle. Can you imagine anything lovelier for facing down an evergreen planting? Another plant, not dwarf, we often overlook is Vitex. It's a graceful shrub with attractive spikes of lovely lavender-blue flowers. It blooms profusely from July until fall and grows more than ten feet high unless prunned back. It fits in well in a border — if you give it plenty of room and sunshine.

Several gardeners have asked the name of the clematis growing in the Bernard Biedenharn garden. It's name is Jackmani and it bears large purple blooms. Somebody called and asked the name of the clematis with large white blossoms. I didn't know at the time, but I've found it is Duchess of Edinburgh.

If you want a truly pink canna, get Madame Butterfly. I don't know if local nurseries have this variety, but I'm sure they'll get it for you if you'll ask.

You all remember the magnificent star magnolias that bloom in February. We've found this variety difficult to transplant. There's a new variety that will be on the market in a year or so—Dr. Merril. It's a faster grower and easier to transplant.

February is the month to fertilize native Iris for more and better blooms. Use 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. In fact, its a good idea to get your fertilizer and be ready for feeding everything in the yard when danger of freeze is over.

New Materials

If you haven't seen the new denims make a special trip to town. I'd call them glamorized, because they surely are a far way from the denims we've had in past years. Also the silk weave linen that is called "silk linen," is beautiful. This will really be a linen year. Somebody just back from New Orleans said the windows in every large department store were featuring nothing but linen dresses from one end of Canal to the other. This is a good time to oil up the sewing machine, select a pattern and start sewing.

Red Eyes? Pink Toothbrush?

If your eyes are red it could be caused by not enough vitamin C. If you have pink toothbrush, it could be caused by a shortage of vitamin C. One of the best ways to insure getting that valuable vitamin is drinking at least one half cup of orange juice daily. You can't store vitamin C. It must be included in every day's diet.

Note

Have you noticed the new slimmer tin cans? It's number 303, holds about two cups and makes three or four servings. Number 2 cans, hold 2½ cups and makes from four to five servings. Make a price per ounce cost comparison and see which serves you best and most nearly gives the amount needed for your family.

To The Marion Group

I really enjoyed serving on your program last week, and meeting so many of you. I'm happy to know that you read this column and tune in on my radio and T.V. shows. Write me anytime if there's a particular demonstration you want me to give on T.V. or information you'd like through this column. What I don't know, I'll find out. We have specialists at the University in the Agricultural Extension Department who know just about everything.

Dates

The tailoring class got off to a good start yith thirty-four enrolled. We'll show you these completed suits and coats on T. V., which reminds me—be sure to tune in Tuesday at 2:45 on KNOE-TV for Gladys Dickerson's Camellia arrangement show. I do believe those very short stem flowers are the most difficult of all to arrange so their real beauty is shown off to advantage.

See you next Sunday.

Putting new life back into old kitchen towels or cloth napkins is easy with iron-on designs available in most sewing centers. They're washable and come in a number of colors.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Now Is The Time For Tree Planting

The sooner you can get your planting done, now, the better established your new trees and shrubs will become before the spring and summer drouths. It takes several weeks for a nursery to dig your order and get it to you, so you had better begin to make plans and decide what you will order. While you are waiting for the new plants to come the holes can be dug and topsoil or humus brought to the holes. You will need some wire and some pieces of old garden hose to hold your young trees firmly against the spring winds. Three wires spaced equal distance from a tree and made fast at the ground by fastening them to stakes in which you have made little groves will hold trees tightly against that rocking motion which the wind causes. The pieces of old hose will prevent the wire from cutting into the bark of hte tree.

If you are going to plant shrubs around the foundation of your house be prepared for a shock. The area within ten feet of a house usually turns out to be a ghastly mess of rubble and junk which builders throw out as they put up a structure. You will find big chunks of mortar, all sorts of wire and bits of metal, enough wood to build a new house—and to invite termites to start a colony and eat your house down. You will also have to look out for the drain pipes leading the water from the roof and gutters away from the house. This drainage line is nearly always right where you think you want to set out some of your foundation plants. A drainage line can be a blessing in disguise, however, because it may force you to plant your shrubs farther from the foundation than you wanted to, and it is better to plant them too far away than too close to a wall.

The shrubs in most foundation plantings have to get along the best way they can in the mass of junk which we find around houses. A lot of foundation plantings really starve to death through the years because people do not bring in enough good soil to sustain their plants. If the area around the foundation of your house is a mess of litter covered over by the final grading before the contractor left, it is worthwhile to plow it up and haul it off and then put in some good soil, it ought to be removed because of the danger from termites' established themselves in the trash and then coming into the foundation of the house.

Our fear of having trees too close to the house because of the danger of their blowing over on the house or dopping leaves or needles into the gutters has made us afraid to plant even small flowering trees close enough to shade south and west windows in the Summer. Lots of picture windows have no shade in summer when a dogwood or redbud, a crape myrtle, a flowering crabapple or any of a long list of good small trees could be grown in just the right spot to knock off that hot afternoon sun. Such a small tree can be planted either within just a few feet or far enough away so that wind will not cause it to brush against the window in storms. A small tree is a beautiful thing when planted fairly close to a house. It will have to grow into a one-sided specimen and sort of lean out away from the house, but trees like this are not ugly. They will cool the walls of the house and serve as a landing place for birds which is quite convenient if you like to watch birds close at hand.

One of the most delicate and beautiful little native trees is the Serviceberry. It is a native tree of the south, and there are two species, both of which start out as shrubs, but you can make them into small trees by trimming off the lower branches. Birds like the little apple like fruits—and so do people, but the real charm of the shadblow, the name lots of people know these trees by, lies in the delicate pinkish white blossoms in early spring before any other trees have bloomed. Another especially delicate spring flowering tree is the Chinese redbud. It differs from our native redbud in being just a little pinker, but the main difference lies in the fact that the Chinese redbud flowers more heavily than our wild one. The type which some of our southern nurseries have to sell starts off as a bush but soon develops some main trunks. On these trunks, the flowers burst out all over the little trees almost from the ground up to the tips of the branches. Allow several trunks to grow instead of just one if you want a sort of oriental effect. Let us not forget the double form of the native dogwood. Some southern nurseries still offer this tree. After the regular dogwood season, the "double" flowered type will go on for another week or ten days.

There are several ways to handle those "difficult" spots on your place. You can decide what really wants to grow there instead of what you have planted there, or you can change these places so that they will grow what you wish to grow there. If they are too wet, you can drain them or plant things that like wet feet. If they are too dry, bring in more humus and prepare to water. As a rule, however, large areas are expensive to change, and it will be cheaper and more satisfactory in the long run to change the plants to something suitable to present conditions. There are beautiful plants for almost every problematical spot to be found anywhere. Nature has got something for you if you can just find it.

Plants Handbook Asset To Garden Center Library

Mrs. W. E. Conger, president of the Arcadia Garden Club (located in the Fourth District) and Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Fifth District Director of Garden Clubs graciously served as judges this week. A lovely interpretative arrangement "Children and Books" was displayed by Mrs. Verley Brothers, librarian of the West Monroe library. The seated figurine of a little girl reading a book was the inspiration for this lovely design. The figurine is dressed in a turquoise pinafore with bib and hair-ribbon in tints of orange. These colors were picked up in the design of tall equi-sedum, white gladiolus with tints of orange in the throat, nandina and euonymus foliage.

The Tallulah Home Gardeners designed the arrangements for competition this week. Mrs. J. W. Huckabay was awarded first place for a lovely airy design of yellow josmine, yellow daffodils and white roman hyacinths in a low container.

Second place went to Mrs. Ralph Loe for a line mass arrangement in a green rectangular bowl, using yellow josmine, popcorn spirea and paper-white narcissus. Mrs. Louis Tonore's circular design took third place.

In a crystal ivy ring Mrs. Tonore grouped violets and violet leaves, pink quince blossoms and white roman hyacinths. In the horticulture section there was keen competition for specimens of Professor Sargent camellias.

First place, Mrs. J. W. Huckabay, second, Mrs. Ralph Loe, third place, Mrs. Louis Tonore. The garden center is for everyone. The public is invited to view the weekly displays and to use the library. Free information for all gardeners is the aim of the center.

It's a good idea to begin planning early for your spring-cleaning needs. You will avoid last-minute shopping tours and be prepared for those unexpected warm days that introduce the coming of spring.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. Hayes of Delhi celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, January 18th with open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Guy Sanders. Approximately 75 guests called during the afternoon.

THE DELHI GARDEN CLUB members held a coffee, pie and cake sale last Thursday and all receipts were turned in to the March of Dimes. Mrs. B. Skidmore, President of the Club turned in a check for $140 to Mr. G. B. Hopson, local Chairman of the drive. This was the first money making project of the local clubs for this worthy cause, and several others have plans under way for their part on the drive. Eight dollars of the above amount was in small change and deposited on the cake furnished by the Pastry Shop.

Do-It-Yourself Fans Can Tackle Lamp Shades

NEW YORK (NEA) — The "do-it-yourself" craze that has hit hard throughout the country is a sound one. Unlike the old waves of enthusiasm for such pastimes as flagpole sitting or goldfish swallowing, the "do-it-yourself" hobby is good both for the budget and the creative urge.

The woman who wants to have accessories that are the results of her own work can have them without being an expert. She need not take long courses or follow exacting diagrams. There are many things that she can make with very little time, trouble or money.

Newest of these projects is the simple one of making your own lamp shades. With the aid of a lamp-shade kit, you can turn out silk or parchment shades painted either with your own design or with one of a series of designs created by a group of American artists. There's one kit that comes with plain shades and instructions for transferring onto them your own original sketch.

First step is applying color to the design on the shade. You can create your own color scheme to fit room furnishings or simply follow the number-painting instructions. If you're making a parchment shade, you apply fixative and translucor oil. This step is unnecessary with silk shades.

Since the shades come with perforations at top and bottom for lacing, it's a simple matter to match these holes and lace up the side of the shade. Then lace wire rings to shade at top and bottom and you're ready to apply a coat of light fixative to the outside of the shade.

All steps in making the shades have been simplified so a housewife who'd like to use a spare hour for a hobby can make a shade in that time or less. And, since shades are always useful gifts, she can use spare time to make gifts for friends or even to beat the budget by doing her Christmas gifts throughout the year, wrapping and labeling them, then storing them away in a closet.

This is just one of many "do-it-yourself" projects that's equally interesting for one person or for the whole family. In most families, projects vary and members have fun comparing notes at the end of an evening's work. Far removed from the painting of mustache cups or the adorning of little cushions with sentimental sayings, these new hobbies provide constructive work for the hands and closer family ties. But probably the greatest single reason for their immense popularity is that they create real fun in the doing.

Exercises Trim Waist

Has holiday eating done unpleasant things to your waistline? It's best to do something about it right away before you grow accustomed to the expanded girth.

Since you have no bones in the midsection, you should keep up your guard against bulges. Why not make a couple of exercises part of your daily routine after you have brought your measurements back to order?

Here are several that will help tighten the muscles of both the waist and abdomen:

1. Gently knead skin in this area until it is pink. Do this several times each day.

2. Stretch whenever you can—when lying in bed, sitting and standing. With arms over head, clasp wrist of one hand with fingers of other and stretch up out of waistline. Pull hard. Relax. Repeat often throughout day.

3. Stretch and pull hard on exercise bar. After about a week, try pulling one knee up to chest; then the other. Later pull knees up together.

4. Lying on back with arms spread wide at sides, bend knees up to chest; keep shoulders and arms touching floor. Slowly straighten legs toward the right. Repeat, straightening legs toward left. Increase pace gradually.

Vegetables and salad greens should not be soaked in water for a long time. The water robs them of the vitamin-rich minerals.

Cream Guards Soft Skin From Sun And Wind

If you are leaving a cold community for a winter vacation in a sunny clime, better make a careful check of the things you will take.

Naturally, you will spend some time in planning the type and number of dresses and sun clothes you will need. But don't neglect any of these: beach robe, shoes and cap, sun-tan oil, summertime accessories, first-aid kit, hair-setting lotion.

Although you may not need the latter item at home, you probably will find that life on—or by—the sea bedraggles the hair.

Winter holidays, whether spent skiing or swimming, tend to work havoc on complexions that have been exposed to the drying effects of artificial heat and chapping winds.

So, to protect your face from the winds and sun you will encounter on a cruise, take along a soothing cream. The makers of a well-known sun-tan lotion have introduced a cream made especially to combat the effects of both wind and sunburn.

The new product is especially recommended for use by skiers who are apt to suffer severe wind and sunburns if they leave exposed parts of their bodies unprotected.

The company also advises the use of this product by anyone whose skin is particularly sensitive. The girl who is fresh from the steam-heated office is likely to be among that number when she has her first encounter with the sea and the sun.

According to the firm, the cream is odorless and greaseless and becomes invisible upon application. It is said to be safe to apply to lips and ears as well as to the face and hands.

For those who believe they will not need the extra protection, the company says that its regular sun-tan lotion will filter out most of the harmful rays while admitting the beneficial ones.

Geologists are scouring the country for a new strategic metal. It is hard, lustrous, steel-gray niobium, vital for production of high-temperature-resistant alloys for jet engines. It probably occurs over most of the world, but is a rare mineral everywhere.

Gum can be removed easily from clothes by rubbing with an ice cube. The ice causes the gum to harden and shrink. It can then be lifted off the clothing easily.

fey) Graham. It was his ambition to become first baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics until he attended a revival meeting during his senior year in high school, experienced a religious conversion, and decided to make evangelistic preaching his career. Upon his graduation from the Charlotte High School in 1936 he entered Bob Jones University, at this time located in Cleveland, Tenn. After six months he transferred in the following spring to the Florida Bible Institute (now Trinity College) at St. Petersburg. "Look" has told that he had a request to conduct a gospel meeting one evening in the neighborhood, which resulted in 12 conversions. He was ordained as a minister in Florida in 1939.

Wishing to continue his academic studies, young Graham enrolled in Wheaton (Illinois) College, where he participated in the students' revival meetings. He was graduated with a B. A. degree in 1943, whereupon he was called to the pulpit of a church in Western Springs, Ill. However, feeling strongly drawn to tabernacle preaching, he soon entered upon his evangelistic calling.

In the last 12 years, Graham has spoken to millions of people. In England, he captured the popular imagination like no preacher since John Wesley. In North Africa, France, Germany, Italy, and Switzerland, he spoke through interpreters.

As an indication of Graham's appeal to audiences everywhere, the following figures are cited, based on recent appearances in various areas throughout this country: 650,000 heard him when he toured the Portland (Ore.) area; 350,000 at Los Angeles; 492,500 at Houston; 307,000 at Washington (D. C.); 371,800 at Jackson (Miss.), 105,000 at Boston; 190,000 at Columbia (S. C.) 282,000 at Minneapolis; 500,000 at Atlanta; 336,300 at Fort Worth and untold millions elsewhere! And wherever he goes, he wins thousands of converts. In one six months' period, for example, it is estimated that he won 22,000 persons over to the Lord's side.

Graham's manner of delivery has the force and fervor commonly associated with Billy Sunday, although he does not follow the latter's "theatrics"; nor has he, said "Look," Moody's "intellectual penetration." As he preaches of the imminence of disaster unless sin is conquered and draws richly upon Biblical material, he uses colloquial, homely phrases with eloquence. Archie Robertson, in his book, "That Old Time Religion," wrote "If Graham can frighten people into religion and start them thinking of what they can do to save the world, he'll go down as the greatest evangelist in history." Like that of most evangelists, his spiritual appeal crosses denominational divisions. His colleagues at "sawdust trail" gatherings are an associate preacher, a gospel singer, a song leader, a pianist, and a public relations assistant. Since he is invited to bring his message to a community, he promotes no campaigns; no fee is set, and from the collection taken up the expenses are paid; when local expenses are covered, offerings are discontinued.

As president of Northwestern schools, a liberal arts and Biblical college in Minneapolis, Graham has academic as well as evangelistic problems to cope with.

The Rev. Graham is a tall (six feet two inches) slim, light-haired man, with a baritone voice. He is often described as handsome and "impeccably dressed." Mrs. Graham is the former Ruth McCue Bell, who was a student with him at Wheaton College. Their marriage took place in 1943, and they have three daughters, Virginia Leftwich, Anne Morrow, and Ruth Bell. The family's home is in Montreat, N. C.

Missionary Runyan To Tell Of African Outlook

Rev. Ferrell Runyan, Southern Baptist missionary, in Nigeria, will make three personal appearances in West Monroe Baptist Churches today. He will preach at the Good Hope Baptist Church at 11 a.m., on the Good Hope Road, where Rev. H. B. Dean is pastor, and at 6 p.m. he will show a colored picture of life in Africa in the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor. Again at 7:30 p.m. he will speak at the Trinity Baptist Church, Rev. Henry J. Mott, pastor.

Rev. Runyan has spent the last six years in Africa and has first hand information of that country.

He explains that today there are four great forces at work there, paganism, notionalism, Mohammedanism and Christianity.

Touching on the political situation he said, "Communism has already captured the world's largest continent in a strategic situation with intent of taking over the entire world if Africa falls to them."

He states that the people are living in poverty and are hungry. Nations, he said do not want our money but they do want our technicians to tell how to build and operate the machinery and munitions that have made America great.

However, he stated that selfish interests in the country do not want the competition that would come if education along these lines were made available to the hordes of Africa.

Magnificent Methodist Church Rayville's Pride

RAYVILLE, Jan. 30 (Special) — The Rayville area is delighted in the possession of a beautiful church edifice, largely due to the munificence of the late George B. Franklin. It will be dedicated shortly by Bishop Paul Martin, and will be one of the most beautiful churches that any city the size of Rayville possesses.

This church had its start when George B. Franklin Jr. and his father offered the sum of $50,000 for the building fund, if other church supporters would donate $25,000 additionally. This was in February 1948. The additional sum was raised but when plans were prepared building costs exceeded $75,000.

The church borrowed $35,000 needed to complete payment to the contractor in January 1952. On January 7, 1954, J. B. Thompson, Jr., finance committee chairman, reported the debt was paid.

Of interest was the fact that the first dollar for the building as well as the last one came from the Franklin family.

The dedication will take place soon it is stated and at that time it is hoped that the beautiful cathedral lanterns, ordered by Mrs. George B. Franklin, Jr., will be received and placed as a memorial to the late George Franklin Sr., who died last year.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Zech. 7:9. Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy each to his brother.
1. I Tim. 5:22. Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor participate in another man's sins; keep yourself pure.
2. Jam. 5:9. Do not grumble against one another, that you may not be judged.
3. Nahum 2:9. There is no end of treasure, or wealth of every precious thing.
4. Obad. 1:15. As you have done, it shall be done to you.

fey) Graham. It was his ambition to become first baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics until he attended a revival meeting during his senior year in high school, experienced a religious conversion, and decided to make evangelistic preaching his career. Upon his graduation from the Charlotte High School in 1936 he entered Bob Jones University, at this time located in Cleveland, Tenn. After six months he transferred in the following spring to the Florida Bible Institute (now Trinity College) at St. Petersburg. "Look" has told that he had a request to conduct a gospel meeting one evening in the neighborhood, which resulted in 12 conversions. He was ordained as a minister in Florida in 1939.

Wishing to continue his academic studies, young Graham enrolled in Wheaton (Illinois) College, where he participated in the students' revival meetings. He was graduated with a B. A. degree in 1943, whereupon he was called to the pulpit of a church in Western Springs, Ill. However, feeling strongly drawn to tabernacle preaching, he soon entered upon his evangelistic calling.

In the last 12 years, Graham has spoken to millions of people. In England, he captured the popular imagination like no preacher since John Wesley. In North Africa, France, Germany, Italy, and Switzerland, he spoke through interpreters.

As an indication of Graham's appeal to audiences everywhere, the following figures are cited, based on recent appearances in various areas throughout this country: 650,000 heard him when he toured the Portland (Ore.) area; 350,000 at Los Angeles; 492,500 at Houston; 307,000 at Washington (D. C.); 371,800 at Jackson (Miss.), 105,000 at Boston; 190,000 at Columbia (S. C.) 282,000 at Minneapolis; 500,000 at Atlanta; 336,300 at Fort Worth and untold millions elsewhere! And wherever he goes, he wins thousands of converts. In one six months' period, for example, it is estimated that he won 22,000 persons over to the Lord's side.

Graham's manner of delivery has the force and fervor commonly associated with Billy Sunday, although he does not follow the latter's "theatrics"; nor has he, said "Look," Moody's "intellectual penetration." As he preaches of the imminence of disaster unless sin is conquered and draws richly upon Biblical material, he uses colloquial, homely phrases with eloquence. Archie Robertson, in his book, "That Old Time Religion," wrote "If Graham can frighten people into religion and start them thinking of what they can do to save the world, he'll go down as the greatest evangelist in history." Like that of most evangelists, his spiritual appeal crosses denominational divisions. His colleagues at "sawdust trail" gatherings are an associate preacher, a gospel singer, a song leader, a pianist, and a public relations assistant. Since he is invited to bring his message to a community, he promotes no campaigns; no fee is set, and from the collection taken up the expenses are paid; when local expenses are covered, offerings are discontinued.

As president of Northwestern schools, a liberal arts and Biblical college in Minneapolis, Graham has academic as well as evangelistic problems to cope with.

The Rev. Graham is a tall (six feet two inches) slim, light - haired man, with a baritone voice. He is often described as handsome and "impeccably dressed." Mrs. Graham is the former Ruth McCue Bell, who was a student with him at Wheaton College. Their marriage took place in 1943, and they have three daughters, Virginia Leftwich, Anne Morrow, and Ruth Bell. The family's home is in Montreat, N. C.

PORTALES, NEW MEXICO PASTOR will occupy pulpit at McClendon Baptist Church at two services held there today. He is Rev. R. A. Baxter. The public is cordially invited to attend both services.

Missionary Runyan To Tell Of African Outlook

Rev. Ferrell Runyan, Southern Baptist missionary, in Nigeria, will make three personal appearances in West Monroe Baptist Churches today. He will preach at the Good Hope Baptist Church at 11 a.m., on the Good Hope Road, where Rev. H. B. Dean is pastor, and at 6 p.m. he will show a colored picture of life in Africa in the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor. Again at 7:30 p.m. he will speak at the Trinity Baptist Church, Rev. Henry J. Mott, pastor.

Rev. Runyan has spent the last six years in Africa and has first hand information of that country.

He explains that today there are four great forces at work there, paganism, notionalism, Mohammedanism and Christianity.

Touching on the political situation he said, "Communism has already captured the world's largest continent in a strategic situation with intent of taking over the entire world if Africa falls to them."

He states that the people are living in poverty and are hungry. Nations, he said do not want our money but they do want our technicians to tell how to build and operate the machinery and munitions that have made America great.

However, he stated that selfish interests in the country do not want the competition that would come if education along these lines were made available to the hordes of Africa.

Magnificent Methodist Church Rayville's Pride

RAYVILLE, Jan. 30 (Special) — The Rayville area is delighted in the possession of a beautiful church edifice, largely due to the munificence of the late George B. Franklin. It will be dedicated shortly by Bishop Paul Martin, and will be one of the most beautiful churches that any city the size of Rayville possesses.

This church had its start when George B. Franklin Jr. and his father offered the sum of $50,000 for the building fund, if other church supporters would donate $25,000 additionally. This was in February 1948. The additional sum was raised but when plans were prepared building costs exceeded $75,000.

The church borrowed $35,000 needed to complete payment to the contractor in January 1952. On January 7, 1954, J. B. Thompson, Jr., finance committee chairman, reported the debt was paid.

Of interest was the fact that the first dollar for the building as well as the last one came from the Franklin family.

The dedication will take place soon it is stated and at that time it is hoped that the beautiful cathedral lanterns, ordered by Mrs. George B. Franklin, Jr., will be received and placed as a memorial to the late George Franklin Sr., who died last year.

West Monroe Band Invited To Attend Mardi Gras Festival

An invitation was extended to the West Monroe High School band to participate in the parade of the "Krewe of New Orleans" in the forthcoming celebration of Mardi Gras.

Present plans call for the band to leave Sunday, February 28.

Solon King, director of the band, will go to New Orleans this week to make all necessary plans for the trip. The Band Booster Club is sponsoring a benefit basketball game on Feb. 8 to raise funds for the trip.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Zech. 7:9. Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy each to his brother.
1. I Tim. 5:22. Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor participate in another man's sins; keep yourself pure.
2. Jam. 5:9. Do not grumble against one another, that you may not be judged.
3. Nahum 2:9. There is no end of treasure, or wealth of every precious thing.
4. Obad. 1:15. As you have done, it shall be done to you.

Father...Mother...

Are you and your children a p a r t of seventy five million Americans who are not members of a church?

Maybe Saturday and Sunday are two days of the week you like to devote entirely to relaxation and recreation. So you are thinking, "Why should I spend an hour or so in church?"

You try to live straight, put in a full day's work for the boss, give a few dimes for the March of Dimes or maybe give someone a piece of wearing apparel that you have outgrown. So you may reason, "As long as I live respectably, why do I need to go to church or send my children."

There is an answer, my friends. Since the beginning of history, millions of people have been trying to run their lives and this world by their own strength and knowledge. Maybe you think you don't need help but human experience and Christ's teachings prove that you do. The past has left us an ugly picture of cruelty and bloodshed, of hate and crime. The present finds us on the edge of disaster, of devastating war on the outside and moral decay within. This is the tragedy of man's proud attempt to live without God.

You . . . father, mother and children, need help beyond the pale of human resources. You need the love of God that empowers a person to live a christian life. You can find this love only in the church, in fellowship and communion with Christ who died on the cross to save us from our sins.

The Church For All... All For The Church

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Vitamin tablets are fine but they won't replace sound diet.

Sane Reducing Routine Requires Balanced Diet

We often hear people say something like this. "I do not have to eat green salads or yellow vegetables which I do not like. I take plenty of vitamin capsules. I get all the vitamins in capsule form, so really do not have to worry about my diet. I eat just what I like best."

On the surface this might seem logical and correct. However, this idea holds grave danger of malnutrition. New vitamins are being discovered continually. No matter if you take all of the known vitamins, there are probably many more you will get in your food which are now unknown.

Besides this, the food you pass up has many other values, such as minerals and roughage. Many foods give you important amounts of various vitamins. It seems that vitamins work best in combination, perhaps when combined in food with yet undiscovered elements.

The sane plan is to eat a well-balanced diet according to the tenets of best nutrition, with the proper amount of proteins, carbohydrates and fats, and as high a vitamin and mineral content as possible. Many people who do this also reinforce their diet with vitamin capsules.

I myself think that this is a very sensible thing to do because it is difficult to obtain the requirements for maximum health through food. Most folks do not eat that much food, or that scientifically. Also, there are the questions of the soil the vegetables and fruits are grown in, the length of storage time, the method of preparation and other factors which affect the vitamin potency of foods.

Vitamin D has special importance during the winter months since sunlight is the main source of this vitamin. While vitamin D is widely scattered through the foods we consume, it occurs in small quantities. Vitamin capsules which contain vitamin D or cod-liver oil, appear to be a wise measure for this season.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 37, "Vitamin Defense," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Movies Made In The Fiji Islands

By BURT LANCASTER
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 30 — There were many times when the only thing idyllic about Fiji was the Nandi airport where fast and comfortable planes took off in a northeasterly direction for America.

But even when mosquito bites were the rawest, or the rains the wettest, or when the problems of picture-making in the Fiji Islands seemed insurmountable — even then everybody in the "His Majesty O'Keefe" company agreed that the film could never have been made anywhere else with the same effective results.

And when the sun came out to light up the mango trees and the mongooses, and the cameras and sound gear and humans dried out, the Fijians began to dance and sing again, and the movie people forgot their mosquito bites and fungus as Fiji became the movie-maker's paradise we hoped it would be.

Besides that, Warner Bros., and all the people involved, were able to take pride in their participation in the greatest event in Fiji since King Cakobau presented the islands to Queen Victoria in 1874. With an international company assembled from Hollywood, England, Australia, New Zealand, and Fiji itself, the studio set up a complete production unit almost 6000 miles from Burbank.

With headquarters at the Beachcomber Hotel, remodeled and enlarged by the studio, the company erected a large sound stage for interior shooting, a block of offices for production and accounting facilities, a pest office, recording and cutting rooms, and storage sheds for props, wardrobe, and other equipment. The entire village of Galoa was taken over for the shooting, and local labor enlisted to build twelve nut huts, including a 45-foot high failu — the largest hut ever to be built in Fiji and one which will be the pride of the Fijis for years to come.

With the help of Ratu Lala, a tribal chieftain, the company summoned natives from more than 50 villages for work in connection with the picture. Some of them became electricians and laborers, some became builders and decorators, and many, of course, became happy and appealing actors. They were housed and fed in a specially built compound which became known as Yapland, eight miles from our Deuba Beach studio.

Making a motion picture in the Fijis is not a project I recommend for the easily discouraged, nor for anybody in a hurry. Harold Hecht and Norman Deming started on the "His Majesty O'Keefe" enterprise four months before we were able to roll for the first shot. Shipping of the vast amount of camera, electrical and sound equipment was only the beginning of the difficulties. The actors, too, had to be assembled from such remote spots as London and Wellington and Sydney and Hollywood.

The weather was bound to be a worry, and we were more or less prepared for rainy days since we had chosen the wet part of the island of Viti Levu where Fiji is the lushest and most beautiful, and we knew that this part of the islands gets 220 days of rain a year. It would be expecting too much that we would be there during the other 145 days. We were warned about mosquitoes, dengue fever, moldy clothing, and fungus-eaten leather goods.

We hired Dr. Malakai Ravai to take temperatures, deal out aspirin, cleanse and bandage wounds—and use penicillin instead of the fright wigs of his cannibalistic forebears — an enormous task which he accomplished with dignity and knowledge.

We were even alerted to keep our people from frolicking in the shark-infested waters, and to see that they were well supplied with insect repellent. We arranged for the best food available in Fiji, which isn't Romanoff's but at least is nourishing; and we decided that a mixed crew closely quartered over a long period of time in the South Pacific ought to have entertainment, so we screened pictures twice a week and threw a dance almost every Saturday night.

You'd think that Suva, being a city of 35,000 and the largest in the islands, would have certain supplies and equipment available, but Suva couldn't be depended upon for even a toothbrush in a hurry, and the electrical and wardrobe departments particularly suffered the most from Suva's ill-stocked shelves. Frank Flanagan, the electrical boss, finally had to appeal to the New Zealand air force for equipment; and John Apperson, the wardrobe head, gave up on Fijian costume material and dyed or painted his own sarongs; and Eddie Fowlie, the property master, avowed that London had a better supply of South Seas props than the South Seas, even including a tame parrot of which there was only one apparently in the entire islands.

The Fijians themselves were nothing but helpful, generous, and always good friends. They worked well and willingly. They were always ready with a song, and they cleaned our rooms, cooked our meals—and even washed the towels once in a while.

The RECORD SHOP

NEW YORK (NEA) — Monica Lewis is the exception. Talk to any other singer and you'll get a starry-eyed story about how she wants to go on the Broadway stage and do a big musical comedy. Not our gal Monica.

"I guess I'm unusual," she admits. "But a Broadway show, in itself, doesn't excite me. It would have to be a smash show with a smash part to do my career any good."

"You have to yell your head off," she says, "and the orchestra's playing right with you. The composer wants to hear every note and the lyricist wants to hear every syllable.

"The songs are made hits off the stage by pop singers. They give them a little interpretation. On stage you have to sing note for note, word for word, just as it's written. On records you inject a little personality and that's what makes a song a hit."

The Popular Side: Here's the first '54 trend — calypso songs. Eartha Kitt and Georgia Gibbs have made "Somebody Bad Stole de Wedding Bell," Dinah Washington does "Since My Man Has Gone and Went" and there's a beauty coming from Harry Belafonte. . . . Martha Raye has a strange, unusual number in "Wolf Boy" on Mercury. . . . Why does Columbia give Rosemary Clooney such turkeys to record? The gal hasn't been handed a decent number in six months. Or is she doing her own picking?

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. Yes. As shown by thousands of interviews, vocational counselors find a strong tendency for young men to seek white collar jobs — often above their abilities — because of pressure from their parents and girl friends. Many girls say, "I don't want a husband coming home in overalls." Better get over that, girls, as overall jobs may likely increase in number and importance.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Fear and anxiety, say psychologists. Before about three, they say, thumb - sucking is usually merely for physical relief from fears and frustrations. After three, a simple quick cure is explained in our booklet, "Master Your Bad Habits." Works for adults as well. Sent at cost, 15c (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. It won't prevent accidents when two fool drivers plunge head on into each other, but mountains of evidence show that nothing prevents auto accidents — or any other kind — so much as peace of mind and composure of body and nerves. Also, nothing brings peace of mind and composure as much as genuine spiritual prayer. A national campaign to urge auto drivers to pray would be a wonderful safety measure. At least, skeptic, I'd rather drive with them than with you.

How To Develop Your Personality

Are you making the most of your attractive qualities? Start improving them today — you will be more effective in your work and live more happily. Helpful rules are explained in the booklet, HOW TO DEVELOP YOUR PERSONALITY, send 15 cents (coin only), plus self - addressed, stamped envelope, (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. Yes. As shown by thousands of interviews, vocational counselors find a strong tendency for young men to seek white collar jobs — often above their abilities — because of pressure from their parents and girl friends. Many girls say, "I don't want a husband coming home in overalls." Better get over that, girls, as overall jobs may likely increase in number and importance.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Fear and anxiety, say psychologists. Before about three, they say, thumb - sucking is usually merely for physical relief from fears and frustrations. After three, a simple quick cure is explained in our booklet, "Master Your Bad Habits." Works for adults as well. Sent at cost, 15c (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. It won't prevent accidents when two fool drivers plunge head on into each other, but mountains of evidence show that nothing prevents auto accidents — or any other kind — so much as peace of mind and composure of body and nerves. Also, nothing brings peace of mind and composure as much as genuine spiritual prayer. A national campaign to urge auto drivers to pray would be a wonderful safety measure. At least, skeptic, I'd rather drive with them than with you.

How To Develop Your Personality

Are you making the most of your attractive qualities? Start improving them today — you will be more effective in your work and live more happily. Helpful rules are explained in the booklet, HOW TO DEVELOP YOUR PERSONALITY, send 15 cents (coin only), plus self - addressed, stamped envelope, (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. "THE EDDIE CANTOR STORY"—Warner Bros. present in color by Technicolor the life story of one of America's greatest entertainers and citizens who sang and danced his way from poverty to fame and fortune. Here, Keefe Brasselle as Eddie Cantor is seen in a musical number from the film which opens Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre.

"Cantor Story" Brings Back Ziegfeld Times

The feathers, spangles and perfume belonged to a collection of lush Hollywood dancers and showgirls playing the Ziegfeld girls. The ball - bearing eyes were Keefe Brasselle's who plays the Cantor role.

Brasselle was handling what promises to be one of the most amazing characterizations in film history. He not only looked like Cantor, but his every gesture, voice inflection, and mannerism was the Eddie Cantor who has been a headliner for something like 40 years.

"It was almost exactly a year ago that I first started on the Cantor technique," Brasselle said. "I practiced in the secrecy of a rented Hollywood auditorium. Sid Skolsky, the producer, coached me. He decided to whip me into Cantor condition before introducing me to Warner executives."

When Skolsky brought Brasselle in, the young actor was ready. He did his Cantor act in the executive offices and was signed for the role without even a screen test.

Since that time he worked steadily at perfecting himself as Cantor. With the aid of the make-up department where his eyes were "enlarged and rounded" and his widow's peak shaved off and his part switched from port to starboard and Cantor's childhood scar imbedded in his forehead, Brasselle did a complete personality transformation.

Naturally, his severest test came during the filming of the big Ziegfeld Follies number. With Cantor himself looking on, Brasselle, in black - face, straw hat and white gloves listened for his music cue, rolled his Cantor-like eyes and danced out on stage to the tune of "Yes, Sir! That's My Baby!"

"The Eddie Cantor Story," complete with Ida, played by Marilyn Erskine, and the five famous daughters comes Wednesday to the screen of the Paramount Theatre.

Coffee production has found various parts of the world supplying the bulk of the market since the 17th Century when Arabia was the world leader. Later the West Indies were the main source of supply, Java came next and finally Brazil became the world production leader.

WARNER BROS. PRESENT THE Eddie Cantor STORY COLOR BY TECHNICOLOR

'Border River' Is Suspenseful War Venture

Foremost is the strong element of suspense that pervades the development of character and action to a far greater extent than would be expected in an outdoor action thriller. From the moment McCrea, undercover man for the Confederate forces, storms across the Rio Grande under fire from the Union Cavalry, the story of his bold venture and the hazards of fulfilling it is absorbing.

His adversaries, out after the $2,000,000 of stolen Northern gold he has brought to purchase badly needed supplies, attempt to use trickery and terror to part him from the fortune. Chief among these are Pedro Armendariz, renegade ruler of Zona Libre, and Alfonso Bedoya, his sadistic deputy.

In the role of McCrea's unexpected ally, Miss De Carlo is both forceful and completely feminine. Sharing in the danger and intrigue, she matches McCrea's fighting fury with her own. Armendariz, projecting a quality of sardonic humor into his role, makes the star-trio a strong set of personalities.

The supporting roles add color and zest to the general excitement of "Border River," chiefly among them being Bedoya, Howard Petrie as an agent for the North who joins McCrea's venture, and Ivan Triesault as the double-dealing henchman of Armendariz who meets his end before an impromptu firing squad.

To the legion of Esther Williams fans, "Easy to Love," now being shown at the Jim Theatre, will prove an entertainment field day. In her latest M-G-M Technicolor musical Hollywood's most popular water belle swims with an alligator, "explodes" from a barrel, jumps through paper hoops and water geysers and, in a breath-taking climax, is towed on water skis over a 12-foot jump by a helicopter to an altitude of 75 feet, then dives into the middle of a horseshoe formed by 100 skiers!

But these thrill highlights are only part of the story. In addition there's a new twist to the "eternal triangle," involving Esther's co-stars, Van Johnson and Tony Martin. Johnson plays the boss of Florida's Cypress Gardens, where Esther is the star of the water-ski ballet. Esther wants something warmer than a business arrangement with her boss but gets nowhere fast. Tony Martin is the New York night club singer who tries to catch her on the rebound but whose ardour becomes somewhat dampened when a now aroused Van takes him on as hectic and frenzied motorboat chase as has been seen on the screen in a long time. The plot twists are finally happily untangled to an accompaniment of thrills, spills, love and laughs.

"Cantor Story" Brings Back Ziegfeld Times

When Warner Bros. filmed the most lavish musical number in the forthcoming Technicolor production "The Eddie Cantor Story," the sound stage was literally alive with feathers, spangles, French perfume and Eddie Cantor's ball-bearing eyes.

The feathers, spangles and perfume belonged to a collection of lush Hollywood dancers and showgirls playing the Ziegfeld girls. The ball - bearing eyes were Keefe Brasselle's who plays the Cantor role.

Brasselle was handling what promises to be one of the most amazing characterizations in film history. He not only looked like Cantor, but his every gesture, voice inflection, and mannerism was the Eddie Cantor who has been a headliner for something like 40 years.

"It was almost exactly a year ago that I first started on the Cantor technique," Brasselle said. "I practiced in the secrecy of a rented Hollywood auditorium. Sid Skolsky, the producer, coached me. He decided to whip me into Cantor condition before introducing me to Warner executives."

When Skolsky brought Brasselle in, the young actor was ready. He did his Cantor act in the executive offices and was signed for the role without even a screen test.

Since that time he worked steadily at perfecting himself as Cantor. With the aid of the make-up department where his eyes were "enlarged and rounded" and his widow's peak shaved off and his part switched from port to starboard and Cantor's childhood scar imbedded in his forehead, Brasselle did a complete personality transformation.

Naturally, his severest test came during the filming of the big Ziegfeld Follies number. With Cantor himself looking on, Brasselle, in black - face, straw hat and white gloves listened for his music cue, rolled his Cantor-like eyes and danced out on stage to the tune of "Yes, Sir! That's My Baby!"

"The Eddie Cantor Story," complete with Ida, played by Marilyn Erskine, and the five famous daughters comes Wednesday to the screen of the Paramount Theatre.

Coffee production has found various parts of the world supplying the bulk of the market since the 17th Century when Arabia was the world leader. Later the West Indies were the main source of supply, Java came next and finally Brazil became the world production leader.

"BORDER RIVER"—Joel McCrea, undercover emissary of the Confederate Army, finds an ally in Yvonne DeCarlo, girl friend of a renegade empire's ruler. The two players are co-starred in the story of "Border River" with Pedro Armendariz, Universal-International produced the technicolor adventure, which opens Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

'Border River' Is Suspenseful War Venture

Foremost is the strong element of suspense that pervades the development of character and action to a far greater extent than would be expected in an outdoor action thriller. From the moment McCrea, undercover man for the Confederate forces, storms across the Rio Grande under fire from the Union Cavalry, the story of his bold venture and the hazards of fulfilling it is absorbing.

His adversaries, out after the $2,000,000 of stolen Northern gold he has brought to purchase badly needed supplies, attempt to use trickery and terror to part him from the fortune. Chief among these are Pedro Armendariz, renegade ruler of Zona Libre, and Alfonso Bedoya, his sadistic deputy.

In the role of McCrea's unexpected ally, Miss De Carlo is both forceful and completely feminine. Sharing in the danger and intrigue, she matches McCrea's fighting fury with her own. Armendariz, projecting a quality of sardonic humor into his role, makes the star-trio a strong set of personalities.

The supporting roles add color and zest to the general excitement of "Border River," chiefly among them being Bedoya, Howard Petrie as an agent for the North who joins McCrea's venture, and Ivan Triesault as the double-dealing henchman of Armendariz who meets his end before an impromptu firing squad.

To the legion of Esther Williams fans, "Easy to Love," now being shown at the Jim Theatre, will prove an entertainment field day. in her latest M-G-M Technicolor musical Hollywood's most popular water belle swims with an alligator, "explodes" from a barrel, jumps through paper hoops and water geysers and, in a breathtaking climax, is towed on water skis over a 12-foot jump by a helicopter to an altitude of 75 feet, then dives into the middle of a horseshoe formed by 100 skiers!

But these thrill highlights are only part of the story. In addition there's a new twist to the "eternal triangle," involving Esther's co-stars, Van Johnson and Tony Martin. Johnson plays the boss of Florida's Cypress Gardens, where Esther is the star of the water-ski ballet. Esther wants something warmer than a business arrangement with her boss but gets nowhere fast. Tony Martin is the New York night club singer who tries to catch her on the rebound but whose ardour becomes somewhat dampened when a now aroused Van takes him on as hectic and frenzied motorboat chase as has been seen on the screen in a long time. The plot twists are finally happily untangled to an accompaniment of thrills, spills, love and laughs.

BLONDIE

By CHIC YOUNG

THE BOSS GAVE ME THE AFTERNOON OFF FOR PUTTING OVER THE McMURTY DEAL

WE'LL BE OVER AT SEVEN, BLONDIE, BUT DON'T TELL DAGWOOD

DON'T WORRY, MR. DITHERS. I'LL KEEP IT A SECRET SO IT WILL BE A COMPLETE SURPRISE

WE HEARD MR. DITHERS TELL MRS. BUMSTEAD THAT HE'S GOING TO GIVE YOU A SURPRISE PARTY TONIGHT

TEE-HEE

I WON'T SPOIL THE SURPRISE-- I'LL ACT AS IF I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT IT

BLONDIE, LET'S GO OUT TO DINNER TONIGHT AND THEN DANCING

OH--UH--ER--- NO, DEAR--NOT TONIGHT --OH--ER--NO

BUT YOU'RE ALWAYS ASKING ME TO TAKE YOU DANCING-- WHY NOT TONIGHT?

PLEASE, DEAR, NOT TONIGHT-- PERHAPS TOMORROW

MR. DITHERS--THE McMURTY DEAL FELL THRU AND THEY'RE SUING US INSTEAD

OH-NO!

BLONDIE, HERE COMES MR. DITHERS-- I WONDER WHAT HE WANTS

DICK TRACY

CHESTER GOULD

LOOKS FINE TO ME.

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK

WALKING

BLOOD PATTERN SHOWS DIRECTION VICTIM MOVED.

Dick Tracy

JUVENILE HOME.

BUT TRACY WANTS IT THOROUGHLY EXAMINED, AND HE'D ALSO LIKE THE BABY'S FOOTPRINTS MADE FOR POSSIBLE IDENTIFICATION.

AND BACK AT THE TREE—

A PERFECTLY BUILT CACHE!

YES, AND THERE ARE MARKS ON THE DOOR THAT CAN BE USED FOR TOOL IDENTIFICATION.

ALSO, WE'LL WANT TO REMOVE THAT FELT WEATHER-STRIPPING TO USE FOR MATCHING PURPOSES, PROVIDED WE RECOVER THE ORIGINAL ROLL.

HEY— LOOK HERE, FELLOWS—

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE WITH MY BABY?

Copr. 1954 by The Chicago Tribune

YOUR BABY? YOU'RE THE MOTHER?

YES, WHAT DID YOU DO WITH MY BABY?

FUN. Somebody asked Marie Wilson to define a detergent. She did it in two words, "No soap."

FACT. A midwestern university reports that 41% of American farm women consider laundry their chief cause of "worry, anxiety, and fatigue." But of course, that percentage will go down as the Surf rate goes up.

WORK SAVER. Don't iron slip-covers. Wash in Surf. Then put on chair or sofa while slightly damp. When dry, they'll be smooth and perfect-fitting. Iron pleats, ruffles later if necessary.

INVITATION. Want to come to a House Party? Well, come on! Be my guest any Mon., Wed. or Fri. afternoon on CBS radio and television. More fun.

Art Linkletter

Have you tried Surf in the past six months?

Things certainly change fast in the detergent business. Improvements are going on all the time. Take today's SURF, for example. Like any good detergent, it gets things clean-looking. But SURF does more. It gives you a wash that smells every bit as clean as it looks. And that's important, because your nose tells you what your eyes can't see. When things are really clean, they smell clean. When you wash them with SURF, they smell like sunshine. You know they're clean clear through. So try today's SURF —today! Then smell your wash, and if you don't agree with every word we've said, Lever Brothers will return every penny you paid—plus postage!
